

THE LITTLE GIRL'S PENNY

Nearly seventy years ago, a little girl who knew and loved the Lord Jesus, and who longed to spread His name among those who knew Him not, gave a Christian missionary a penny to help to spread the Gospel among the Burmese, to whom the Lord's servant was going forth with the Word of Life. That penny was all that the dear child could give; it was all that she possessed, and it was given with the heart. The missionary remembered the child's penny while in that far-off land, and he invested it in the name of the Lord, by purchasing with it a gospel tract. That tract was given a young Burmese chief, and followed by prayer. He could not read it, but so strong did the desire become to know the meaning of the words of the little tract that he travelled two hundred and fifty miles to get someone to read it to him. God spoke to the heart of the young chief through the words as he heard them read. He believed the Gospel, and was converted to Christ. Then he returned to his people and began to tell them what the Lord had done for his soul. He invited missionaries to come and preach to his people, and many heard the Word, received the Saviour, and became true and devoted followers of the Lord Jesus. All this sprang from the little girl's penny, given for Jesus' sake, with the desire to spread His Gospel among the lost. How great a fire this little spark kindled! How vast the growth from this tiny seed! A little done, even by a child—if done for Christ—will have results. If you are saved, go thou and do likewise.

HOE YOUR GARDEN

Saint Francis of Assisi, hoeing his garden, was asked what he would do if suddenly he were to learn that he was to die at sunset. His quick reply was: "I would finish hoeing my garden."

If the future looks dark, it has looked that way many times before; and however dark it seems today, however dark it is, we shall meet life if we have fulfilled the present responsibilities to the best of our ability.

Today is still ours along with the obligation to live it to the full, and, as Saint Francis said, we must go on hoeing our garden.—Cumberland Flag.

OUR HOPE

Anne Catherine White

A shout!
A trumpet note!
A glorious Presence in the azure sky
A gasp,
A thrill of joy,
And we are with Him in the twinkling of an eye!

A glance,
An upward look,
Caught up to the Christ forevermore
The dead alive!
The living glorified!
Fulfilled are all His promises that came before!

His face!
His joy supreme!
Our souls find rapture only at His feet!
Blameless!
Without a spot!
We enter into Heaven's joy complete!
Strike harps,
Oh, sound His praise—
We know Him as we never knew before!
God's love!
God's matchless grace!

'Twill take eternity to tell while we adore!
