

MINISTERS AND CHURCHES

I have resigned my work as pastor of the United Baptist Church at Winter Harbor, effective July 1, and am open for a call wherever the Lord may lead.

REV. J. A. MOSES.

Rev. Roosevelt Benson wishes to announce that he is open for a call to a pastorate for the coming church year.

Lic. Scott Ingersol wishes to say that he is open for a call to a pastorate for the coming year.

Dear Brother Dow:

Enclosed please find a money order for $1.50 for my renewal of the "Highway" for 1951. Please pardon the delay in sending the money.

Of all the religious periodicals I receive, the "Highway" is one of the most appreciated. Both Mrs. Hobson and I read with interest the column "Ministers and Churches." I appreciate very much the valuable spiritual writings contained in your paper.

With Christian greetings to you and to all our friends among the Reformed Baptists, I am

Yours sincerely in Him,
REV. RALPH HOBSON.

Dear Brother Dow:

I would like to make known the fact that this is my last year at Bethany, and am open for a call to pastoral work, or wherever the Lord may lead.

In Christ,
SCOTT INGERSOLL.

NOTICE TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS

Whereas the dates on the label of your paper of the time your subscription expires are not always plain enough to be read easily, and whereas several have written in asking how much they owe; we have decided to send statements to those in arrears of the amounts due on your paper. This will mean added expense, and work for us, but we will do all we can to help our subscribers to pay their renewals for we need the money to pay the printers.

Thank you,
EDITOR.

TIME ENOUGH TO PRAY

There is always time enough to pray as we ought.

And we ought to pray a good deal—not as we go merely, but in time apart, in secret, when we are doing nothing else but praying. There is no life so busy, so crowded, that it does not need such a prayer season as a daily habit; and there is none that cannot arrange this.

The trouble is that we do not have time to do it, simply because we do not want to do it. Yet prayer is the chief activity in the Christian life. Nothing else that one can do ever equals real prayer in importance and results. The lack of prayer accounts not only for the lack of efficiency, but also for the actual breakdown of character. The devil has always time to look after the man who has no time to pray. The increasing encroachment of even Christian activities upon our time of secret prayer means Satan's increasing advance into our life.

At any cost, we must pray, and pray much. Nothing will cost both the Kingdom and ourselves so much as to take time from prayer for other service; for prayer is both the power and the output added to our Christian service.

A LOST OPPORTUNITY

In the early days of the late Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman's ministry he was asked to visit a young man who was dying, and the friend who invited him to call made the request that he should not speak to him about dying or becoming a Christian, suggesting that he should first of all win his confidence, and then on the following day, perhaps, introduce the subject of religion.

"I made my way to the room," says Dr. Chapman, "and sat down for half an hour talking to the young man about the music and the politics of the city. Then I rose to say good-bye, taking his cold, white hand in mine, without a word concerning his future. Just as I reached the door I turned my face back, and his great eyes seemed to burn me through and through. To this day I have not forgotten the look of them. I went to my home, but could not rest.

"Early next morning I went back to the house, and touched the door-bell. The door quickly swung open, and I was making my way up to the room, when the maid of the house called me back, and said, 'Do you not know, sir, that he died half an hour after you were here yesterday afternoon?' I do not know what any other man would say about it, but I have always felt that when I stand at the Judgment Seat of Christ I shall be expected to answer a question as to why I let that man slip into eternity without a warning."
—The Dawn.

NOT AFRAID TO CONFESS CHRIST

"Ye shall be witnesses unto Me" (Acts 1:8).

In one of our meetings a little tow-headed Norwegian boy stood up. He could hardly speak a word of English, but he got up and came to the front. He trembled and the tears trickled down his cheeks as he said, "If I tell the world about Jesus, He will tell the Father about me." That was all he said, but I tell you in those few words he said more than all the rest of them, young and old together. They went straight down into the heart of every one present. "If I tell the world"—yes, that's what it means to confess Christ. —D. L. Moody.

BE FAITHFUL

Never mind where your work is. Never mind whether it be visible or not. Never mind whether your name is associated with it. You may never see the issues of your toil. You are working for eternity. If you cannot see results here, remember that God does see; and if you are faithful now, your works will follow you. And so do your duty, and trust in God.

—Alexander Maclaren.

True praying has the largest results for good. Poor praying the least. We cannot do too much of real praying. We cannot do too little of the sham. If we would learn the wondrous power of prayer, we must not give a fragment here and there—"A little talk with Jesus," as the tiny saintlets sing—but we must demand and hold with an iron grasp the best hours of the day for God and prayer, or there will be no praying worth the name.—E. M. Bounds.
