

Wonderful days of fellowship for ministers during the Ministers' Conference at Woodstock! The churches cannot but benefit from these Conferences through the help their pastors receive.

Miss Janet Delong, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Delong, has been in ill health, but is much improved, and will graduate in nursing at Deaconess Hospital in the near future.

We regret to learn that some of our ministers are not in good health. Rev. H. N. Kimball, of Mattawamkeag, Maine, is suffering from acute arthritis; Rev. Kenneth Jewett of Sandford, Nova Scotia, has been forced to take some time off from his work because of a heart condition; Rev. E. R. Watson is in poor health. These brethren would appreciate your prayers and a card conveying your thoughts of them.

"The Small Woman", Miss Gladys Aylward, missionary to China and Korea, spoke in our church at Saint John, N. B., May 24th, under the auspices of World Vision, Inc. A capacity congregation heard this dynamic personality in a soul-stirring missionary address.

Rev. Neil Rice, of Houlton, Maine, is booking appointments for evangelistic campaigns in the future. Brother Rice is available for meetings after Alliance and Camp Meeting. A gifted and dedicated man, Brother Rice has natural and God-endowed ability for the work of evangelism.

Rev. J. A. Moses assisted Rev. B. D. Price in special services at Springfield, N. B., recently.

Several new cottages are under construction at Beulah Camp. And the Beulah Grounds Committee are working on arrangements for a Trailer Park to accommodate more than a dozen of these "houses on wheels" expected for the Camp Meeting period.

Prospects of a record crowd in attendance this year. And Alliance only a month away!

Pray for the Alliance and Camp Meeting, not forgetting Youth Camp. Let us do much special praying during the month of June for the special events coming on during the month of July. In secret, around the family altar, in the church services, yea, "without ceasing", let us pray!

the meandering walks, the broad-bosomed river, the blossoming flowers and shrubs, the historic Tabernacle located at the centre of the hallowed encampment. Many people speak of coming under a sense of the heavenly when they arrive on the grounds.

John Bunyan never visited Beulah Camp, but he must have had a vision of it! So it would seem from the following taken from Pilgrim's Progress: "Now I saw in my dream, that by this time the pilgrims were got over the Enchanted Ground, and entering into the country of Beulah; . . . whose air was very sweet and pleasant; the way lying directly through it, they solaced themselves there for a season. Yea, here they heard continually the singing of birds, and saw everyday the flowers appear in the earth, and heard the voice of the turtle in the land. In this country the sun shineth night and day; wherefore this was beyond the Valley of the Shadow of Death, and also out of the reach of Giant Despair; neither could they from this place so much as see Doubting Castle. Here they were within sight of the city they were going to: also here met them some of the inhabitants thereof; for in this land the shining ones commonly walked, because it was on the borders of heaven. In this land also the contract between the Bride and the Bridegroom was renewed; yea, here 'as the bridegroom rejoiceth over the bride, so doth thy God rejoice over thee.'" Here they had no want of corn and wine; for in this place they met with abundance of what they had sought for in all their pilgrimages."

"The air very sweet and pleasant . . . continually the singing of birds . . . the flowers appear in the earth . . . out of the reach of Giant Despair . . . within sight of the city they were going to . . . on the borders of heaven . . . no want of corn and wine . . . abundance of what they had sought for in all their pilgrimages . . ." Could we better describe the beauties and blessings of our own beloved Beulah?

How significant and suggestive the statement ". . . the way (of their pilgrimage) lying directly through it, they solaced themselves there for a season". This is a blessed fact that many cherish. The course of life leads directly to and through Beulah Land once a year, and there sweet solace for the soul is found. From the place of refreshment and renewing we turn with deeper devotion and stronger purpose. The ties of Christian love are stouter as we join hands for the farewell song, and because of this we have a heartening assurance that living and serving in the Kingdom of God will be richer and more fruitful.

Blest bonds of Beulah! How strong and sacred! They bind us to God and one another as a "threefold cord that is not quickly broken". May the gracious ministry of this beloved Bethel reach a very high level this year, and may the influence of Beulah continue to save and bless until the heavenly Bridegroom appears!
