

MINISTERS AND CHURCHES

He that goeth forth and weepeth bearing precious seed shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him.—Psa. 126-6.

Rev. G. A. Rogers, of Port Maitland, N.S., is assisting Lic. A. D. Cann in evangelistic services at Killam's. They report a good meeting in progress. Rev. E. A. M. Keirstead is supplying for Brother Rogers in his absence.

Rev. P. J. Trafton reports a good meeting at Fredericton with R. T. Sellick as evangelist. See his letter in this issue.

A letter from Rev. W. E. Smith, of Somerville, Mass., says he had a good time working with our churches in New Brunswick this fall. He says he likes our young men whom he was helping, and they ring true on holiness. These brethren all give a good report of Brother Smith's preaching.

Rev. H. J. S. Blaney and Mrs. Blaney of the Nazarene Church attended our quarterly meeting held in Woodstock recently and spoke at one or two services.

I am sure we are very grateful to our friends for this generous contribution to this fund. We get letters from subscribers quite often saying they love the Highway and would like to continue to take it, but are not able to pay for it. So these contributions make it possible for them to have their paper.

Again we say, Thank you! EDITOR

UNDAUNTED FAITH

Sow, though the rock repel thee

In its cold, sterile pride;

Some cleft there may be riven

Where the little seed may hide.—Anon.

PERSONALS

We had an interesting letter from our good sister and friend, Mrs. Amanda Boyer, of Vancouver recently. She is quite well in spite of the fact that she has passed her 80th birthday anniversary, and she is praising the good Lord for His fatherly care. She writes that her son, Hartley, has been quite ill but is better again. She also says that Mrs. F. H. Hale, of Vancouver, who has been in poor health for some time past, is better again and seems very bright and cheerful.

Mrs. Oliver Trites of Lutes Mountain has recently celebrated her 84th birthday anniversary and is quite well, and active as usual.

Mrs. Abner Hopper, of Moncton, is also in her 80th year and at present is not very well. The doctor has ordered her to stay in bed for a while.

MARRIED

Brown-Gill

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the Millville R. B. parsonage when Doreen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gill, of Millville, was united in marriage to Douglas Brown, of Millville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Judson Brown, of Kennebunk, Me.

A DANGEROUS HABIT

The fault-finding habit is a bad one. It is easily acquired and not readily broken. We live in an imperfect world. Everything is flawed and defective. Institutions all blunder and fall short of the ideal. Persons are all erring creatures and their faults give us offense. But one should not pay too much attention to the faults of others, or to the defects of the world in which he lives. He may become a chronic fault-finder, and in that case he will become a grumbler. If he is not careful, he will degenerate into a growler. And if he growls long enough, he will degenerate into a snarler, and in the end he will become a cynic. When a man has become a cynic, he has reached the bottom. There is nothing lower than cynicism. A cynic is of no account, either to himself or to any one else. He is a nuisance and a stumbling block. He did not intend at the start to become a cynic. He began by finding fault, and the habit grew on him until his mind became twisted and his heart sour.—Dr. Chas. E. Jefferson.

"TRUST ON"

(By M. McBrien, Amherst, N.S.)

When the Peace you have known seems to vanish away

And things all go wrong, 'though his will you obey,

Look up through the clouds that seem dark with despair,

Remember your Savior has you in his care.

The greater the burden, the travail and loss

The deeper the thorn pricks, the heavier the cross,

The nearer to Jesus, 'twill draw you my friend,

The one who so loves you, will Grace surely send.

His Image, He'll surely reflect in your life

He'll lift you above ev'ry sorrow and strife,

He'll brighten your pathway, when other lights dim,

Keep trusting and praying, the rest leave with him.

OBITUARY

Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord.—Revelation 14-13.

Bertram McLeod Colpitts

The Woodstock Reformed Baptist Church suffered a great loss in the passing of its senior deacon, Bertram M. Colpitts, on Wednesday, the 23rd, at the age of 74.

Mr. Colpitts was born in Albert County, and when a small boy came with his parents, the late Rev. and Mrs. Bamford Colpitts, to Carleton County. Early in life he gave his heart and life to Christ, and during these many years has exemplified a consistent Christian life. Brother Colpitts has served the Church as deacon, clerk and Sunday school teacher, and was always ready to assist in Christian work anywhere. His testimony to full salvation and earnest prayers will be greatly missed in the Church of his choice.

No one was more keenly interested in the 50th anniversary services, held Nov. 3-6, than he. His last act of service was in connection with the church he loved, just one week before his death.

He leaves, to feel their loss, his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Harry Price, Canterbury; Mrs. Mabel Cox, Simonds; and three sons: Ewart and Bamford, of Woodstock, and Hedley, of Simonds; two sisters, Mrs. Harry Reid, of Plymouth, and Mrs. Luella McLeod, of Woodstock.

The funeral services were held at the R. B. Church on Friday last, conducted by the writer, who was assisted by Rev. P. J. Trafton, of Fredericton, and Rev. H. E. Allaby (U. B.) of Woodstock.

The body was laid to rest in the family lot at Jacksonville.

Of the deceased, it may truly be said: The Church has lost a staunch supporter, the cause of holiness a strong advocate, and all who knew him, a true friend; for he was beloved by all. "I have fought a good fight. I have finished my course. I have kept the faith."

To the family their many friends express deepest sympathy.

The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful.

Editorial Note.—We were shocked when we read in the Woodstock paper of the sudden passing of our late Brother Colpitts. We had known him well and favourably for over fifty years. We remember when he as a very young man came to Meductic to clerk in the store for Marsten Brothers. We well remember how soon he established a reputation for being strictly honest, and how we children liked to have him wait on us when we went to the store to shop. He was so kind and willing to help us make our purchases. As years passed and we knew him better we learned to esteem him highly as a Christian brother. Then when he married our cousin, he seemed like one of the family. Now he is gone, and we have lost another friend. To the bereaved family we extend sincere sympathy.

HAVE FAITH IN GOD

How preposterous it is for man, with his feeble infinite intellect, to bar as unbelievable everything that cannot be brought within the compass of his own little understanding! That ridiculous demand constitutes the essence of the "rationalism of the present day." It is a rationalism that is absurdly irrational.—Meek.
