ENTERED IN THE BOOK

"Whose names are in the book of life."
Phil 4:3.

Paul is recalling his fellow-helpers in the Gospel. What if he had forgotten some of them? The unknown on earth are never forgotten in heaven. The work we do in his name is recorded and will last forever.

It is great to have one's name in the New Testament. It is great to have your name in the family Bible for that usually implies a Christian home. It is great to have your name on a church roll with pious men and women. But greater far it is to be assured that your name is recorded in God's great book of life. That, above all things, as our Lord said, is a thing to rejoice in.—Christian Witness.

The thunderings of Sinai have ceased and in their place have come the holy influences that settle over one's soul when in communion with the most high God.—R. C. Holmes.

CORRESPONDENCE

Lower Cambridge, N. S.

Rev. P. J. Trafton:

Dear Brother: Am sending renewal for Highway. We enjoy your paper very much.

Yours,

CHARLES L. SLIPP

Four Falls, N. B.

Dear Brother Trafton:

Please find enclosed my renewal for The Highway and for the Highway Fund. Trusting God will bless and multiply the good work to his glory.

I can truly say since I was prayed for at Beulah. I have been steadily gaining and am feeling fine. Blessed be the name of Jesus; he hears and answers prayer. Truly the joy of the Lord is my strength and hope. He saves me just now! Hallelujah.

Your sister in Christ,

MRS. A. A. HARTLEY

Westchester Station, N. S.

Please find enclosed my renewal fee;

The Highway has been such a blessing to me, And each time I scan its clean pages o'er I see some new beauty I ne'er saw before. I'm so glad I can say, "Jesus saves me just now."

I'm so glad that one day at His feet I did bow. His Grace made me free. Oh, the depths of His love

That can change our affections to things up above!

Each day He grows nearer and dearer to me, And I expect some glad day my dear Saviour to see.

Yours in Jesus,

HAZEL F. WEBB

TEMPTATIONS

Temptations divide the world into two classes: those who fail and go down under them and those who meet them successfully and gain strength of character through overcoming them. To the one class they are stumbling blocks; to the other they are stepping stones. To the one they are hindrances; to the other they are helps. It is not our temptations but the way we respond to them that counts.—H. O. Fanning.

—Herald of Holiness

Alexander Maclaren says, "The true way to overcome evil is to melt it by fiery coals of gentleness. That is God's way. An iceberg may be crushed to powder, but every fragment is still ice. Only sunshine that melts it will turn it into sweet water. Love is conqueror, and its conquest is to transform hate into love."

Prayers and pains, through faith in Christ, will do anything.—John Elliott, Apostle to the Indians.—The Wesleyan Methodist.
