Beulah Camp is situated on the beautiful St. John River, 20 miles above Saint John City. Accommodations are of the best, including board and room at very reasonable rates, spring water and sanitary sewerage system.

For room reservations write Rev. G. A. Delong, North Head, N. B.; G. R. Symonds, Seal Cove, N. B.; H. C. Mullen, Hartland, N. B.; J. A. Owens, 1-A. Carleton St., Saint John, N. B.

Music will be both instrumental and vocal. The organ and piano and other instruments will be used to accompany quartettes, trios, duets, solos, and singing by the congregation.

Plan to Come to This Great Spiritual Feast

BEULAH CAMP-MEETING

By Mrs. S. A. Baker

Dear Brother Dow and Highway Friends:

As we look out and see the beautiful foliage of summer green on trees and shrubs, our mind goes back to the year 1894 when we first saw Beulah.

It was beautiful, with lovely ferns and wild flowers that had never been disturbed and the towering trees and the Saint John River so peacefully flowing by. It made a picture never to be forgotten, and is still in my memory.

In the years since that time the Lord has permitted me to gather at our "Annual Meeting" every year but three, including this year.

It has been a wonderful privilege to listen to the messages from the evangelist and our pastors as they proclaim the doctrine of full salvation.

Many changes have taken place since 1894; those who were the "Standard Bearers" at that time are gone to their reward, but the torch they held high, has been taken up by younger men who have been true to the doctrine of Holiness and the two works of grace. It can truly be said that thousands have knelt at the altar and received an experience that has held them true to God.

We are facing a crisis in the world at the present time that calls for soldiers for the "Army of the Lord." Our Empire calls for the youth of the land to preserve it from the power of the enemy. So does God's kingdom need "recruits" to carry on the work, for He has said "we are workers together for Him."

The need is urgent, as our churches and Sunday schools and prayer services all need to be sustained, if we preserve the Kingdom of God in this time of indifference and sin. And when we take into consideration the many branches of our work, our missionary societies, camp meetings and our Highway, which is such a help in binding us together, it seems to be a link that connects us with those who are scattered far and near. The splendid editorials feed our souls. All these call for consecrated workers. Some say I cannot meet the requirements of a soldier, but if you read carefully Eph. 6:10-19 you will see God has an "armour" for us that will equip us for service for Him.

We admire the boys in their uniforms, and they wear them proudly; we should so live that we adorn the profession of holiness, we should be "good soldiers of Jesus Christ." We see nations go down under the power of the enemy, but we have a "kingdom" that can not be moved, as God is still on His throne. We read in 2 Timothy 2-19, "Nevertheless the foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal, the Lord knoweth them that are His." And we read in Proverbs 3:25-26, "Be not afraid of sudden fear, neither of the desolation of the wicked, when it cometh. For the Lord shall be thy confidence, and shall keep thy foot from being taken."

In closing I send greetings to the friends who gather at Beulah. My years have numbered up to 80 and I don't feel that it is wise for me to go to Beulah, but I am praying that it may be a meeting of power.

Many will be missed, as our ranks have been broken by death and others are in training camps, but we must look to God for victory, and never lay our armour by until God calls us to Himself.

With Christian love,

MRS. S. A. BAKER

The following hymn was the last one Mr. Baker ever sang.

I've reached the land of corn and wine,
And all its riches freely mine;
Here shines undimmed one blissful day,
For all my night has passed away.

The Saviour comes and walks with me
And sweet communion here have we:
He gently leads me with His hand,
For this is heaven's border-land.

"HAVE FAITH IN GOD"

Leon E. Metcalf, Waite, Maine
When inclined to be discouraged,
And all hope seems to depart,
Don't forget that Jesus liveth,
And still has you on His heart.

When your load seems hard to carry
And the burden no one shares,
Tho' the world seems not to pity
Just remember Jesus cares.

"When thou passest through the waters,"
And no earthly help you see,
Do not lose your faith in God, for
He has said, "I'll be with thee."

So, dear heart, fear not, take courage,
For the Word of God is true.
Jesus said, "I'll never leave thee,
But will guide while passing through."

Wesley urged his preachers to spend five hours out of twenty-four in reading.—Is the Word of God "quick and powerful" with you? —(Heb. 4:12).
