"Let no man despise thy youth"—I. Timothy 4-12

Editor: REV. B. COCHRANE, Marysville, N. B.

1941 CONVENTION

The ninth annual convention of the Reformed Baptist Young People's Association was held in the Beulah Tabernacle Saturday, July 12th, at 2.30 p. m.

The meeting was opened with singing, led by Rev. G. A. DeLong. Lic. Joseph Moses read the Scripture lesson from 2 Kings 6:1-8, and 2 Tim. 2:22-26. Prayer was offered by Rev. P. J. Trafton and was followed by a ladies' quartette composed of Mrs. J. A. Owens, Mrs. Raymond Smith, Mrs. G. A. Rogers and Mrs B. C. Cochrane.

Rev. G. R. Symonds, retiring president, spoke appreciatively concerning his privilege of holding the office of leadership and thanked the young people for their co-operation during the three years he held office.

An appeal for support of the self-denial fund received a generous response, over three hundred dollars being pledged in this service.

Myra Crowell, one of our young people who was welcomed back to Beulah after several years absence, rendered a beautiful solo.

Our Camp evangelist, Dr. C. E. Hardy, brought a very powerful and inspiring message from 2 Kings 6:5-6. The young people were challenged to diligently and faithfully carry on the work begun by their fathers and predecessors. Declaring that the young people of today were the church of tomorrow, our speaker appealed to us to stand faithful to the doctrine of full salvation regardless of cost and sacrifice. This message was received with great appreciation by the large audience present.

The benediction prayer of Rev. H. C. Mullen brought to a close another yearly convention, and we face a new year of labour with the prayer that we might be able to represent Christ rightly, thus causing those who watch our lives to have a longing to know our wonderful Saviour.

IRIS EMERY, Secretary

"AS THE FATHER HATH SENT ME"

- So send I you—to labour unrewarded,
To serve unpaid, unloved, unsought, unknown,
- To bear rebuke, to suffer scorn and scoffing,
So send I you—to toil for Me alone.
- So send I you—to bind the bruised and broken,
O'er wandering souls to work, to weep, to wake,
To bear the burden as of a world a-weary,
So send I you—to suffer for My sake.
- So send I you—to loneliness and longing
With heart a-hung'ring for the loved and known,
Forsaking home and kindred, friend and dear one,
So send I you—to know My love alone.
- So send I you—to leave your life's ambition,
To die to dear desire, self-will resign;
To labour long and love where men revile you,
So send I you—to lose your life in Mine.
- So send I you—to hearts made hard by hatred,
To eyes made blind because they will not see,
So spend, though be it blood—to spend and spare not,
So send I you—to taste of Calvary—
So send I you—
Lord, here am I! Send me!

E. MARGARET CLARKSON

We have only once to live; therefore let us live to some purpose. The day that dawned this morning will never dawn again. The opportunities which it brought with it will never come again; and if we fail to fill it with the service it requires of us there will be no possibility of returning into it to repair the mischief. The wheels of Time's chariot have ratchets on them, and they move only forward.—William M. Taylor, D.D.

Though jealousy be, at times, produced by love, as ashes are by fire, yet jealousy extinguishes love, as ashes smother the flames.

"The imputed righteousness of Christ, is a phrase not scriptural. It has done much harm." (Jno. Wesley).

Even the weariest river winds somewhere safe to sea.—A. C. Swinburne.
