AN EVANGELIST TO CHILDREN

A good pastor knows the children of his community. Not simply the families from which they come, but the names of the children and the things in which they as individuals are interested. Unless the pastor knows his boys and girls in this intimate fashion, he cannot truly evangelize them. Leading children into the Christian way of life involves:

An understanding of child nature and needs.

A sincere desire to be a friend of the child.

A willingness to give time and study of the task of helping the children find in the church and in their pastor real help in growing Godward.

A burning desire that no child in his community shall be deprived of the opportunities of the church.

It was John Wesley who once said, "I met the children—a task that should challenge the talents of the most able preachers in Europe."—Mrs. R. R. Branton, in The Pastor's Journal.

ADONIRAM JUDSON'S RULES OF LIFE

1. Be diligent in secret prayer, every morning and evening.
2. Never spend a moment in mere idleness.
3. Restrain natural appetites within the bounds of temperance and purity.
4. Suppress every emotion of anger or ill will.
5. Undertake nothing from motives of ambition or love of fame.
6. Never do that which at the moment appears to be displeasing to God.
7. Seek opportunities of making some sacrifice for the good of others, provided the sacrifice is not inconsistent with some duty.

"FALL YOUTH CONVENTIONS"

Our Young People's Association has made definite plans for two conventions — one in Perth on Oct. 11 for the Aroostook District, and one in Fredericton on Oct. 25 for the Central New Brunswick District. Two others are in the planning stage.

These conventions are primarily arranged to assist local presidents and pastors in planning and promoting youth work in their churches. If we are to have a strong Reformed Baptist Young People's Association, we must have strong local societies.

We want to emphasize the importance of every young person (not just presidents) attending the meeting in their district. Most of our churches are within at least one hour's driving distance to Perth or Fredericton, and it would be lots of fun for carloads of young people to drive to the convention.

We would like the very best co-operation from our pastors in this new endeavour, and I sincerely believe our presidents, pastors, and young people, after attending the convention, could go back to their home churches with a wealth of program and promotional ideas and a new interest and enthusiasm for this most vital department of our church work.

YOUTH WORK IS IMPORTANT . . . and with more organization, interest, and enthusiasm, plus much prayer and the Spirit of God, we will be able to advance the cause of Christ and Youth in our churches.

Merle E. Smith,
Denominational Y. P. President.
