THE SUMMER IS ENDED

Thinking of this season of the year brought to our mind those solemn words, "The harvest is passed, the summer is ended, and we are not saved." In that scripture the "summer" could also be rendered "fruit gathering", thus giving the "harvest" and the "summer" a like meaning. The thought is that normally summer is to be a time of harvesting, or fruit gathering.

It is the spiritual significance of this we are now considering. We are not now thinking of the souls garnered in through the special evangelistic efforts of the summer months. Rather are we remembering that those efforts provide us with wonderful opportunities to gather spiritual fruit for the feeding of our souls, the blessing of our lives, and to share with others who are in need. Now the summer is ended and its time of fruit gathering is passed. What spiritual harvesting, what gathering of precious fruit did we do? What real and lasting benefits have we appropriated to ourselves from the camp meetings and campaigns of the summer? What a store of gathered fruit we all ought to have! It is sad indeed that some must still confess, "The harvest is passed, the summer is ended, and we are not saved." But how faithfully, and believingly, and joyfully, did we gather for ourselves and others from the abundance available to us?

It is true that we cannot live simply on the blessing of other days, but the people who are best prepared for the will and work of God in the present are those who made their summer a time of spiritual fruit gathering. While the summer months have ended and that period of harvesting is passed, they will benefit long from the fruit they so wisely gathered.

"HIGHWAY" RENEWALS

The notice on this page regarding "Highway" subscriptions is an important one, calling for attention and a ready response. Previous announcements and appeals have brought little response from either pastors or people. We make this new appeal with the earnest hope that our readers, whose subscriptions have expired, will renew them immediately. We want to keep them on our mailing list for their sakes

CHRISTIAN PERFECTION

Entire sanctification is that which makes a man a fit dwelling place for God's rest and consecrates him for service. It illuminates with a Spirit-revealed light but demands a constant search for additional light—an advance toward the perfection of God. It requires a yielding of our love to His love, and a life of glorification to Him. It purifies the intellect, subdues the senses and controls the will, thereby establishing impregnable fortifications against sin. Its range is threefold, body, soul and spirit. In its intensity it is complete—"wholly." The source from whence it comes is the Holy Spirit. The end is blameless before God at His coming, a worthy walk.—Christian Perfection.

MAY HE COUNT ON YOU?

When the trumpet sounds to battle with the strong and wily foe,
And the hosts of our Immanuel
to the earnest conflict go,
Will you prove that you are loyal?
Will you prove that you are true?
For devoted, faithful service,
may the Master count on you?

There are those who follow Jesus
when there is no cross to bear,
And refuse the burden-bearing
and the toils with Him to share;
Oh, it grieves the blessed Master
that their hearts are so untrue;
Surely for a better service
the dear Lord may count on you?

Are you fully consecrated to the service of the Lord?
Are you ready on the battle-field
to wield for Him the sword?
Are you one among the faithful?
Are you one among the true?
And for steady, life-long service
may the Master count on you?

—Elisha A. Hoffman.

YOUR CARE IS HIS CARE

It is the trial of our faith, whatever form it may assume, that is to be found to praise and honour and glory at the appearance of our Lord and Saviour. How near temptation brings us to the great Unseen, if we meet it in the spirit of faith! How necessary it makes God to us, and that our only safe attitude is one of sustained dependence.—Hay Aitken.

PREACH THE WORD

A man knowing no better way of pointing newspaper readers to Christ inserted weekly advertisements in his local paper, one of which reads as follows:

"If every living person knew what every departing soul discovers, everyone would be saved today. Therefore Act! Send for tracts and booklets showing 'How to be Saved.'" His address was then given.

Riding home from work a street car poster caught the attention of a young woman. It read: "Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." The words pierced her heart. She sought out gospel meetings and there accepted Christ as her Lord and Saviour.

By every means given us we must point souls to God. The Knights of Columbus started in 1948 a newspaper campaign to make converts to Catholicism. Recent reports show as a result 28,000 persons have enrolled for Catholic Instruction by mail. A total of 403,315 requests were received for information about Roman Catholicism.

Protestants Awake! Use your local papers, use posters, use every means known to get the gospel to dying men, and, whatsoever you do, back it by mighty, prevailing prayer!

A PLEA TO PARENTS

Dr. W. Leon Tucker told this amazing incident: Dr. Percival, a busy surgeon, was a Christian. He had one daughter, Kitty, whom he loved devotedly. One day she came to her father and told him she was going as a missionary to China. He said, "Kitty, I forbid you ever to go out of my sight." At last she gave up plans for going and married. She had two darling children. I lived next door to Doctor Percival. One day he told me that he had to give up his surgeon's license because of the condition of his eyes. Later he had to have an operation on his eyes. When the bandages were taken from them, his doctor said, "In two weeks you will be totally blind."

Dr. Percival sent for Kitty and the babies to come. He carefully felt their faces and seemed to get a mental picture of them in his finger-tips. He took me out into the light and "looked" at his pastor. It was a sad day in our block, and everyone was weeping.

Months later I went out to lunch with Dr. Percival. I had to help feed him. As he walked home I could see that he wanted to say something. "Say it, Doctor," I said. "Dr. Tucker," said he, "do you think that God is retributive?" I told him I did not believe it. He said, "Tucker, I told Kitty that she could never go out of my sight. Wherever you go, plead with parents to keep out of the way when God calls their children into His service."

God has a plan and purpose for each life. Do not stand in the way when He calls!

—From Gospel Herald.

JESUS OUR LORD

If you are prepared to crown Jesus Christ as the Lord of your life, you have instant and constant victory, and if Jesus Christ is not the Master of everything in your life, your hopes, those tendencies of yours, that will of yours, those insistent desires and yearnings, and determinations, everything—if Jesus Christ is not Lord of those, He is not Lord of all.—Dr. Griffith Thomas.
