

Ministers and Churches

A special service was held in the R. B. Church at Lower Hainesville, N. B., Sunday, June 25th., in memory of Mr. Robert Haines, a Christian layman associated with the establishment of the Lower Hainesville church. A capacity congregation attended the service which was conducted by the pastor, Rev. B. D. Price. A Communion Set was dedicated in memory of Brother Haines, a gift to the Church by the grandchildren.

Mrs. B. D. Price, was injured in a car accident June 26th., suffering chest injuries. At the time of this writing (June 28th.) she is in Victoria Public Hospital, Fredericton, N. B.

Victory and blessing was enjoyed in revival meetings at Killams Mill and Salem, N. B., churches, with Miss Sheila Graham as evangelist. Some outstanding victories were registered in these meetings which ran a week beyond the scheduled period.

Rev. H. E. Mullen has accepted a call to pastor the Nazarene Church of Elmsdale, Prince Edward Island, during the coming church year. Brother Mullen and his wife have already moved to P. E. I., taking up their work the first of July. The prayers of our pastors and people will follow them to this new field of labour.

Lic. Gary Lyons, who has been serving as pastor of our Yarmouth, N. S., church during the past year, has accepted a call to the Hartland, Lower Brighton, Victoria Corner, N. B., churches.

Revs. L. K. Mullen and N. E. Trafton will attend a Pastor's Conference at Colorado Springs, Colorado, July 20-27. Dr. Raymond Edman, president of Wheaton College, Wheaton, Illinois, will be chief speaker at the Conference, which will include workshops and seminars on pastoral work, special studies in soul winning and pastoral counseling, and other subjects related to the work of the ministry. Our churches at Woodstock and Barker's Point, N. B., are sponsoring this trip of their pastors and paying all expenses. It is the hope of both pastors and people that information and inspiration gained through attendance at this Conference will prove of great benefit to the churches sponsoring this plan, and subsequently to other churches of our denomination. The Camp, called Glen Eyrie, is sponsored by the Navigators, a Christian organization particularly interested in aggressive personal evangelism. Brothers Mullen and Trafton will leave Fredericton July 18th, travelling by air via Toronto and Chicago.

Rev. and Mrs. E. A. M. Kierstead are scheduled to leave New Brunswick on their return trip to Africa July 14th. Brother and Sister Kierstead will be in attendance at Alliance and Beulah Camp Meeting until the day of their scheduled flight. They will be the feature speakers at the Beulah Missionary Rally Thursday, July 13th., at 7.30 p.m., and will leave the next morning.

By the time this Highway reaches our readers, the Alliance and Beulah Camp Meeting activities will be well under way. May a volume of prayer ascend to heaven from the hearts of those gathered at the Camp and those who are at home, that a memorable time of blessing, power, and victory may be experienced on historic Beulah Camp Ground this year!

At the Sunday morning service, June 4th, in the Moncton Church, the pastor dedicated beautiful oak Pulpit Chairs and Communion Table, presented to the church by Mr. George Vaughan and his daughter Shirley (Mrs. Merle Smith) in loving memory of Mrs. George Vaughan, who, last September, went to be with the Lord.

The church greatly values this lovely memorial to our beloved sister.

SPIRITUAL WORSHIP

presence, real, caring, comforting, strengthening, chiding, rebuking, ever present, ever able, ever willing.

Do you know what it is to love a friend or a relative who is absent? The only contact with whom may be by way of letters, if at all? Do you know what it is to sense the presence of one whom you have "loved long since and lost awhile?" Do you also know what such experiences can do to keep one's heart true and free from alien affections? Not all who have experienced separation from loved ones have been able to maintain the sense of their reality and unbroken devotion to them. Perhaps the greatest tragedies of war have been the vows broken by distance and love shattered by absence, when a form that was near became more meaningful, though loved less, than the true love who could only be retained in heart through faith's strong cord.

My own mother passed away more than thirty years ago. Knowing my sorrow and aloneness a lady, widowed by the loss of husband and two sons, sought to be a mother to me. She even asked that I accord her the title. But that I could not do in spite of all she meant to me over a period of twenty years. And today there is a reality about my mother that continues to linger. It is more than a physical recollection, because I go at times to a photograph to refresh my memory of her face and form. But the mother who lingers is the one who gave her wee son to God in an hour of severe physical crisis; who, in the midst of great suffering sang softly at her house work or sat at the old pedal organ playing hymns in the darkness when church attendance was denied her; whose faith in God was more constant than spectacular; who declared that she wasn't hungry in the pinch of lean winters so that her children could eat; and who slipped away home one day to the strains of "O Lamb of God I come."

No one but a skeptic of the deepest dye would attempt to rob me of this reality of my mother's presence. By the rehearsal of the experience, faith in the reality of the presence of Christ springs up anew. If human ties can be so strong and if their severance only gives way to a stronger "tie that binds," how much more should the presence of Christ be real to us as we seek to worship Him "in spirit and in truth."

the youngest and most immature member of the fellowship in that city.

The blessing is for you now! Entrance to the highway is conditioned by consecration and faith. "If we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin" (I John 1:7).
