REV. AND MRS. C. SANDERS WRITE FROM LONDON, ENGLAND

Dear Friends,

The prospect of furlough brings mixed feelings to the missionary. There is the anticipation of seeing the friends left in the homeland and being refreshed by fellowship with them. But there are also feelings of sorrow at leaving many Christian friends in Africa, both among the white and the black people. It was hard to part with the little band of faithful missionaries, and the larger band of native Christian workers. It is hard to leave a work that is faced with a large opportunity, and struggling to find the right solution to many problems. A work that needs more prayer, more manpower, and more ways and means. However, we are glad to know that God's will is best, both for us, and for His work. And we feel that it is God's will for us to leave them and come home to you at this time. We pray that we may keep in His will.

It was a busy time for us preparing to leave Africa. There were special trips, and special meetings, besides the regular services. Then there was the packing to do and the many farewells to be said. Those last few months are packed with interesting and treasured memories.

Our Superintendent, with the mission pick-up, and the Morgans, with their small Austin truck took us from Vryheid to Durban; and the Morgans were able to be with us a few days before we embarked for Canada.

We are now in England after 19 days of sea travel with only three stops: Cape Town, Woluis Bay, and Las Palmas on the Canary Islands. On a whole it has been a nice voyage so far. We greatly enjoyed the Christian fellowship, as we gathered every morning in the ship's theatre for morning devotions. We docked at Southampton, then came up to London by train. Our next boat leaves on June 9 so we have a few days to see a few of the many places of interest in this old and famous city.

We appreciate the prayers of God's people as we journey homeward. We are glad too for your prayers for Myra's mother in her illness at this time.

The Lord willing we shall be seeing you at Beulah and probably at Riverside too.

May God bless our work in Africa and also in the homeland.

Yours in Him,

C. D. M. Sanders and Family.

DR. CHARLES B. CULVER'S PASSING

We have received word that Dr. Charles B. Culver, deputational secretary of the Oriental Missionary Society, went to be with the Lord on Tuesday, May 18th. Dr. Culver made a great contribution to missionary work, having served many years on the field and rendering very effective service in deputational work since returning to the homeland. His five children are all missionaries.

We are sure that Dr. Culver's many friends among our people will prayerfully remember the sorrowing loved ones, and the Oriental Missionary Society in their great loss.

A CHALLENGE

By Mrs. H. C. Sanders

"Ask of me and I will give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession." Psalm 2:8.

Rev. Eugene A. Kierstead's letter in Highway of May 31 tells of more thousands of heathen we may have, if we are willing. Souls for which Christ died, and we may win them for Him.

As at the founding of our work we, as a small people, accepted the challenge and, by faith, undertook to save the heathen at the cost of self-denial and sacrifice. It was not an easy task for either the Missionaries on the field, or those at home who held the ropes while we went down.

It will be the same today if we accept this challenge and enter these "three open doors" mentioned by Brother Kierstead who also says: "If we had had a spare Missionary and if we had had sufficient finance to build a church, we probably would have had a church site in a new location to which 70,000 natives are to be moved shortly" etc.

In most of those different tribes of various languages, many of these understand Zulu. There are those who were born or brought up in Africa and understand Zulu like a native.

Where is the money? God knows and has the keys of His storehouse. I hear Jesus say: "Whatsoever ye ask the Father in My name He will give it you."

Shall we not arise and ask for a part of those 70,000 heathen souls?

Yours in Jesus for more heathen souls,

Mrs. H. C. Sanders.

MRS. C. SANDERS' MOTHER PASSED AWAY

Arrows for Leaders....

"Faith is not for firesides, but for battlefronts—for road builders and chasm spanners."
"Pentecostal praying and preaching will bring persecution; but they will also bring expansion."

"Our duty as leaders is to pull men off the hospital beds of idleness and thrust trowels into their hands."

"No candle upon the altar of the Church will ever substitute for the flame of faith in the heart that scorns prejudices, disregards propriety, and goes where the sick and wounded lie."

"Fellowship is not strengthened by a perpendicular likeness, but by horizontal tenderness."

If two Christians break fellowship, it would seem that one or the other, and possible both, have broken fellowship with God."

"When the Church is ablaze with holy fire, there is no trouble finding workers—they volunteer readily, and go anywhere there is an opportunity for service."

"Let every leader in the cause of Christ realize in personal Christian experience all that he desires to see in the lives of those to whom he ministers."

"An old mariner gave five characteristics to a wise pilot. He must be familiar with (a) the port; (b) the signal lights; (c) the course; (d) the hour; and (e) the North Star."

"The crying need of the hour is fourfold: (a) recapture the field; (b) rediscover the simplicity of the Gospel; (c) restore the richness of true Christian fellowship; and (d) regain the vision of a lost world."

"The teachings of Christ can be summed up mainly in three areas: (a) a holy life; (b) full and loyal obedience; and (c) utter self-forgetfulness. This is the most effective method of teaching, for those who are leaders."

"Even in the holiness movement we have preachers who preach essential doctrine but who have no personal experience of the sanctifying and abiding presence of the Holy Spirit. The result is that the doctrine loses its charm and attractiveness."—Exchange.
