A special service in the interest of Bethany Bible College brought the great challenge of this project to us. Messages from the President and Chairman of the Board, announcements concerning developments in the relocating of the School, plans of the new buildings, as conceived and drawn by Rev. R. H. Nicholson, and presentation of a $500.00 cheque, with promise of a similar amount next year, (this toward the fund for new buildings) were features of this good service.

Hotel and dormitory service at the Camp was of a high order. Rev. Stewart Steeves and his hotel staff did wonderful work in respect to meal service, and Rev. To a regular army of workers we owe sincere thanks for service rendered at the Camp. So many tasks related to this great project, and so many cheerful, consecrated workers. Thank God for each and all. And praise to the Lord for all the privileges, blessings, victories, of this wonderful Camp.

The Camp closed in traditional manner. An informal service of song and praise following the last preaching service, hearts and voices united in song by hundreds encircling the Tabernacle. And, through the grace of God, "we shall still be joined in heart (through the year), and hope to meet again" (at Beulah Camp of 1960). Amen!

Alliance Action

The business sessions of this year's Alliance opened on a note of solemnity and sadness when the Alliance Superintendent announced that word had been received of the sudden death of Dr. Oliver G. Wilson. Dr. Wilson had been evangelist at both Riverside and Beulah Camps in recent years and was also special speaker at this year's Youth Rally and Ministers' Conference. He was beloved and respected by our ministers and people and the word of his translation was a shock to all. Resolutions of sympathy to Mrs. Wilson and the family, and the Wesleyan Methodist Church, were passed during the Session.

The King's Highway

A resolution deploring the extravagant expenditure of the peoples of our lands for alcoholic beverages, and expressing alarm at the increase of alcoholism highway accidents, domestic discord, and moral dissipation, resulting from drinking and drunkenness, was given unanimous support. Included in the resolution was an appeal to the government of New Brunswick to resist steadfastly all pressure for sale of intoxicants in hotels, restaurants, grocery stores, and other public catering places. Copies of the resolution are to be forwarded to the Premier, Attorney General, and Leader of the Opposition, of N. B.

Business of the Alliance was cared for in smooth and orderly fashion under the guidance of the Superintendent. Rev. F. A. Dunlop. There were no statements or scenes unbecoming to a Christian assembly. And, according to traditional procedure, we were adjourned to meet "at the time and place" next year. May the providence of God attend us in the labours of the intervening months!

THE REEF FIELD CALLING

Today was right out of the ordinary run of Sundays. Mary and I set off for KALFONTEIN, that fast growing Native Township destined to accommodate 125,000 Natives. We are in the throes of a severe cold spell, and a breeze was driving the cold home. Before we had gone far a light shower added to the misery of man and animals exposed in the open. However we did not turn back as we would ordinarily have done, seeing all our services are in the open in Kalfontein.

Our first reason for going on was a very happy one; the Lord has sent a Native worker for this needy corner of the REEF FIELD, and we wanted to be with him on his first Sunday there. Secondly, Mary had made up a bundle of used clothes (sent out by you dear people) and surely it was an opportune time to deliver these. The Reef is much colder than our other fields, especially when these extreme spells come our way.

Timothy Dhlamini, our good preacher at Altona, having felt the Lord's call to work in Kalfontein, was brought up, with wife and six children, by Charles and Glendon. We settled him in the little shack the authorities supply for each family, on Friday the first of May. Do praise the Lord with us for this able Worker! We have been so concerned for those who have given themselves to follow the Lord. May the Lord bless Timothy and his
