REFORMED BAPTIST CONGREGATION
PRESENT PURSE OF MONEY AT SOCIAL EVENING

Deacon and Mrs. William Stanley entertained members of the Reformed Baptist Church and their friends, at their home, Elliott Row, on Thursday evening, in honor of their pastor, Rev. I. F. Kierstead and Mrs. Kierstead.

Deacon H. K. Ingersoll, on behalf of the congregation, presented to Rev. and Mrs. Kierstead a purse of money. The gift was accompanied by an address of appreciation to their pastor and his wife for faithful services.

The recipients expressed their appreciation and thanked the donors for their co-operation and good will. A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. H. K. Ingersoll for her services in conducting the Bible study period.

An interesting program was carried out consisting of vocal and instrumental music, and a memory contest on the life of David and other Bible characters. Small prizes were awarded to those who had the most correct answers.

The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by ladies of the party.

The enjoyable evening closed with prayer and benediction by Rev. Mr. Kierstead.

PROHIBITION RAINBOWS

By Miss Z. I. Davis

Mexico has great aspirations. She not only wants to be free from tyranny of Roman Catholicism but also is trying to shake off the brutal grip of strong drink. Mexico city is rising up against any more saloons being opened there. Even the mayor of that municipality, instead of saying to the drunkard makers, "You are among friends," has ordered that all pending applications for opening saloons will be cancelled.

Some people say "officials will not enforce Prohibition," but the wet business is like the camel that got in the Arab's tent, so the Mexican officials found, and now there is a determined uprising among the police because of the unspeakable conditions resulting from "personal liberty" on the part of the liquor venders. The sight of so many bruised, drink-crazed, vermin-eaten, whiskey-brothel Indian maidens and squaws made them desperate. No wonder! Why did they not get desperate long ago, when the United States did? Yes, there are crusaders, and they include army officials, but they are not crusading for liquor, but AGAINST ALCOHOLISM. They are actually carrying on a "dry fight," with capital, organization and competent committees to spread information as to the evils of liquor and to warn those who are enlisted in the army. Every reasonable effort is being put forth to arouse the public to the evils of intoxicating beverages.—The Wesleyan Methodist.

Young People's Column

H. V. Hospital,
King's Highway, Amherst, N. S.

Dear Young People:

Greetings in the name of the Lord. And let us determine to make this a record year so that 1933 shall be an outstanding year because God hath led us, as never before.

Last year in the month of October, we had a gracious meeting here when the young folks met and had a real good time in the Lord. At that meeting I had the appointment of President for District No. II. I'm sure there were many present who could fulfill the position in a much better way, but somehow I could not convince some of the leading delegates from the neighboring provinces, of the fact. So by the help of God, I hope to be able to give some encouragement and help someone in some way. We have a Y. P. S. here at Amherst, which is small in number, yet we have some real talent which God can use. Brother E. S. Cosman is a great boost to our work and labours faithfully with us. Pray for us dear folks.

I meet many folk of different ideas regarding Hell and eternal punishment. Most of the people nowadays do not believe in Hell. Well if there is no Hell, there is no Heaven. The Bible declares both and I may be old-fashioned, yet I want to be simple enough to take the word as I read it.

As I write the Jubilee songsters are singing on the radio: "I've want to Make Heaven My Home", and that's my aim. Nothing else counts. In this day and age we find depression, sorrow, broken hearts, and sin on every hand. What escape have we if we don't flee to God.

Dear young people let's dig down. This Christian walk is a real contest. If we were working in a contest we would be digging hard to see how much farther we could go than the other fellow. Now why can't we do that in this contest for God? The best thing about it is we have no hard feelings when somebody else can testify, pray, and do so much better than we can. We know when the judge closes the contest we are all going to get a prize, if we have worked faithfully.

We know gold is not picked up on top of the ground but takes a lot of digging and hard work to get it. But when we get it we have a something which is indeed valuable. Is our salvation not classed as gold to us?

Now dear young people let's go on and not give up. It won't be long. What have we to go back to? Nothing! What have we to go on to? Everything, with eternal life in the end.

Let us pray much and trust God for results.

Yours in Him.

B. J. DOYLE, R. N.
