YOUTH RALLY PROBLEMS

How would you solve the Youth Rally growth problem? Last year 330 young people registered for the rally. This year we expect a considerable increase which could reach the 400 mark.

Should we split the rally and have two, or should we raise the registration fee to $10.00 which would cover the cost of accommodations? Both of these plans present problems. The former one would probably create the feeling of an incomplete rally. The latter one might be too expensive for our young people.

The pressure of growth is forcing us to make a decision. We are thinking seriously of splitting the rally every other year. One could be held in the Woodstock area and one in the Moncton area. However, neither of these churches could accommodate the young people in their auditoriums.

This gives you some idea of the growth of our youth work since both of these churches entertained the rally quite comfortably several years ago. We would appreciate any comments on this "split" idea for 1964.

This year's rally promises to be a grand rally. We were fortunate to be able to engage Rev. Quintin J. Everest, South Bend Indiana, as special speaker. Mr. Everest is one of the best speakers we have heard, so we are assured of excellent preaching.

Special music will be provided by the former Barker's Point Trio, Moncton's Male Quintet and the Bethany choir. These will assure us of the best in music.

We were able to rent the Marysville school auditorium for our rally, which we believe is an answer to prayer, and the work of William LaPoint and Douglas MacCallum. This auditorium seats from 500 to 600 people. This will be a great asset to our rally.

Hundreds of our young people from various areas of our denomination are looking forward with anticipation to our Spring Rally which is the greatest event in the youth work of our church.

Merle E. Smith, President.

INBRED SIN NOT FORGIVEN

By McLaughlin

Inbred sin never was forgiven, and never can be forgiven, either in this world or the world to come. It is not one of those things that forgiveness could touch. Forgiveness is granted only for those things that we do; not for what we are by nature. Inbred sin is not a deed, but a state. No physician forgives a disease. A child disobeys its parent and enters upon a course that destroys health. A deadly fever is the result. He sends for his father and is forgiven for his acts of disobedience, yet no rational man would say that is all he needs; no sane man would say that you can forgive disease. He needs to be healed as well as forgiven. The forgiveness of the father does not cure the sickness. He needs something beyond that—another work that requires a physician to heal.

SAVED FROM ALL SIN

By J. B. Chapman

Surely no one can answer the following questions in any but the affirmative: Is God able to save us from all outward and inner sin? Then there is one more question that is not so simply answered, "Why does God not save me from all outward and inner sin and make me free and holy just now?" But the answer to this is, after all, not so far to seek. God is able and willing to save from all sin. If therefor He does not so save me it is because I do not this moment submit myself to the divine processes according to the conditions laid down in the Bible. The responsibility for any sin that may yet remain in me is my own responsibility. Christ is able and willing today.

A BIT OF PRAISE

Consecrated Christian young people, with zeal, enthusiasm and a burning desire to be doing something in the interest of the Kingdom, is one of the most valuable assets of the church. We feel that we have this kind of young people. Their interest in the Kingdom of God, and loyalty to our denomination are greatly to be praised.

Let me go a bit further with well deserved praise. For several years now some of our young people have chosen employment in communities where Home Mission churches are located. Their lives of consistent Christian conduct and support of these new works is also worthy of note.

Already some are making plans to find employment in Dalhousie, N. B. where a new Home Mission project is to be undertaken at the beginning of the next church year.

May God continue to bless the efforts of our young people who have such a fervent desire to make a mark for Him.

M. W. Bagley,
(Home Mission President).

8. Points of Interest:
The Hudsons are our newest missionary couple. They arrived on the field in September 1962. They are also the first new missionaries to fly to their field of duty.
9. What they do:
Cheryl works as a nurse at the Bethesda Hospital.
Gene is teaching principal at Bethesda Schools and holds services at several outposts.
