

CORRESPONDENCE

Dear Highway Friends:

Have been intending for some time to write and say, "The lines are fallen unto us in pleasant places."

Since writing last we have visited Fredericton and Marysville, spending a short time there. We had two good missionary meetings. We appreciated the interest and kindness which we received at these places and enjoyed the privilege of being in the homes of the pastors.

We hurried on to St. John, where we took the boat for Grand Manan, spending a week at the two churches, North Head and Seal Cove. We found the people very interested in the mission work, and very kind to us.

We were very kindly welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Archer in their home, then at Seal Cove with Mr. and Mrs. Cochrane.

We had one meeting on Wood Island and we had the delightful privilege of spending one day on Gannet Rock with Mr. and Mrs. Cochrane.

The good people on the Rock were very glad to see us, and we had a good day with them. We understand a little more now about the lighthouse on Gannet Rock. May the Lord bless these lighthouse keepers. After leaving Grand Manan we went to Jonesport and to Beals Island, spending one week at each place. We were certainly made to feel very much at home at these places by both pastors and people; had a delightful time, and the Lord was in our midst. We made our headquarters in Jonesport at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beal and at Mr. and Mrs. Watson's on Beals Island. The Ladies' Aid at this place gave us a shower of toilet articles, candy and some money which was a surprise to us. We say, may the Lord bless them.

Then we were fortunate in getting to the Quarterly Meeting at Calais, Me., and spending one week there, Mr. Ernest Bradley taking us in his car.

This was the first quarterly meeting we had attended since coming home, and we surely had a blessed time indeed. The preaching was grand and a wonderful spirit was felt in all the services.

After the quarterly meeting we had three missionary services, one at Crawford and two in the Calais Church. We had a good time in the Lord and was glad to meet these kind people and their good pastor and wife. The interest here as in all other places was good. We were very glad to spend a few days at the new Black's Harbor Church. We were most kindly welcomed by these dear people; we did enjoy meeting these new converts and hearing about their conversions. We had rainy weather here, but good numbers attended the services. May the Lord bless the pastor and people at this place.

And now we are at the Millstream Circuit which is a large one. Brother Briggs is kept busy taking us to the different churches. It seems each night finds us at a new place. We are spending two Sundays on this circuit. We have also a new church here to visit at Killam's Mills. We are so glad to meet these new converts.

We have enjoyed very much our stay here. The people are very kind and we have visited many homes. May the Lord bless them all and their pastor and wife. After leaving this place we go to Moncton. We praise the Lord for the wonderful fall weather we are having.

The Lord is blessing us and our health is improving, for which we are so grateful. We are glad to be in the service of the Lord. Please continue to pray for us.

Yours for the salvation of souls,

HELEN M. STERRITT

Dear Brother Dow:

This is the first time to write you though I have been getting your nice paper, "King's Highway" for the last many years. It contains a most valuable and helpful material dealing to a greater extent to enlighten the Christian spirituality of the present day, and I have the greatest pleasure to say that myself and my fellow workers are much strengthened by it.

I have been labouring for the last 20 years in these parts of India for our Lord, solely waiting upon the God our Father. As He is using me much in the spread of His kingdom, I established churches and Sunday schools in this district. I am watching the churches and conducting the Sunday Schools for the glorification of His Holy Name in these remotest places. There are still thousands of hungry souls to be turned to the Lord. Please co-operate us in prayer that we might be strengthened and blessed more.

Yours in His glorious service,

G. JOHN THATHAYYA

Note.—The foregoing is part of a letter received from a native worker in India. Let us add his name to our prayer-list.—Ed.

Dear Highway:

We enjoyed a very successful revival campaign with Brother F. A. Anderson from Nov. 8th to 28. Brother Anderson preached with liberty and power and souls sought and found God in many of the services. The last evening found seekers weeping their way to the Lord. The service closed by a good testimony meeting of folk praising the Lord for the good revival He gave us. Brother Anderson proved himself to be the right man for us. We highly recommend him to any one wanting an evangelist. He is true to the doctrine of Holiness and preaches without fear or favor.

At present I am on the sick list. I have not felt well for some time. When I went to see the doctor he ordered me to bed and put me on a diet. I am feeling some better and trust the Lord will undertake for me so I may soon be in His service again. I covet the prayers of the Highway family.

Yours in Him,

H. E. MULLEN

BOOTLEG BUSINESS BOOMS

The news press carries a story of the indictment by the Philadelphia grand jury of more than 100 members of a huge illicit liquor ring. It is stated that the gang, exceeding in size any which operated during prohibition days, has defrauded the government out of more than $20,500,000 since repeal. On top of the indictment of the members of this moonshine mob the same grand jury returned indictments against officers and salesmen of a large manufacturing corporation for bootlegging the liquor made by the indicted moonshiners.

It is said that among the gangsters indicted are prominent lawyers, politicians, business men, and even law enforcement officers. Their operations are said to cover five states, with headquarters in Philadelphia, Scranton, New York,

New Jersey, Maryland and Connecticut.

Bench warrants have been drawn up by Federal Judge George A. Walsh and J. Cullen Ganey, U. S. District Attorney has sent deputies and U. S. Marshals scurrying after the men named in the indictments. The size and ramifications of the ring is said to exceed any like organization during the worst of the Volstead days.

In a news article published in The United States News, of which David Lawrence, the well known Washington columnist, is the editor, the statement is made that the government has nearly twice as many special officers fighting bootlegging as were employed during prohibition days. Business Week, one of the leading business magazines, recently stated that "despite claims from Washington that bootlegging has diminished to a 'mere trickle,' realists estimate that forty per cent of the nation's consumption is still from illicit sources." Late in 1936 Secretary Morgenthau of the Treasury was quoted in a statement declaring that "Repeal hasn't even put a dent in the operation of the large-scale moonshiners and bootleggers."

The Philadelphia indictments confirm the Secretary's statement.—W. G. Calderwood, in the Religious Telescope.

GOSPEL TRIUMPH

The late Mr. Abel, a godly missionary, labored for years among cannibals. Great blessing rested upon his mission and testimony. Hundreds were saved.

One Sunday before a communion service he spoke earnestly to the assembled converts some discouragement over their spiritual progress. Then arose Daniela, the former chief of Lilihoa, and said:

"Your words are true and we hear them, but remember, we are very weak, and we do not forget what God has done for us."

Pointing to Paolo of Logea, he said,—"There are scars on my body that my friend there inflicted, yet he is my brother. We are one in Christ. A few years ago I longed for vengeance. I yearned for his life. I captured and ate his people as he did mine; and as he did my wife. Soon we shall kneel together and remember how Christ died for us. Because He died, there is no malice in my heart. We are brothers!"

Such is the power of the gospel of Jesus Christ. Such is the power of God unto salvation. It has demonstrated its supernatural power for thousands of years. It is undiminished today. Come on, all ye Modernists, Unitarians, Christian Scientists, and other deniers of the Cross of Christ and that precious blood shed by the Lamb of God, and go and preach your inventions in some dark corners of the earth. Can you produce such results by your perversions of Christianity? By preaching your lies you drag down into deeper depths the lost heathen world.

BUILDERS FOR ETERNITY

Isn't it strange that princes and kings,
And clowns that caper in sawdust rings,
And common folks like you and me,
Are builders for eternity?

Each is given a bag of tools,
A shapeless mass and a book of rules,
And each must fashion, ere life is flown,
A stumbling-block or a stepping-stone.
