TO PUNISH AND NOT TO RESTORE

"An offender must be punished: I don't argue about that; but to punish and not to restore — that is the greatest of all offenses. If man takes unto himself God's right to punish, then he must also take upon himself God's promise to restore. There's a hard law — that when deep injury is done to us, we never recover until we forgive."

—Alan Paton, South Africa

A SENSE OF PURPOSE

In whatever work you do, you should feel a sense of purpose and a sense of achieving your personal goals, remembering that the quality of the work you do is public evidence of the kind of person you are inside. That work, no matter how routine or complex, is you, and for this reason you owe it to yourself to bring to the performance of your work the highest sense of responsibility, effort and determination."

—Frederick R. Kappel, Changing Times

Believe In God

It's easy to believe in God

When burdens are light and few;
When everything seems to come our way
And friends are kind and true.

It's harder to believe in God

When burdens grow heavy to bear:
When faith is dim, and hope has fled,
And no one seems to care.

But we must believe in God,

Our burdens He's promised to share;
Our hopes He'll revive, our faith renew,
If we trust and never despair.

Mildred Tokley
