

MINISTERS AND CHURCHES

He that goeth forth and weepeth bearing precious seed shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him.—Psa. 126-6.

Rev. J. A. and sister Owens, who have been serving the Hartland circuit for several years, are open for a call to another field.

Lic. B. Cochrane, of Seal Cove, G. M., N. B., has accepted a call to remain with the church another year.

Rev. G. A. Rogers has had a call to North Head, G. M., N. B., and has the matter under consideration.

Rev. F. A. Dunlop will assist Lic. B. Cochrane in special Easter services at Seal Cove.

Lic. Miriam Sanders is assisting the pastor of Moncton church in a few days' special services to continue over Easter Sunday. The pastor administered the ordinance of water baptism to five happy candidates on Easter Sunday evening, two men and three young folk, and expects to have another baptism next Sunday.

Lic. Burrell Kimball preached in the Fort Fairfield Church on Sunday evening, March 15 and there were two responded to seek salvation and also two were forward for salvation on March 22nd after the pastor, brother Rogers had preached.

The special meetings being held at Hartland by the pastor, Rev. J. A. Owens assisted by Rev. W. E. Smith are proving a blessing to those who attend. The interest has been very good and they are expecting greater victory.

Rev. H. S. Mullen, of Saint John, is engaged in evangelistic services. He is being assisted by Lic. Donald Cochrane of Marysville.

Rev. P. J. Trafton has accepted a call to be pastor of Fredericton church for the coming year. This will be the second time that brother Trafton has been pastor there.

HOME MISSIONS

Miss Winnifred Shaw (pledge).....$10.00
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sollows..... 2.00

We will be glad to receive your contributions for the home work. We would like to have the pledges paid before the Alliance. Thanks.

QUILTS FOR BEULAH

The sisters of Moncton church are making quilts for Beulah. Mrs. Wolf of the adult class in the Sunday School has one under way. Also the girls of the Young People's class. We hope there will be many more quilts made for we will need a large number more this year as they are always wearing out and have to be discarded.

Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first fruits of all thine increase:

PERSONALS

Mrs. F. H. Lock, of Amherst, has recently undergone a serious surgical operation. We are glad, however, that the last report says our sister is progressing favorably.

We are glad to hear that brother W. C. Wright, of Greenbush, who has been quite ill for several weeks past, is improved and is out again.

Miss Sarah Tedley, R. N., of New York, has spent a month home with her parents at Lower Brighton, N. B., recently. Her father, Brother George Tedley, is in poor health with heart trouble, but is resting peacefully in Jesus and is some better than he was. The editor of the King's Highway and Rev. W. E. Smith, and brother Tedley's pastor, Rev. J. A. Owens, made a short call on Mr. Tedley and also on Mrs. Byron Brown of Lower Brighton recently. Sister Brown's health is not very good but we found her sitting up in her chair and quite comfortable and looking quite well, and best of all enjoying her usual peace of mind and calm confidence, sustained by her unwaivering faith in the Lord Jesus Christ and in the promises of God who has said that "All things work together for good to them that love God." Let us pray that God may be pleased to speedily restore all these sick ones to health again.

We had a good letter from brother W. K. Carson of Norton recently, also one for the Highway. Brother Carson's wife is enjoying good health again.

Deacon Warren Sollows, of Port Maitland, N. S., has been confined to his home through illness for several weeks, but is showing some improvement now.

Miss Annie Rogers, of Benton, N. B., sister of Rev. G. A. Rogers, is teaching school at Wood Island, N. B. She has quite a large school and likes the place very much. Her mother, sister Rogers does not enjoy very good health, but keeps on praising the Lord for salvation, and says she enjoys reading the King's Highway, and passes it on to others.

SANCTIFIED

(A personal testimony in verse)

'Twas the second day of April,
Nineteen thirty-three,
In a Sunday morning service
That Jesus set me free.
'Blessed are the pure in heart'
Announced the preacher as his text,
For they shall see the Lord, he said,
And He will give you rest.

After the message was over
I prayed to be pure
God showed me a beautiful river
That I never saw before.
How long you sought the blessing,
This river flowed all those years,
But you were filled with your selfish ways

And God failed to hear your prayers.

"O glory to God" my soul cried out,
"God's blessing is upon me.

At last I know beyond a doubt

That Jesus sanctifies me."

And now three years have passed
since then,

It's just as fresh as ever;

It keeps me sweet and pure and clean,
And makes me fit for Heaven.

WHAT MAKES A HOME?

What makes a home? Four walls of polished stone?

Of brick and mortar laid with nicest care?
Nay! Prison walls are made without as fair.
Within—look not within—corruption there
With ignorance and sin defiles the air.

What makes a home? 'Twere better far to roam
Unhoused than have a part in dainty halls,
Where rarest gems of art adorn the walls,
If there's no hearth-fire bright for poorest poor
Who linger in the night without the door.

What makes a home? 'Tis where the weary come

And lay their burdens down, assured of rest.
'Tis where we learn to know our dearest best;
Where little children play, blessing and blest—
Though walls of coarsest clay enwrap the nest.
—Fanny S. Reeder.

IT WORKS

Dr. Pentecost once met a freethinker, who twitted him for putting any faith in the Bible, seeing that the authorship of some of its parts was so uncertain, and the subject of such debate.

"Look here", said the doctor, "who wrote the multiplication table?"

"I don't know", confessed the skeptic.

"What a man you are!" said Dr. Pentecost.

"You believe it and you use it, and yet you don't know who wrote it."

This placed the caviller in some difficulty, but thinking he saw a way out of it, he said—"But the multiplication table works!"

"Doubtless", was the triumphant retort of the preacher, "and so does the Bible!"—Selected.

We are as answerable for what we give as for what we receive; nay, the misplacing of a benefit is worse than the not receiving of it; for the one is another person's fault, but the other is mine.—Seneca.
