OBITUARY

A sad shooting accident occurred in the woods near Penniac on Nov. 12th, which resulted in the death of Cecil, the youngest son of Brother and Sister Isaac Lawson, at the young age of twenty-two.

A short service was held at the home after which the remains were taken to the church at Penniac, where the service was conducted by the writer, assisted by Rev. L. T. Sabine and Rev. E. W. Lester.

The interment was made in the cemetery at Penniac.

The writer at the scene of the accident had the privilege of praying with the departed and hearing him say "Its all right which ever way it goes."

He leaves to mourn, his parents, four brothers, Harry, George, Jack and Bennett; also four sisters, Mrs. Joseph Saunders, Mrs. Grace Bruce, Jennie and Pearl Lawson.

To the sorrowing ones we extend our deepest sympathy and prayers in their great sorrow.

REV. F. A. WATSON

GOD'S WAY IS BEST.

On the day in 1874 when David Livingstone was buried in Westminster Abbey, the streets of London were lined with thousands seeking to pay respect to the memory of the pioneer missionary. In the crowd was noticed an old man, poorly clad, ragged and weeping bitterly. Someone went to him and asked him why he was weeping when all were seeking to honor the illustrious dead.

"I'll tell you why," the old man replied. "Davie (Livingstone) and I were born in the same village, brought up in the same day school and Sunday School and worked together at the same loom. But Davie went that way, and I went this; now he is honored by the nation, and I am neglected, unknown and dishonored. I have nothing to look forward to but a drunkard's grave."—Sel.
