ANSWERS TO PRAYER

at the increase in numbers attending. Then he took me to show him the house and room. It satisfied him. The road or street to the place was like an open field with tall grass, making driving difficult and dangerous. He said he would try to get the responsible party to have it cleared out for us! (I was so glad as I have often gotten colds from walking through the wet grass to tend my patients).

Then the doctor told me something that made me fairly jump for joy, viz., that he thinks that the Town Board will soon try to undertake to build us a suitable building for me to take cases in, instead of having such hardships as I have had to endure in many of the homes. He knows as no one else what I have had to put up with—and what a hard job it is anyway.

He is so helpful and I was surprised he was so understanding and sympathetic. He asked about my girl for the Clinic. I told him I had at last got one, day before yesterday, and was trying to break her in. He said he hoped we could get a trained one after awhile to help me! My! How thrilled I was. How my heart went up in praise to God! The Women's Institute has become interested in this work, through him, I believe, telling them of the financial situation, that there was no money on hand for supplies and how he had gotten these for us on credit. They became concerned and gave half of the amount they had raised, with some other purpose in mind, for the Clinic—L25.00., about $75.00. So here was further cause to rejoice and praise the Lord.

I truly feel these are indications of God's blessing upon this work and I do thank you dear friends who are so faithfully upholding me in prayer—for my body, mind, and spirit as some one put it, for I know He is going to continue to answer "the fervent, effectual prayers that avail much."

It is a true proverb, "Look for a thing where you dropped it; it is there." So look for Christ where you lost Him, for He has not gone away. Did you lose Christ by neglecting the Scriptures? Then you must find Him in the Scriptures. Have you lost Christ by restraining prayer? Then it is there where you must seek and find Him. He ever awaits you.—C. H. Spurgeon.
