The manner in which men of the sea rally to the aid of their comrades when wind and waves batter a ship to pieces was strikingly revealed when the Cunard liner Mauretania reached New York, Good Friday. Its log showed that when the freighter Laleham called for help on March 31, four ships turned from their courses and none gave up the race until the Laleham had been taken off all 37 of the Laleham's crew and the ill-fated ship had been set afire.

Overseas shipments of salmon and trout eggs going from Canada across the Atlantic and across the Pacific, and coming to Canada from Scotland, have been made with most remarkable success this year, it was said on Friday by J. Catt, Maritime Inspector of Fisheries for the Federal Department of Marine and Fisheries. A shipment of 25,000 landlocked salmon eggs obtained from Chamcook Lake salmon in Charlotte county and incubated at the St. John hatcheries until sufficiently developed to ensure safe transportation, was sent to Dublin, Sir Thomas H. Grattan Esmond having interested himself in the matter and arranged for the eggs being secured. A young Scottish chemist has invented a process for regenerating leather and other substances. The product is hardly distinguishable from real leather, and is about half the price of hides. The leather is first ground into a fine powder and any impurities removed. A small quantity of binding substance is then added, which turns it into a tough dough. This, together with a coloring mixture, is milled until the whole becomes a uniform mixture. It is then pressed on to a strong backing cloth.

He is presumed to have woke up with a start, wandered to the car platform, and fallen off while still half asleep. He is in the hospital at Davison.

A thrilling chapter was added to the romance of Newfoundland fishermen when three batterymen were, Saturday night, drawn up over the steep face of Sugar Loaf cliff from the narrow ledge just above the crests of the waves, where for more than 24 hours they had clung in a forlorn hope of rescue after their motor boat had become unmanageable and dashed itself to pieces on the rocks at the base of the cliff. She was born in London, Ont., and went to Detroit with her husband four years ago. Death, according to two physicians, was due to heart disease, brought about indirectly through the excessive use of tablets. Mrs. Warcup began using the reducing tablets last August, and in two weeks lost 52 pounds. Since that time she had been confined to her bed. Her weakened condition, due to the abnormal loss of weight, prevented her recovering, physicians said.

Death came suddenly to an infant, who had come to St. John on the Canadian Pacific steamship Montcalm on one of the special trains which was bearing the liner's passengers to points in the west, Monday. The child, whose name could not be learned, was traveling with its parents, and according to some of the passengers, had been in apparent good health since leaving the Old Country and had been playing in the coach during the day, showing no signs of being ill. The child, a girl, suddenly stopped playing, sat down in a seat next to her parents and died. A physician who was travelling on the same train, was called and making a brief examination said he thought the child had died from a lung ailment. On the arrival of the train at Montreal the body was taken to the morgue, where an inquest was held and the child was buried on Monday afternoon.

Tiny Traveller Terror of Ticketmen

Judith Mary Brasch, aged 3 1/2, of Notre Dame de Gesce, Montreal, who recently arrived in that city from the Canadian Pacific liner Montcalm, is probably the most travelled girl in the world. With that trip she completed 44,265 miles by land and sea and of these 20,000 miles were by railways in Canada, the United States and Australia, and every mile of them she was carried free. She started at five weeks old when she journeyed from Sydney to Melbourne, then on to Adelaide and back to Sydney again, a little trip of 2050 miles. But if the ticketman passes her when it comes to taking up fares, he always seizes for a little flirt with winsome Miss Brasch, for her roguish smile pays her way all over the world and everyone is glad to make her acquaintance.

Many Will Go to Chicago for Eucharistic Congress

Largest Special Passenger Traffic Movement in History of Canadian Railroads is Looked For.

According to advices received by Passenger Traffic Officials of the Canadian National Railways, one of the largest special passenger traffic movements in the history of Canadian Railroading will take place in June next in connection with the Eucharistic Congress at Chicago.

Preparations are being made in Chicago for the reception of more than a million pilgrims during the Congress, which will be held from June 20th to June 24th, and the problem of transport for this multitude is already engaging the close attention of both American and Canadian Railroad Officials.

The Canadian delegation will, of necessity, be a very large one, and will be thoroughly representative of the whole Dominion. Already the Canadian National Railways have contracted with various organizations for ten special trains from the Maritime Provinces as far west as Alberta. Most of these specials will be operated from Quebec and Ontario, but already enough travel is assured from the Maritimes for a special train to leave Moncton at or about 2.30 p.m., on Friday, June 18th. This train will reach Chicago early Sunday morning. The train equipment will be of the very best, and standard C.N.R. diners will serve meals en route. The return trip will be made by special, leaving Chicago Thursday, June 24th, allowing side trips to Niagara Falls and Ste. Anne de Beaupre, reaching Moncton on Monday, June 28th. Delegates from Saint John and all Maritime Province points, outside of Moncton, will make their connection with the special train by the regular C.N.R. train services.

This tour includes five days in Chicago, and a half day side trip to Niagara Falls. There will be one whole day at Montreal, and one at Quebec or Ste. Anne de Beaupre. It will be a notable tour under the very best auspices, and in the Railway Service there will be nothing lacking. All applications for transportation, fares and reservations on this special train should be made to Reverend Pilgrimage, care Bishop's Palace, J. E. Brown, Secretary of the Congress Saint John, N. B.
