OBITUARY

"Blessed are the dead which due in the Lord."—Revelation 14-13.

Mrs. Eva P. Gallant

Mrs. Eva P. Gallant, wife of Henry W. Gallant, and daughter of the late Rev. W. W. Howe, died at Saint John, N. B., on August 24th, aged 37 years. Sister Gallant had been in poor health for some time but yet her death came as a shock to all who knew her. She was a member of the Reformed Baptist Church and attended when able. She is survived by her husband and her aged mother and adopted son, Robert; two brothers, Samuel J. Howe and William T. Howe, both of Saint John.

The funeral service was held on Saturday afternoon and was conducted by Rev. H. C. Archer, assisted by Rev. P. J. Trafton, interment taking place at Fernhill cemetery.

"WAS THAT SOMEBODY YOU?"

Tom Carter, the evangelist, told this in one of his messages: While he was holding meetings in a Pennsylvania town, a young man who had formerly lived next door to the parsonage committed murder. The whole community was stirred. Mr. Carter and the pastor obtained permission to visit the young man in his cell. After telling him his own story of conversion in a prison, Mr. Carter and the pastor succeeded in leading him to Christ. Then the newly-saved man addressed the pastor and sadly said, "To think that I lived next door to you for months and you never told me anything about Jesus until I came here! If you only had, I probably never would have become a murderer."

Are we overlooking any close-by opportunities?—Evangelical-Messenger.

CORRESPONDENCE

Millville, Me.

To the Editor of The Highway:

I want to express my sincere thanks to the ministers of the R. B. Churches for their kindness in getting a tomb stone for my brother, Rev. C. R. Hagerman, which Brother E. R. Watson, of the Millville circuit, ordered a year ago. It has just come and has been set up, and is a nice stone. It surely shows the true Christian spirit of God's children. I pray that God will bless you all and bless your work as you labor for the Master. Am glad that I have anchored in Jesus and that he saves and sanctifies.

MRS. EDWARD APPLEBY

Everett, Mass.

Dear Readers of The Highway:

I want you to know I am still travelling on the upward way. I love to read your testimonies in The Highway. Jesus is still the One altogether lovely. We cannot extol Him too much. He doeth all things well. There is much suffering in the world today." He doth not afflict willingly, or grieve the children of men." He suffered more for us than tongue can tell. David said it is good for me that I have been afflicted. Our afflictions here work out for us a far more exceeding and external weight of glory. We will keep watching for His coming, then we will be forever with Him.

In love,

SISTER J. H. SABEAN

PASSION FOR SOULS

Passion for souls is an indescribable zeal, earnestness, and enthusiasm, which is calm and quiet but intense and irrepressible.

Jeremiah (20:8-9) expresses it in his prophecy. When God's Word became to him only a cause of daily derision and reproach, he determined to keep silence and no more make mention of his name: "But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not stay."

There is a secret fellowship with God where we get this heavenly fire kindled within, and it makes personal work for souls easy, natural, a relief, and a rest. To linger in God's presence until we see souls, as through his eyes, makes us long over them with a tireless yearning.

This passion for souls is probably the highest product of spiritual communion for God. It absorbs us, and even our own salvation is forgotten in that passionate yearning which made Moses ready to have his name blotted out of God's book for Israel's sake, or Paul willing to be anathema for the sake of his brethren.

It seems to me that such passion is the highest form of unselfish love, and the nearest approximation to the divine motive that impelled the Lord Jesus Christ to empty himself of his original glory and majesty, and assume "the form of a servant," enduring even the cross.

No man can kindle in himself that celestial fire; it must come from the live coal from the altar above.—A. T. Pierson.
