G. A. ROGERS, Pres.

The King's Highway would make a very profitable Christmas gift. Why not send it to some of your friends for a year? They will like the good reading.

And why not make the editor and business manager happy for Christmas by sending in two hundred renewals. Will you be one of two hundred that will contribute toward our Christmas joy?

F. A. ANDERSON

Schuyler Colfax Page, Chattanooga, Tenn

On Nov. 7th, 1940, at his home in Chattanooga, Tenn., S. C. Page, Sr., passed from pain and suffering to his rest on the other side.

He was 72 years old and had lived in Chattanooga since 1922. He was born in Caribou, Me., and lived most of his life there; his wife had predeceased him five years. He leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and loving father, two sons, S. C. Page, jr., and Ross Page, of Chattanooga, two daughters, Mrs. C. A. Scovil, North Head, Grand Manan, and Mrs. Carl Clark, Hartford, Conn., and three grandchildren. C. W. Page, of Caribou, Me., is a brother, and two sisters, Mrs. A. S. Beacon, Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. S. A. Baker, Woodstock, N. B.

He leaves many friends in Caribou and Grand Manan also to miss him, as well as at Beulah, but he left a bright testimony "that all was well with his soul and he was ready and willing to go."

Our loss is his gain, and we have the promise: "For we know, that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in heaven."

Myles David Harris

The death of Myles David Harris, seven and one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence F. Harris, occurred at his home in Cary street, Houlton, Maine, on Sept. 27th from a heart ailment. The little fellow had not been in robust health for several years, and early last winter became seriously ill, and was obliged to leave school.

By his bravery, during his long illness, and loveliness, he endeared himself to all who knew him well, as was evidenced by the unusually large number of floral tributes sent; and numberless other tokens of love and kindness shown by relatives, neighbors and friends.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Storms of the Military Baptist Church, Houlton, on Sunday, Sept. 29th.

Besides his parents a younger brother, Ernest Hartley Harris, survives, also his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Estey, of Fredericton, N. B.

Mrs. Lydia Reid

The funeral of the late Mrs. Lydia Reid was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Thomas Smith, 2 Stanley street, and was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends. Rev. H. C. Rice, D.D., pastor of Immanuel United Church, had charge of the service and was assisted by Rev. C. Earle Gordon, pastor of Trinity-St. Stephen's United Church. Interment was made at the Highland cemetery. There were many beautiful floral tributes.
