FROM BEULAH YOUTH CAMP 1958

Greetings from 95 Youth Campers at Beulah Camp. On this Wednesday afternoon, the sky is clear, the sun is bright, and we are having a memorable week of wholesome recreation and wonderful fellowship.

On Monday night it was a scene to remember when twenty of our Campers were seekers at the tabernacle altar. Some were there to be saved; others were there to be sanctified. Under the rich ministry of our youth evangelist, we are all growing up spiritually. We want to be a greater help than ever before when we go back to our churches. Thank you Moms and Dads, Churches and Sunday Schools for sending us to Youth Camp. We believe you have made a sound investment in us.

We are being well cared for. Not least of all, the food is good! We are praying that every Camper will know the Lord by the end of Camp. We shall be seeing you soon.

With love to all,
Beulah Youth Campers.

"PUBLIC PROTEST"

Dr. Clarence Cranford tells of the editor of a newspaper near Philadelphia who announced that his paper was going to publish a series of articles telling how to use beer and wine in cooking. Many church people grumbled about the plan, but nobody did anything. One church woman decided on a course of action. She called ten other church women, who in turn called other church women. They arranged to phone the editor on a certain day to register their protests. The editor tried answering the first few phone calls politely, but as the fury of the protests mounted, he turned the phone over to his secretary and left town for the rest of the day. The articles on "How to Cook with Beer and Wine" were never published.

"THE BEST"

A radio comedian told of a small town which had four bakeries on the main street. The first bakery carried the sign over the door, "The best doughnuts in America." A block farther away another bakery had on its sign, "The best doughnuts in the world." Another sign a little farther down the street read, "The best doughnuts in the universe." Then several blocks farther away, a smart baker had put up this sign, "The best doughnuts on this street."

It is easy to talk about the kingdom of God in general, but the important test is actually practicing the principles in our own community.

What happy things beginnings are, but it is the steady going on that counts, the going on when the excitement has subsided and there is no very evident mounting up with wings as eagles, or running without weariness. The call then is to sheer faithfulness. That is the time to count on the sustaining grace of God who enables His followers to walk and not faint.

MARYSVILLE SOCIETY REPORTS

Dear Young People,

Greetings from the Marysville Society! As it has been quite some time since a report has been received from our society, we feel a report is due.

We are happy to report that our services are well attended by the young people, and we feel God's blessing is on each service. Our capable president, Buddy Pond, has worked faithfully to provide us with food for spiritual growth.

Our revival services with evangelist Rev. Annie Laurie Greiner proved to be of great spiritual help to us as young people. A number were saved, reclaimed and sanctified. Most of them now have a ringing testimony, are showing a keen interest in the church work, and pressing on into greater victory. Our evangelist was loved by the young people, and many of us came to love our wonderful Lord as never before. We are trusting that conviction will continue on those who have not yet yielded their hearts.

Our Youth Rally in Moncton was greatly enjoyed by our young people, and we were very proud to return with the banner, which we will endeavor to retain! We are keenly anticipating our Youth Rally at Beulah this year.

May God's blessing be upon each Young Peoples Society.

In His Service,
Ruth E. Symonds.

MEN OF INTEGRITY

God give us men in times like these
With hope and courage strong,
Men like Daniel in days of old
Who'll stand against the wrong.

God give us men in times like these
With hearts and purpose true,
Who'll stand for right with all their might
Despite what others do.

God give us men who will not swerve
From all that's fair and just,
From faith in Thee through war or peace
A steadfast perfect trust.

God give us men with vision keen,
Men of integrity,
Men who will put their hand in Thine,
Lead with humility.—War Cry
