

The blessing God gave began farther in and deeper down. Power was conditioned. The faith that sanctifies begins with the cleansing of the heart."

WE MUST PRAY!

Harry E. Jessop

One of the dangers in the prayer life is the reliance on the emotional urge. It is never difficult to pray when one feels like praying; usually the times when real prayer victories are won are periods when opposition stiffens and hell throws its weight against us. Then, in spite of all else, we must GIVE OURSELVES TO PRAYER—Acts 6:4.

Until prayer becomes a conscious MUST with us we shall never grasp its real value. If to us it is just an extra, a sort of spiritual luxury, enjoyed according to the whim of the hour and neglected when not in the mood for it, we shall never know its true worth. We make it a part of our schedule, part of our life, as much so as the practice periods in the career of a musician.

All this is demanding. It will take time, strength and power, and whatever else there is in us. We must put ourselves into it. Literally, it will cost ourselves. The cost will determine the conquest. It will be in proportion to what we put into this prayer business that we may expect results. God's giving in prayer will be in proportion to our giving to prayer. Lord, teach us to pray.

DO IT WITH A SONG

Somehow the task seems lighter
When we do it with a song;
It stills the heart's complaining
And keeps the courage strong.

No lot seems very grievous,
Nor filled with cares the day,
When love takes up the burden
And sings along the way.

Somehow, though skies are gloomy,
Or roads are rough and long,
He will not lack for comrades
Who travels with a song.

BETHANY HAS RECORD ENROLLMENT

Wednesday afternoon, September 5th, the seventh annual registration of Bethany Bible College proved to be the largest in the history of the school. Forty-three full-time students have been enrolled in the school's two departments, thirty in the High School Department and thirteen in the Bible Department. The full-time students last year numbered thirty-three; thus a thirty per cent increase has been realized. There are prospects of the enrollment being increased further by the coming of late registrants.

The majority of the students are newcomers. The Maritimes, Maine, and Rhode Island are represented by the student body. Miss Harriet Bailey, of Newport, Rhode Island, arriving by a TCA plane, spent less time in travel than students coming from points in New Brunswick.

The increased student body has necessitated additional expenditures: Furniture has been purchased for dormitory rooms; desks are being ordered for classrooms; the working staff has been increased. The crowded living quarters of the girls are indicative of future expenditure for a new dormitory; the present building could not suitably accommodate another girl.

The activities of Thursday included an orientation program which was designed to acquaint the student with life in a Christian boarding school. Friday morning classes were started. In the evening, faculty and students participated in an informal reception.

The school opens this year under the leadership of Rev. Norman Trafton, B. A., the newly-appointed president.

Mr. Trafton, who is a native of New Brunswick, received his elementary and secondary education in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. He is a graduate of the former Port Maitland High School.

Mr. Trafton continued his studies at Annesley College, Ottawa, Ontario, where he was a student in theology. He later attended Eastern Nazarene College in Wollaston, Massachusetts, from which he received his B. A. degree.

Mr. Trafton is a minister and the son of a minister. He has been in the ministry for the past twelve years, during which time he has served charges in the U. S. and the Maritimes. His father was the late Rev. P. J. Trafton, esteemed and beloved of The Highway family.

Mrs. Trafton will serve the college as dean of women.

Mr. Wilfred Green will replace Mrs. Vesta Dunlop Mullen as a teacher in the High School Department and will also assume the duties of High School principal.

For the past five years Mr. Green has been a student at Mount Allison University, Sackville, New Brunswick. A year ago he received his B. A. degree, and last May he graduated with a B. Ed. degree.

Prior to his entering university, Mr. Green served four years in the R. C. A. F. Three of his years in service were spent overseas.
