BOOKS - FOR - BETHANY CONTEST

Both the Fort Fairfield and Fredericton Societies will be sending in donations of books in the near future. Due to local circumstances they were not able to send the books in before the closing date of the contest.

The sponsors of this contest greatly appreciate those who gave books. In most cases donations were made by the older ones in our churches and by our friends. Probably some of you parted with books you valued either for practical reasons or sentimental reasons. Our only consolation is that possibly the books will have a wider ministry at Bethany. Your reward will not be a material one.

The value of the contest to the School is difficult to estimate, because it is impossible to determine the actual value of each book. However, there is no doubt that the contest receipts would be reckoned in the hundreds of dollars. (Most of the books are in good condition and many of them are valuable). To have bought the books received at their original prices doubtlessly would have cost a great deal over a thousand dollars. Evidently an accomplishment has been realized which the School itself would not be capable of doing for some time.

The faculty and students were excited about the contest, too. There was always a stir in the library when a new package of books arrived and was opened. All were thrilled to watch the book-case becoming filled from day to day.

Below is a table of the receipts.

KINGS COUNTY RESIDENTS OBSERVE 60TH ANNIVERSARY

Friday, November 14th, Mr. and Mrs. S. Hamlyn Bradley, well known and popular residents of Kings County, celebrated the 60th anniversary of their marriage. About seventy-five friends and twenty-one of their direct descendants called at their home in Grey's Mills to offer congratulations and best wishes on the occasion of their diamond jubilee.

Roses and crysanthemums were attractively arranged in the dining-room and living room which were very suitably decorated for this special occasion. The table was centered with a beautifully decorated tier wedding cake. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Bradley were made the recipients of many beautiful gifts. Besides these gifts the popular couple have received nearly one hundred well wishing cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley are both of United Empire Loyalist descent and still live on the original Crown grant, No. 17, now known as Elmsdale Farm. It has always been in the family name. They were married in Long Reach on Nov. 14th, 1892, by Rev. H. S. Wainwright of Trinity Church. Mrs. Bradley, prior to her marriage was Miss Margaret May Williams, eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Williams, of Long Reach and Kingston. Mr. and Mrs. Bradley are both past 79 years of age.

Mr. Bradley, who is a retired farmer, served his king and fellow-citizens in the capacity of Rural Mail driver for twenty-eight years. Until two years ago Mr. Bradley did colporteur work for the British and Foreign Bible Society and is well known throughout our fair province as he has covered most of it during his twenty-two years part time as colporteur.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley have had nine children, fifteen grandchildren and one great-grandchild. All are living with the exception of one grandchild.

The nine children are: Miss Eldora Bradley, Wollaston, Mass., Miss Margaret Bradley, Greys Mills, Mr. John W. Bradley, St. John, Mrs. George E. MacCallum, Edmundston, James H. Bradley, Moncton, Rev. Ernest R. Bradley, Lowell, Mass., Alice A. Bradley, R.N., Greys Mills, David E. Bradley, Greys Mills, Mrs. R. Parks, Calais, Me.

Eight of the children, seven grandchildren and their great-grandson, Stephen Bradley, Lewisville, were present. This is the second time that there has been the four generations in the Bradley family. Twenty-five years ago it was on the maternal side, and at the present time it is on the fraternal side of the family.

During the evening Rev. Douglas Ramsay, Pastor of the Long Reach, Jerusalem charge of the United Church, Rev. P. H. Green, Pastor of the Reformed Baptist Church of the Nazarene, Lowell, Mass., in short addresses extended felicitations of the friends and relatives present and paid tribute to the high place in the community in which they have resided all their married life.

A poem composed by Mr. Leland Wilson to commemorate the 60th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Bradley was read by Rev. R. H. Parks.

An enjoyable evening was spent in music and song after which a buffet luncheon was served by friends and relatives.

Miss Joyce Bradley, Lowell, Mass., was in charge of the guest book.
