QUOTES FROM DR. ROY S. NICHOLSON

(Beulah Evangelist, 1964)

"Every temptation presents to us the opportunity of doing the opposite of what the temptation suggests."

"God is not satisfied until He dwells in man. Man is not satisfied until God dwells in him."

* * *

"Sometimes we insult people, not by our convictions, but by our method of practising them."

* * *

"Unless we are careful we shall begin to think that all goodness was in the past."

* * *

"Intense human desire is not necessarily the will of God."

* * *

"I believe in a crisis filling of the Holy Spirit but also that God can keep us filled."

* * *

"We're working ourselves to death instead of praying ourselves alive."

* * *

"Jonah was swallowed by a whale; most of us are nibbled to death."

* * *

"Practical holiness is the product of blending doctrine, experience, and life . . . This produces Scriptural saints."

* * *

"The great peril is the peril of conformity."

* * *

"No degree of grace will excuse any degree of disregard for the will of God."

"The Holy Spirit does not do for us what we can do for ourselves."

THE YEAR AHEAD AT BETHANY

The staff and returning students look forward with anticipation to another year at Bethany. The "oldtimers"—happy about the outstanding year completed—have been infected with a Bethany enthusiasm, and contagion is taking place among the youth of our denomination. Several of the high school graduates of last June are planning to return (much to our delight) to take the one-year Christian Development Course and to continue further as God leads. Among these are Leslie Ingraham, Hanley Richardson, Raymond Mitchell, and Wayne Blinn. The grade ten pupils, almost without exception, are returning to take grade eleven. The second and third-year Bible students plan to return with only one exception. We expect to have our male quartet intact and most of our choir.

Personal conversations, correspondence, applications and reports indicate that there will be a healthy influx of new students in both the high school and Bible departments. Some former students plan to give up their work and return to Bethany to take Bible studies, among these is Harry Wilson. A former student who "found victory" at the recent Beulah Camp affirmed her intention to take the Christian Development Course. "I am tired of saying, 'I can't!'" she commented, referring to her unpreparedness to serve Christ in the local church and community.

We know of high school graduates who are considering taking the one-year Christian Development Course before going on to teachers' College and further professional training and of others who are thinking of taking a year off from teaching to enroll in the Christian Development Course. These developments indicate two heartening facts: (1) There is an increasing concern on the part of our youth to be strong and effective Christians in their particular walks of life (2) They are coming to appreciate the Christian Development Course as a means to that end.

CONCERNING THE HIGH SCHOOL

Pupils entering grade ten this year will be prepared for the transition to take N. B. grade eleven the following year when the school opens in Sussex. In particular, physics will be introduced this year in grade ten. With this adjustment no serious difficulty is anticipated in the transition.

As announced previously, all high school pupils will be required to take a period in Bible and in music appreciation without additional charge.

CONCERNING MUSIC COURSES

We feel that Bethany has something invaluable to offer our youth in the field of music. First of all, we offer the instruction of Miss Carolyn Pocock, M.M. We offer, too, the opportunity of practical experience within trained musical groups and through public ministry. Singers of ordinary talent untrained in reading music who doubtlessly would have been bypassed in large schools have found an opportunity at Bethany.

We pray that in the will of God many youth will join the Bethany family and realize the benefits which we believe await the sincere and the diligent.

APPLY NOW

Applications are being received now. If you contemplate enrolling, we ask you to write to the Registrar now. A minimum of two weeks is required to process an application. Address the Registrar, Bethany Bible College, Yarmouth, N. S. (Opening date is September 16).
