

MINISTERS AND CHURCHES

He that goeth forth and weepeth bearing precious seed shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him.—Psa. 126-6.

Rev. C. R. Hagerman writes that he is improving as rapidly as possible. See his letter in this issue.

Rev. P. J. Trafton has been speaking over the air recently from Amherst, N. S.

The editor will speak over the air from CKCW, Moncton, on Thursday morning at the devotional hour, 8.30.

Rev. L. T. Sabine preached twice at Ripples, N. B., on Sunday, April 7th, and also at the same place twice on the 14th. In addition to speaking over the air from Fredericton occasionally. So he is keeping busy in the Lord's work as opportunity serves.

Rev. F. A. Watson has accepted an unanimous call to remain pastor of the church in Fredericton another year.

Rev. S. G. Hilyard, B. A., has decided to remain on Millville circuit another year.

Rev. H. G. S. Blaney is engaged in special evangelistic services. He is being assisted by R. G. A. Rogers, B. A., Fort Fairfield. We hear that the brethren are having excellent meetings.

Rev. H. S. Mullen is also to begin special meetings April 15th in St. John. He will be assisted by Rev. H. E. Mullen.

Lic. B. C. Cochrane has accepted an unanimous call to remain pastor at Seal Cove for another year.

Brother Cochrane and Brother P. Green are engaged in special meetings on Wood Island. Rev. H. S. Mullen reports excellent meetings at St. John, with good crowds attending. He has accepted a call to remain their pastor for another year.

NOTE: This issue of the Highway will be a little late because some of the material was so late reaching us, and Sunday the 14th, coming so near our date of publication, the 15th, we were thus delayed. Please look at the label on your paper, and see if the figures there are 35 or 36; if not please send your renewal at once. We need the money to carry on our work of publication. Be sure to address all mail for King's Highway or Editor to Street Address, 237 Weldon Street, Moncton, N. B. Thanks.—Editor.

YOUTH

Youth ended, I shall try
My gain or loss thereby;
Be the fire ashes, what survives is gold:
And I shall weigh the same,
Give life its praise or blame.
Young, all day in dispute; I shall know, being old. —R. Browning.

NOTICE

Dear Friends:

It is my intention to place before you at this time some facts and suggestions relative to our foreign missionary work. First I wish, on behalf of the Mission Board, to sincerely express our appreciation of the kindly consideration of the financial needs as has been done by many. Some have given generously and no doubt many have sacrificed greatly. To one and all we say, thank you. But notwithstanding all that has been done for the support of the regular work in Africa, we have been forced to borrow quite largely to keep the meagre salaries paid to date, for they must be paid. The larger amounts have been contributed for the passage expenses of the return of the Sanders family to Africa. This problem is one to be considered well. Shall we send them, and can we support them if we do send them? At present we are not raising enough money to support those who are already there, and shall we attempt a still greater burden? The missionary society has no funds other than is contributed by the various societies and friends from time to time.

The call from Africa is for the return of the Sanders family. Personally, I am in full accord with the idea of sending them back, if available funds are assured. If the missionary family is returned to Africa, the Sterritt Sisters, who have been there over-long already, must be brought home. Some of our societies have been unable to contribute much during the year, and others have given theirs to the Passage Fund, which has probably been a mistake, as we need it so much for the regular expenses. In short, if we cannot keep our missionaries who are already in Africa, and beside this raise sufficient funds to finance the undertaking of the return of the Sanders family, and support it after it is there, it is folly to consider it.

It may seem that if the Sterritt Sisters are brought home, that the amount of their support could be turned toward that of the Sanders family; but it must be remembered that the expenses of the Sterrit's furlough would further increase the financial obligations.

To return what we have borrowed from other funds, and meet our further obligations until Alliance, we will need at least $1300.00. You will ask, "Can we raise this amount and enough more to send the Sanders family, and bring the Sterritt Sisters home, all in so short a time?" Who will answer this, and how shall we do it? I would say that, if ALL will do ALL they can, and if several more will do as Brother W. R. Carson and Sister Small, who gave $1000, and $500, respectively, we then shall be able to accomplish this, so necessary undertaking, in our foreign missionary work. There are doubtless others of our denomination and friends, who could give like sums, and who, possibly have no one in particular to whom they should leave their life's savings rather than placing it in the work of the Lord in foreign missions.

I have been considering the idea of a "Special Easter Offering" for the particular purpose of "putting across" this very important feature of our foreign work. Shall we unitedly pray for the guidance of the Lord in this matter? Then as we come to Good Friday, on which day we commemorate the greatest sacrifice of One who loved fallen humanity, even darkest Africa, please make to our mission board, that gift, for the foreign missionary work, which would fully answer that long held conviction that you ought to do something worthwhile along this line.

Friends, this is doubtless our next largest undertaking, and as you have always appreciated the frankness with which we have brought the needs before you, and as you have always responded so readily in times of other calls for assistance, we feel that you will again now make this appeal a special matter of prayer, and seek to answer the call again, as best it is possible.

Let us not merely read these lines, but immediately seek to make plans to contribute. Let us know what you will do in this matter. The Mission Board will greatly appreciate letters regarding what you are able to do, and what you may think is the most satisfactory way to raise these funds. The Board wishes to have this matter arranged by the time of our Alliance, so as to then complete arrangements if possible, for the return of the Sanders family to Africa and recall those in need of furlough.

May the Lord bless every one of the Highway readers, and help us all to do His highest will, is our prayer.

In behalf of the Mission Board,

L. T. SABINE, Treasurer,

315 George St., Fredericton, N. B.

CORRESPONDENCE

Millville, N. B., April 9, 1935

On Friday evening, March 8, I was invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forman's of Lr. Hainesville. A number of the good people of the community met for a social time, after which we all felt better acquainted. Following the serving of refreshments Miss Jennie Forman presented the pastor with an envelope containing money and also with some produce. I tried to thank these good people and then offered thanks to the Giver of every good and perfect gift. May God bless them all is my prayer.

S. G. HILYARD

East Coldstream

Dear Brother Dow:

Find enclosed renewal for the Highway. I enjoy its clean pages, also the letters from the different ones is a great blessing to me as I am shut in on account of poor health most of the time. I am still trusting in the blood that takes my sins away and praising Him for all he is to me these testing days. May the blessing of the Lord be on your work.

Yours in the service of the King,

MRS. W. M. WAUGH

EASTER THOUGHTS

An old Norse king sat one night in his hall when the tempest was roaring and whistling outside. The fire threw its glow far out into the dark recesses of the hall, the brighter for the storm and gloom around. While the king talked to his councillors before the fire, a little bird flew in and passed over their heads and out at the open window.

"Such," said the king, "is the life of man. Out of the darkness into the light, and then lost in the darkness and storm again."

"Yes, Your Majesty," cried an old courtier, "but the bird has its nest beyond."

And the truth could not be more tenderly told. What the old courtier said of the bird is true of all who love the Lord Jesus Christ. Our nest is beyond—in Heaven.—Heart & Life.

There is a word called "luck," I grant you. But the man who makes good and remains so while depending on luck is as rare as a white crow.—V. A.
