

Seal Cove, N. B.

Dear Highway Friends;

Greetings! We feel to praise God from whom all blessings flow. Since it is some time since we last reported, we want you to know that our God has been good to us.

Words would never be able to tell how much we appreciated the good folk of Wood Harbour, N. S. We left them with mixed feelings and their contribution of love and devotion will not soon be forgotten. Not only did this spirit prevail in our own Church, but throughout the community and near-by communities. This thoughtfulness was expressed when we were asked to have our farewell service in the United Baptist Church, at which time Churches from Shag Harbour, Wood Harbour, Forbes Point, and Charlesville, joined together in giving God the praise for the great things He had done.

Nevertheless, we are thankful that God has called us here to Seal Cove, for here we find a similar people, who already have expressed their love to us as their pastor. The spirit that prevails here in the Church, causes us to feel that God is with us and we're praying that He will give us a gracious revival.

We feel to thank our good folk here for making our home so comfortable, as it has been all newly decorated inside. Also for all the many gifts of food that they have brought in to us.

We feel that the Church here has been blessed in having some of the choicest men of our denomination, and we would ask your prayers as we labour with these good people. Our prayer is that we might have the privilege of reaping some of the good seed that has been sown.

We are labourers together.

OUR SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Rev. Ralph Hobson

Director of Sunday School Promotion

In as much as interest in our denominational Sunday School Attendance Contest was not too encouraging last year there will be no contest this fall. However, I would urge our Sunday School teachers and officers to promote greater attendance in our Sunday Schools this fall and winter as a means of evangelism. Evangelism means to reach souls for Christ and proclaiming the gospel message. Teachers should take advantage of the Sunday School period of creating an opportunity of making a direct approach to the soul of the Sunday School scholar. Make this your purpose in teaching.

I would suggest to pastors and Sunday School superintendents that they endeavour to arrange for Sunday School conventions or workshop periods. These can be very advantageous for your Sunday School. In my missionary deputation ministry I will be in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Maine from time to time and will be glad to conduct S. S. conventions in your district or workshops in your churches. Write me for suggested dates to P. O. Box 62, Wollaston 70, Massachusetts.

NOTICE

Because of a misunderstanding regarding forwarding mail of the Highway editor during vacation period, many items appearing in this paper should have been in the previous issue. We are sorry for the delay in publication.

TENT MEETING AT DIGBY

Reported By R. H. Nicholson

From the very first, in making plans for the tent meeting at Digby, there was evidence of God's approval on the effort. The problem of getting a place to pitch a tent, a place to board, lights, and renting a piano, were cared for without any delay. Our song evangelist, Paul Mullen, moved his trailer on the lot next to the tent and his very capable wife, Carrie, provided good food for the evangelistic team. We feel indebted the Grant family for giving us a very comfortable room in their home, at the inconvenience of the family. Brother Grant also helped out in every way he could. We were happy to see him so greatly improved in health and still having a strong call on him to be back in the work. It looks as if he could do a greater work in the future than in the past.

The ministers and their people on that whole district, including Brothers Burbury and Whittie from Woods Harbor, and Shelburne, made special effort to support the meeting. Rev. Handley Mitton came over from Beulah on the first week-end and helped us with the advertising and making contacts with some families he knew. We appreciated his assistance and enthusiasm for the work.

In spite of the above-mentioned contributions to the meeting which made us feel that God was with us, we also were aware that the devil was on the scene. First a Circus moved into town, then a carnival blared out in opposition for another full week and along with this the mosquitoes came in clouds to the tent and carried on their campaign of disturbance to the end in spite of the insecticide we so profusely sprayed over the area. However the Lord was with us. The crowds continued to increase until on the last night the tent was packed. Whole families were stirred and we saw some real victories at the altar. Christians, outside of our work, came regularly from distances to support the services and they are looking forward to another tent meeting next year.

Brother Paul was so thrilled that he felt challenged to stay on and care for the work. However we rented a suitable building and announced regular services under the direction of Rev. Gerald MacKinnon from East Ferry. Brother MacKinnon worked with us throughout the campaign and I am sure he and Sister MacKinnon will do a good work in Digby. Let us pray for these workers: let us pray for a great holiness work in Digby.

A building fund has been started. Send all contributions to

REPORT ON RIVERSIDE CAMP

Rev. J. A. Owens

We rejoiced greatly as we saw ministers and laymen gathering for the yearly Camp Meeting at Riverside. Each one had a contribution to make, and service was rendered wholeheartedly.

There was a good response to all services and many found help in the Lord. Praying, testifying, walking in the light of holiness, people found victory. Blessed be God!

Our evangelists, the Musical Bertolets, preached, played, and sang the message of the Gospel, and were a blessing to all.

The hotel had been redecorated through the labours of Rev. and Mrs. H. O. McGeorge and Rev. and Mrs. Neil Rice, improving the appearance of the interior of the building greatly. The Tabernacle platform had been brightened by a coat of paint applied by Brother Brost.

Thanks is due to all who through patience and labour made possible another great Camp Meeting. To God be the glory!
