

Ministers and Churches

A fine group of evangelists and song evangelists are available to our churches this year, as our readers will note from the slate appearing in the Highway. Good preachers all and excellent song evangelists. In recent years many pastors and churches have deplored the shortage of such workers. We may well be thankful for this better situation. The slates of these workers are filling up so those interested in engaging them should write without delay.

The resignation of Rev. H. R. Ingersoll as General Secretary of the New Brunswick Temperance Federation has been accepted with regret. Officers of the Federation paid high tribute to Brother Ingersoll in respect to his service to the Federation during the past three years, and extended good wishes for success in his office as Superintendent of our Reformed Baptist Alliance. A new General Secretary of the Federation will be named at the annual convention which is slated for Moncton, N. B. Nov. 1st.

A record number of people occupied cottages at Beulah Camp during the summer months. And building operations on the grounds continues with old cottages being repaired, remodelled, and enlarged, and more new ones being erected. And the new Beulah Book Room building is near completion.

Splendid reports of missionary rallies conducted by Dr. and Mrs. Emmett are reaching the Highway editor. Wonderful offerings in many instances. The Emmetts are scheduled to complete their Maine New Brunswick tour at Moncton on Sept. 18th., and will then visit churches in Nova Scotia Sept. 20-Oct. 2, finishing their N. S. tour at Bethany Bible College. Tentative plans for farewell service cannot be finalized until sailing date (in mid-October) is confirmed by Kerr Steamship Lines. Present prospects are that the Emmett family will be sailing from Saint John during the week of Oct. 9, but there is the possibility of their having to embark from Montreal.

And Sunday Oct. 9th. has been designated as "Home Mission Sunday" by our Home Mission Board. Let's give this department of our work, and the men who represent it so well, a convincing expression of our appreciation of their services and our faith in a continued advance on the "home front" by breaking all records in Home Mission Sunday giving!

THE POSITIVE AND THE NEGATIVE

Keep reminding yourself

That we all have our little neurosis."

In the face of a giant social evil that is getting away with murder on our highways, and in criminally inspired deeds: that enslaves its millions and leaves its moral wreckage about us on every hand, genial dispositions and understanding gestures are inadequate to the needs of the situation.

Again I would plead for "angry men" and "fighting words" and some resounding negatives to strengthen our working positives.

DEATHS

Mrs. Edna Blanche Black passed away at the Fredericton City Hospital Aug. 21 after a lingering illness. She leaves to mourn her passing her husband, Orland Black; two daughters, Glenna, at home, and Muriel (Mrs. Vaughn Mitton, of Dorchester, N. B.); three sons, Leslie, of Wollaston Mass., Robert and Victor of Fredericton, N. B., also four sisters and one brother.

Sister Black was a consistent follower of her Lord and a faithful member of the Salem Reformed Baptist Church.

The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. H. E. Mullen writer at the United Baptist Church, Havelock, N. B., Aug. 23. Assisting in the service were Lic. Harold Arbo, Rev. Ralph Ingersoll, Rev. B. C. Cochrane Rev. R. G. Morehouse and Rev. Stafford Hutchinson.

To the sorrowing ones we extend our heart felt sympathy.

Evangelist Fred G. Strickland, of New Glasgow, N. S., finished his earthly course Sept. 6th. He was in his 80th year.

Brother Strickland had a fruitful ministry for more than forty years. He pastored the Truro Gospel Mission for nearly twenty years. This work was conducted for many years in the building which is now occupied by our Reformed Baptist Church.

Brother Strickland was widely known and highly respected. He was a very effective evangelist and a rugged preacher of the Word. He is survived by his wife and three daughters.

To all who mourn the loss of loved ones, we extend Christian sympathy.
