

An organization service took place on Monday, October 14, in which the Liverpool Reformed Baptist Church was organized with seven charter members. The guest speaker was Rev. M. W. Bagley, Home Mission Board president. Pastor Ole Kent reports a baptism on September 15 with five being baptized. As Highway readers we rejoice with Brother and Sister Ole Kent in this great achievement in Liverpool, N. S. May God continue to bless this pastor and this new group of brothers and sisters in the Lord.

Rev. P. W. Briggs is still in the Fredericton Hospital suffering from a serious blood ailment which has required surgery and continued medical attention. Let us pray for Brother and Sister Briggs during this very difficult time.

Rev. H. O. McGeorge reports that special services will be held at Amherst, Nov. 1-10, with Rev. Juddie Peyton, Mount Hope, West Virginia, as evangelist.

H. R. INGERSOLL SPECIAL SPEAKER

Rev. H. R. Ingersoll and Dr. H. K. Sheets were the special speakers at a Ministers Institute of the Champlain Conference, Wesleyan Methodist Church, held at Watervliet, N. Y. October 8-10.

DENOMINATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL NEWS

The Month of NOVEMBER is to see us in OUR ANNUAL Denominational Sunday School Contest. Our Theme this year is "COUNT for CHRIST." All the material should now be in the hands of the Pastors and Sunday School Workers.

We are asking for a 100% participation in this venture. YOUR SCHOOL can SEE WONDERFUL GROWTH and even REVIVAL through this effort. ALL PASTORS and SUPERINTENDENTS Please see that you send in your CONTEST FORMS with $2 for entrance fee, as soon as you receive notice of the contest.

We shall follow the same idea as last year, awarding prizes to the first and Second Schools of each group. YOUR SCHOOL CAN WIN. ALL SCHOOLS CAN see an increase in attendance. Please work at it and make sure that EVERY person possible in your area is informed about the Contest.

OUR NEED OF STILLNESS

"Be still, and know that I am God." Psalm 46:10

For some time, things had not been going satisfactorily according to my poor limited vision. World situations were distressing and far beyond any solution that I had to offer. Business was not going as in my judgment it should go. I felt keenly that I had been taken advantage of, and spent much of the night turning restlessly in bed. Tensions, frustrations, impossible situations, disagreement among those trusted friends, all plagued me. At the close of the second day, when the night had settled and nature was putting itself to bed, there came from memory this portion of the psalm learned long years ago, "Be still, and know that I am God." It came with such force, with emphasis upon each word such as no man could give it, my heart melted. A song, seasoned with happy tears, was sung within my soul, "Be still, and know that I am God." Very much of our trouble and anxiety arises from our useless chatter, from our ceaseless activity, from our reliance upon our own wisdom. We have a guilty feeling if religion is not doing something. We want progress but back of progress must be peace. One does not need a
