

MINISTERS AND CHURCHES

He that goeth forth and weepeth bearing precious seed shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him.—Psa. 126-6.

Rev. H. C. Archer and Mrs. Archer were recent visitors at Moncton for a few days on account of the illness of Mrs. Archer's mother, Mrs. Clark, who lives with her other daughter Mrs. A. G. Good.

Rev. L. J. Sears, pastor of the church at Westchester, is still suffering ill-health. Let us all remember him in prayer.

Rev. H. E. Mullen has moved from Lower Millstream to Head of Millstream, where he says it is nearer to most of his work.

Rev. H. S. Mullen is engaged in special meetings at Saint John. He is being assisted by Brother Geo. Delong.

Rev. S. G. Hilyard, B. A., reports a good meeting at Millville with F. W. Foster as evangelist.

Rev. Hollis Kimball assisted Lic. Emery Cosman in special meetings at Amherst recently. Brother Kimball is still opened for calls. His present address is Fort Fairfield, Maine.

Evangelist Mrs. Manning, who lately assisted Brother Sears in special meetings at Westchester, N. S., has cancelled other engagements that she had on Grand Manan on account of ill-health, and has returned to her home in Massachusetts, U. S. See her letter.

Rev. S. A. Mullen reports work encouraging on his field of labor. Lic. H. Blaney also reports a good meeting at Royalton, held lately with brother Geo. Delong as evangelist.

The West Washington County S. S. Convention was held in our church here on Nov. 15th afternoon and evening. Revs. Emery, Barrow-Ramsey and Blackston were in attendance. A good meeting. H. C. ARCHER

NOTICE

BIBLE COURSES

It might not be amiss for us to remind our Christian workers and all those looking forward to the work of the ministry that the Reformed Baptist Educational Council is offering some excellent courses by correspondence to any who have a will to study and who feel the need of further training for their life's duties.

The courses offered are especially arranged for those who have lacked adequate grounding in the subjects of the common school grades but are thorough and comprehensive enough to be rated as elementary courses in any Bible School.

Courses are offered in Holiness Literature, The Four Gospels, English, General History, Homiletics, Reformed Baptist History, Beliefs and Church Polity, Life and Preparation of a Minister, Church History, Old and New Testament History, Theology, etc.

Certificates are offered those who complete single courses and a Diploma will be given anyone completing the full course.

Students have the benefit of having their work supervised and guided by instructors who are qualified for their duties and who are interested in their personal problems. The cost is within reach of everyone.

For full information write to the Secretary-Treasurer, Rev. S. G. Hilyard, A. B., Millville, N. B.

NOTE—The above letter or notice is written by Lic. E. A. M. Keirstead, B. A., of Plaster Rock, who is the president of the Reformed Baptist Educational Council.—Editor.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Douglas Mullen of N. S., recently visited her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Owens at Hartland, and also her son, Rev. S. A. Mullen at Meductic, N. B.

Mrs. Clark who lives with her daughter, Mrs. A. G. Good, at Moncton, has been confined to her bed for several weeks. She has passed her 92nd birthday anniversary and until lately has enjoyed good health. Her other daughter, Mrs. H. C. Archer, of Beals, Maine, is visiting her mother and sister at present.

Mrs. Mary Conell is also confined to her bed with bronchitis, but she is still rejoicing in the Lord.

The editor had a very interesting letter from Rev. W. E. Smith, Somerville, Mass., and we appreciate very much his very kind and encouraging remarks. We are sorry however to hear that he is still suffering from a stubborn attack of laryngitis, and is still unable to preach or sing. Something new for our brother, who has had such unusual good health that he has not been forced to lay aside before for many years. He writes also, "Glad to say that Mrs. Smith and her mother, Mrs. Tracey are quite well."

Mrs. John Nash of Moncton, whom many of our readers know, has been confined to her bed with pneumonia, recently, but we are glad to know that she is improving now.

The editor of The King's Highway had the privilege of attending the S. S. Convention held at Lower Brighton on Friday evening of last week. We heard a very interesting address by Mrs. B. W. Brown of that place, on "The compensation of the Sunday School teacher". A few of the good things that she mentioned that come to the S. S. teacher as a remuneration were: First, the spiritual help that one receives while they are endeavoring to prepare the lesson to teach to the class. Second, the intellectual training received by studying the Bible, because the Bible is written in pure English, without any grammatical errors, being translated into the English language by highly educated men. Third, The satisfaction that one derives from knowing that he or she is helping to mould a character for future usefulness and blessedness. And to watch that boy or girl and pray for them through the years as they go on to manhood or womanhood working out in their daily lives what their Sunday School teacher tried to work in. Sister Brown has been one of our highly esteemed teachers in our Sunday School at Lower Brighton for more than forty years and has witnessed a great many children, and adults also, pass in and out of her classes. We also heard a very helpful paper on teaching, written by Miss Flora Brown of Woodstock, and read by Miss Alice Tedly of Lower Brighton because Miss Brown was not able to be present. You will no doubt get more about this excellent paper in the report of the secretary as it was a written one. H. S. D.

S. S. CONVENTION

The Sunday School Convention of Dist. No. 2 will be held at Moncton, Friday at 2 p. m. December 8th. Have the S. S. send a delegate.

R. H. PARKS, Secretary.

YOURS!

I got off at the Pennsylvania Station one day as a tramp, and for a year I begged on the streets for a living. One day I touched a man on the shoulder and said, 'Mister, please give me a dime.'

"As soon as I saw his face I recognized my old father. 'Father,' I asked, 'don't you know me?'"

"Throwing his arms around me he cried, 'I have found you, I have found you; all I have is yours.'"

"Think of it, that I, a tramp, stood begging my father for ten cents, when for eighteen years he had been looking for me to give me all he was worth."

God's forgiving love is like that. He searched for us through Gethsemane and up the rugged side of dark Calvary, and when He find us He says, "All things are yours."—Selected.

There are some people whom we can not please. There are some circumstances which we can not control. There are some terrible disappointments or near calamities which come to us here in spite of all we can do.

But through it all it is possible to keep the blessing and the favor of the Lord. And if we do keep on good terms with Him we can rejoice through tears and by faith look for a good day. And the good day will come to those who have been faithful in trial. As certainly as God in His good time made it all right with Job and Joseph, so He will make it all right with us. Our business is to live and live always where it will be consistent for God to do well by us. He will surely do that good thing. He will not fail.—Free Methodist.

The only assurance of our safety as a nation is to lay our foundations as our fathers did, in morality and religion.—A. Lincoln.

A MODERN SCANDAL

In the old days a scandal was the story of some flagrant violation of the moral code, some violent reversal of right and wrong. Such a story used to shock people and make them ask what the world was coming to.

Nowadays a person who would be shocked by stories of murder and marital infidelity would soon wear out his nerves. What can shock our modern Americans then? That's a reasonable question. Here's a simple answer:

A short time ago a certain publisher got up a children's picture book which was to contain a picture of a little boy and girl in the act of praying. This was modern scandal. Alarmed parents who read the proofs of the forthcoming book made such an uproar against the offending picture that the publisher omitted it from the finished book.

The wife of a University Professor explained the general objection to the picture thus: "If such a picture were put into the hands of my children I should be in for a bad half hour trying to explain what prayers were and why they did not form a part of their routine. A good many children are brought up without hearing of God and religion. Mine are among them. To introduce the idea of an omnipotent Father may easily rob a child of his self-dependence. He may form the habit of leaning on some person or power instead of growing up in the belief that he alone must meet and solve his problems as they arise."

So we have the perfect scandal for modern Americans. It is not adultery, or murder, but teaching little children about God.—Selected.
