BEULAH CAMP

"Beulah" is a name which has many traditions associated with it. These traditions are meaningful to old and young alike. At this season of the year, "Beulah" is almost a watch-word among our people. It is one of the main topics of conversation. We feel confident that many of our young people are thrilled at the prospects of attending Beulah Camp again this year. We are equally confident that there will be a blessing in store for each one attending the camp.

Perhaps the greatest traditional benefit of Beulah is that its name is synonymous with blessing. Having visited the camp several times already this season, we have been made to realize the atmosphere of a place which provides an opportunity for young people to fellowship together, which is helpful to spiritual growth.

As we visited the grounds, we thought of great camp evangelists of the past. We thought of Young People's services and special activities for young people. Then, there was a sort of a wish, even a prayer, that many of our young people might get to Beulah again this year. The reason for this desire is largely that Beulah is a camp which young people can't afford to miss. At Beulah, youth make decisions for Christ. At Beulah, young people have an opportunity to do personal work for the Lord in leading others to Christ. At Beulah, youth have an opportunity to allow their religion to express itself in its fullest meaning. Beulah is a place for youth. Let's see you at Beulah.

INGRATITUDE

There was a time when faith began to slip,
When I had lost all that I had to lose—
Or so it seemed to me—I lost my home,
My job,
I had no house, no food, no shoes,
Then suddenly I felt myself ashamed,
For I, who talked of shoes,
Then chanced to meet
Upon the busy highway of my life,
A man
Who had no feet!
