

MINISTERS AND CHURCHES

He that goeth forth and weepeth bearing precious seed shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him.—Psa. 126-6.

A word to our pastors: Many of our people are feeling that it is time that we took some action towards getting a school in operation for the fall term in September of this year. Some are writing about it, and others have been speaking to us on the subject. It has been suggested to us that we ask our pastors to take a sort of inventory of the educational desires of the young people in their churches and congregations, and learn as far as possible how many there are who would like to attend a school where they would take a regular high school course, with Bible and religious subjects combined to fit them for Christian work. Let every pastor co-operate, please, and let us know as soon as possible, and we will make the results known through the Highway. And everybody be sure to read our editorial on "Opportunity" on page 4 of this issue.—H. S. Dow.

The Moncton Church is engaged in special evangelistic services, with R. T. Sellick as evangelist. The outlook or uplook is encouraging, several requested prayer in the service Thursday night and several found victory on Sunday night.

Revival services begin in Fredericton, March 6th, with Rev. Gilbert Laite as evangelist.

Mrs. J. A. Owens writes that their meetings are seasons of blessing, and their new recruits are doing well.

Rev. G. A. Rogers reports a good meeting at Port Maitland recently. See his letter in this issue.

Rev. H. M. Kimball also gives a good report of their meetings at Black's Harbor, with his brother, B. F. Kimball, as evangelist. He also has a letter in this issue.

Rev. B. C. Cochrane, of Seal Cove, writes that Mrs. Cochrane is improving favourably after undergoing a successful operation in Fredericton hospital. She has returned to their home again at Seal Cove, N. B.

Lic. Norman Sanders, of Amherst, N. S., spent last week-end visiting friends in Moncton, N. B.

Lic. Gordon Simonds reports the work going well at Woods Harbor, N. S. They are worshipping in their new church, which was recently dedicated, and are holding evangelistic services with Mrs. Manning as evangelist. See Brother Simonds' letter.

Rev. G. A. Rogers, of Port Maitland, N. S., spent Monday night, Feb. 21st, with Rev. P. J. and Mrs. Trafton at Fredericton. He was on his way to visit his parents at Benton, N. B. On his return he attended a meeting of the Executive of the Foreign Mission Board, at Marysville, Friday morning, Feb. 25th.

Rev. H. L. Robertson has resigned as pastor of Havelock Church, and is open for a call. Effective June 30th.

A CORRECTION

Rev. G. A. Rogers writes that an error was made in his report of his meetings held at Sandford with R. T. Sellick as evangelist. The report read: A member came to the altar. It should have read: A number came to the altar to be reclaimed or sanctified.

We are sorry for this mistake, and glad to correct it.

PERSONALS

We have just had a letter from Mrs. Helen Brown, widow of the late Spurgeon Brown, of Bridgewater, Maine. She tells us of their recent sorrow in the passing of Mr. Brown, on Feb. 10th. Mr. Brown was taken ill on Jan. 21st with a heart attack, and the doctor thought that with rest and medical care he would rally again, but he failed to respond to the treatment. We shall miss our brother from Riverside camp meeting. He and his good wife were valued friends of our work up there. Mrs. Brown says her husband had a very precious vision of Heaven during his sickness and he died very happy, for which we praise the Lord, while we extend sincere Christian sympathy to Sister Brown and those of the family who mourn their loss.

Mrs. Robert Barr, who has been boarding all winter on account of ill health, has so far recovered that she is now in her own home.

Miss Pauline Savage, of South Devon, is recovering nicely from a serious illness.

SCRAPBOOK POEMS

I MET THE MASTER FACE TO FACE

I had walked life's way with an easy tread,
Had followed where comforts and pleasures led,

Until one day, in a quiet place,
I met the Master, face to face.

With station and rank and wealth as my goal,
Much thought for my body, but none for my soul.

I had entered to win in life's big race,
When I met the Master, face to face.

I met Him, and knew Him, and blushed to see
That His eyes full of sorrow were fixed on me:
I faltered and fell at His feet that day
While my castles melted, nad vanished away;
Melted and vanished, and in their place,
Naught did I see but the Master's face;
And I cried aloud, "Oh make me meet
To follow the steps of thy wounded feet."

My thought is now for the souls of men,
I have lost my life, to find it again,
E'er since that day in a quiet place,
I met the Master, face to face.

The best attempted actions, carried out with most honest purpose, sometimes seem to do more harm than good.

"And of some have compassion making a difference." Jude 22. The apostle Jude realized that we cannot deal with all men in the same way. Neither can we expect the same treatment from all men, and the reason is because there is such a difference in men's dispositions. The difference in men's dispositions is perhaps not more noticeable anywhere than in their financial dealings.

Of course, we know there are many men who are strictly honest, and would pay every cent they owe gladly, but they just cannot do so because they have not the money. These are they of whom Jude says we must have compassion. And this we are glad to do. No person is deprived of our paper, The King's Highway, because he or she has no money to pay. Our Supplementary Fund takes care of that. And there are other kind hearted generous subscribers who pay for their paper one, two, and three years ahead, which also helps us much. But what shall we say about those good Christian people who have steady incomes, and are able to pay, but, let their subscription run from two to fifteen years without paying anything on it. We don't think they are dishonest, but we rather think that in most cases it is neglect, or thoughtlessness. Well what shall we do? I feel sure that if these folk who are so far in arrears realized how hard they were making it for us, they would be more prompt and send in their renewals, and thus help us to bear our burdens. God bless you my friends, let us hear from you at once.

THE JUDGMENT DAY

We are all approaching that dread tribunal. However diversified our paths, they all converge toward that common center. The young with their elastic tread are striding to the judgment; the old tottering limbs are creeping to the judgment; the rich in their splendid equipages are driving to the judgment; the poor in rags and barefooted are walking to the judgment. The Christian, making God's statutes his song, is a pilgrim to the judgment; the sinner, treading upon the mercy of Jesus and trampling upon His blood, is hastening to the judgment-seat of Christ.—Richard Fuller.

If righteousness should perish it would not be worth while for men to live on the Earth.—Emmanuel Kant.
