In 1900!

"I occupied a house in 1908 which had a Cumberland Wood Furance. I understand that the same furnace is still giving satisfactory service after being installed for twenty-four years. When I built in 1914, I decided to install another. During the last eleven years it has given me entire satisfaction. I have yet to spend the first dollar for repairs."—W. H. Piers, Halifax.

If you want a furnace that will last till at least 1950 (25 years, like the one mentioned by Mr. Piers), send for the booklet "Remembr When." It tells what to look for in a furnace, pipe or pipeless.

CHILD LABOR IN SHANGHAI MILLS

Between 20,000 and 25,000 boys and girls under twelve are employed in modern or semi-modern industries in the Shanghai area alone, and many of the children in the factories are said to have been brought by their parents while still babes in arms. Other little ones there are just beginning to do odd jobs, while children of six and upwards having taken their place as regular employees, receive from 6 to 12 cents for a twelve hour day. The child gets no general education and scarcely any personal attention. Hours of labor will be from twelve to fifteen a day.

VICKS VAPORUB

OVER 21 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

ORIGIN OF THE IRISH

Dr. Porkory, Berlin professor of philology, in a lecture at Dublin, laid in store a lot of trouble for himself when he suggested that the Irish are descended from Eskimos.

Can the Irish refuse Dr. Porkory's statement beyond the peradventure of a doubt? And what difference would it make if the doctor happened to be right, in view of what Mr. Darwin said regarding the origin of man? But Mr. Darwin was an Englishman, and there was no health in him! Meanwhile the fact cannot be escaped that Ireland depends largely upon legend for her early history. According to the more acceptable legends, she was first inhabited by various tribes of which the most important were Nemedians, Formorians, Firbolgs and Tuatha De Danann, who eventually who eventually were subdued by the Milesians or Scots. And although Ireland is mentioned under the name of Ierne in a Greek poem five centuries before Christ, and by the names of Hibrnia and Juverna in the works of various Roman writers, little is known with certainty of her inhabitants before the Fourth Century after Christ.

Dr. Porkory, in view of thes facts, may be right—and he may be wrong. At the same time it strikes us there is little choice to be had between an Eskimo and a Firbolg. And if Mr. Darwin is right, something certainly is to be said in behalf of the Eskimo as compared to the English naturalist's much talked about hairy gentleman.—Wilmington Every Evening.

A NEW TURN IN EDUCATION

That history lessons need reforming to take the stress off war and international conflict, and to place it instead upon the progress of man in civilization ,learning, character, and morality, was urged by a representative of the National Union of Teachers at one of a series of meetings

TO EXPECTANT MOTHERS

Letter from Mrs. Ayars Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Spring Valley, Sask.—"I took the Vegetable Compound before my last confinement, when I got to feeling so badly that I could not sleep nights, my back ached so across my hips, and I could hardly do my work during the day. I never had such an easy confinement and this is my sixth baby. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the 'Farmer's Telegram' and wrote you for one of your books. We have no druggist in our town, but I saw your medicine in T. Eaton's catalogue. I am a farmer's wife, so have all kinds of work to do inside and outside the house. My baby is a nice healthy girl, who weighed nine pounds at birth. I am feeling fine after putting in a large garden since baby came. (She is as good as she can be.) Yours is the best medicine for women, and I have told about it and even written to my friends about it."—Mrs. ANNIE E. AYARS, Spring Valley, Sask.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers, and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire system so that it may work in every respect as nature intends. All druggists sell this dependable medicine. Give it a trial.

The same speaker pointed out that the geography could be used to show the economic interdependence of nations; England draws corn from America, meat from New Zealand, oranges from Spain, and so on through the scores of articles necessary for everyday life. One teacher had actually made a syllabus of geography which based the lessons upon various products, tracing them to their source and describing the lands and people whence they came.

Zam-Buk SAVES POISONED LIMBS!

It was just a bad ankle that might happen anyone. But it serves to show how quickly blood-poison develops unless broken tissues have the protection of antiseptic Zam-Buk.

Mrs A. Harrison, Place-de-Armes, Kingston, Ont., writes:—"During household duties my left ankle was injured by a sharp projection. Stocking dye got into the wound and its poisoned condition alarmed me. My ankle took a turn for the better, almost as soon as I began with Zam-Buk. This powerful healer dispelled all pain, suppuration and inflammation. It healed perfectly."

DECEMBER ROD AND GUN

A wealth of good sporting and hunting reading matter leavened with a good fiction story, The Way of a White Man, is contained in the December issue of Rod and Gun, the magazine of the Canadian Outdoors, which has just been published. In addition to regular features of the magazine being in keeping with the period of the year, the other articles are very timely and Along the Snowshoe Trail in W. C. Motley's Outdoor Talk is particularly seasonable. Another refreshingly humerous cartoon by James Frise also appears.

An interesting article in connection with the increasing interest in fur farming is Bonnycastle Dale's contribution, The Life of the Black Fox, dealing with the animal in captivity.

A significant note in the matter of the protection of game is struck in the December editorial and the publication of the syllabus of the British Columbia Game Protective Association The development of a Dominion-wide protective association seems to be becoming more concrete. NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, J. M. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.
