

quality was to the advantage of those who are more concerned with truth and consistency than mere adherence to what has been believed and taught by some who had leaned too far in the direction of personal conviction. Always true to the doctrine of holiness. Dr. Failing challenged some of the ideas that may have been held by the holiness people to the weakening of their cause.

The altar services were not large, not nearly as large as they have been some years. But there were some good victories, and many were blessed in great measure by being led to discover that they did not need to go to a public altar. We need more evangelists that are more concerned with helping people than strengthening their reputation for getting large numbers of people as seekers.

A ministry such as Brother Failing rendered at Beulah will continue to bless and help throughout the weeks and months ahead.

Song Evangelist Cedric Landers gave good direction to the general musical programme of the Camp. There were many fine contributions made by special singers, and the Camp Choir was the finest we have had, in the opinion of the writer. For the work of this group, we are particularly indebted to Mr. Ronald Mitchell, choir director of our Moncton church. Dr. Failing stated that a choir of this size and calibre was unique in the Camp Meetings of the Continent. Brother Landers' organ renditions were superb. He brought everything out of the Hammond organ from fog horns and boat whistles to trilling bird song. It was a thrill to hear him play.

And what shall I more say? for time and space would fail me to tell of all that was good about this year's Camp Meeting and all who contributed to make it a time of blessing and spiritual uplift. It was better felt than told. Those who were present will enjoy living it all over again and will have an increasing appreciation of the privilege of being there. And those who were absent...we hope that you will be there next year!

Christianity isn't worth a snap of your finger if it doesn't straighten out your character.

BETHANY ENHANCES ITS CURRICULUM THROUGH MUSIC, CORRESPONDENCE COURSES

This coming fall Bethany will offer an attractive music program to the public under the direction of Miss Carolyn Pocock of Westfield, New York. Miss Pocock will teach private lessons in piano and voice (as well as organ, if the demand merits and the facilities are obtainable). Miss Pocock also will teach lecture courses in song leading, theory, appreciation, and harmony of music. These offerings will make it possible for students to take a course concentrating in music with one or two Bible subjects or business subjects. Miss Pocock will train a school choir and smaller vocal groups.

Miss Pocock's qualifications surely will recommend her to the public and to other educational institutions in their evaluation of our work. She attended Houghton College, being graduated in 1958 with a bachelor of music degree. During the summer of that year she studied at the American Conservatory of Music (summer school of the Paris Conservatoire) at Fontainebleau, France, under such teachers as Mlle. Nadia Boulanger, Mr. Clifford Curzon, and Mr. M. Robert Casadesus. Miss Pocock began work on her master of music degree at Indiana University in September, 1958, studying piano with Dr. Bela Nagy, who was formerly professor of piano at the University of Toronto. Her residence work was completed in June, 1959, and her recital requirement was finished in July, 1960. Miss Pocock's teaching experience includes three semesters at Fort Wayne Bible College, Fort Wayne, Indiana, where she taught piano, organ, theory, and music appreciation. Her experience also includes work as a private teacher in piano.

Miss Pocock is coming to Bethany with a conviction that the Lord is guiding her and with an enthusiasm about the challenge of developing our music department.

Another significant development in the school curriculum is the beginning of a correspondence department, especially for the laity. The first course will be offered this September, a Survey of the Old Testament, prepared by Rev. L. K. Mullen under the auspices of the college. Mr. Mullen brings considerable training and experience to the task of preparing this course. He holds two bachelor degrees from Eastern Nazarene College, one in arts and one in theology. He also holds a master of arts degree from Boston University. A former instructor at Bethany, Mr. Mullen has lectured a number of years in the field of Old Testament.

This correspondence course is intended to give lay people a working knowledge in the Old Testament — an insight into its history, great principles, and spiritual truths. The course is not considered to be beyond the ability of our average lay person and few need hesitate to enroll.

The course is planned to run approximately forty weeks from September to the first of June. Two examinations will be given: one in early January and one in early June. Students doing satisfactory work will be given certificates. When the student's progress is rapid, examinations may be given ahead of schedule. In the material sent to the student guide questions will be given at the end of each chapter.

The tuition fee for the course is ten dollars, which may be paid in September in one payment or in two payments made in September and January. Approximately seventy laymen have enrolled to date. Interested parties are advised to write the Registrar now so that sufficient material will be prepared.
