THE PERMANENCE OF PENTECOST

Without unity, without power—is a law of life. Personality wrapped up in sin and self is without unity. Personality wrapped up in salvation and the Saviour is unified. Purity makes possible unity. A purified personality meant unified personality with a new life power. It was the power of the indwelling God. It was power to trust and power to triumph. It was power to defy Satan and defeat sin. Such power enabled the Christian to sacrifice himself to save others. It strengthened him to face life. It steadied him in the face of death.

The Christian life demands purity. It demands purity because it demands devotion. And no man can be devoted to God while disposed to self or sin. Not only must the blight of sin be forgiven—the bent of sin must be cleansed. The fact of Pentecost makes possible the experience of Pentecost. It is God in us, flooding us with life and filling us with love. Purity will release the resources of power. Power to live and sacrifice—power to lift and serve.
