Mr. and Mrs. James McEwen and son, Cecil, spent Sunday in Waterford the guest of friends.

LAST SHOWING OF HAROLD LLOYD

"The Freshman" is proving a community tonic. It has done more to make the people of Sussex happy the first three days this week than perhaps any other general public secular thing. Such pictures, when done cleanly and without recourse to hokum or indelicacies invariably win the public's approval.

The Imperial management is giving every boy and girl a chance to see this great comedy as the admission will be a dime only, barely covering running expenses.

If there are any of the few ladies that have not yet seen "The Freshman" the Imperial is cutting the admission price one half for the last showing, Friday afternoon at 3.45 and the admission will be a quarter only. See page 4.

IN MEMORIAM

McMASTER—In loving memory of James McMaster, whom God called Home, Friday evening, Nov. 28, 1924.

Gone, but not forgotten.

—Inserted by Wife and Family.
