ONLY FAIR

A bright little boy once took the Bible from the centre table of his father's home, turned its dusty pages, and said, "Mother, is this God's Book?" "Certainly," was the good mother's reply. "Well, I think we had better send it back to God, for we don't use it here."—Selected.

MODEST APPAREL.

Much has been said in regard to the abominable fashions of today; but much more should be said since souls are at stake. The scriptures do not tell us that a Christian woman should wear a uniform or a distinctive garb, but it does definitely command that all Christian women adorn themselves in modest apparel with shamefacedness and sobriety.—1 Tim. 2-9.

Where is the modesty that characterized our mothers and daughters of other days? Do we not see boldness and brazen-facedness stalking abroad until I am sure even the devil himself is ashamed of his subjects.

It is enough to make angels weep, and yet our holiness women are not moved to tears, but are falling right into the devil's net. They make excuses for these fashions and bow down to the god of lust. Let us who know God arise and turn back this monster at once before the wrath of God is justly poured out upon our nation. It can be done, if all who profess to know God will take their stand.

Oh, for a Francis Willard to lead this host out to victory; where is she?

I trust the call of God is even now ringing in her ears and that we will see this evil swept from our land before it is too late.—Rena M. Brown in The Vanguard.

Whatever the place allotted to us by Providence, that for us is the post of honor and duty. God estimates us not by the position we are in, but by the way in which we fill it.—Tryon Edwards.
