WEDDING BELLS

Goold-Murray

A wedding of much interest was solemnized at Chalmers United church on Easter Monday morning, April 5, at 8.30 o'clock, when Miss Edith Maude Murray and George William Goold were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed by Rev. A. V. Morash. The sacred edifice was filled to overflowing with acquaintances of the contracting parties, both of whom enjoy a very large share of popularity, and command the respect and esteem of a host of friends.

The church presented an attractive appearance in its Easter decorations of potted plants and cut flowers.

The bride, who looked very winsome, wore a travelling dress of grey georgette, with hat to correspond, and a cape coat of navy blue, was given in marriage by her father. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Gertrude Sherwood, organist of the church

The groom, one of Sussex most esteemed young business men, is a son of Mrs. Annie R. and the late Herbert E. Goold, and the bride, who is a valued member of the Sussex school staff, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Selkirk Murray, is one of Sussex most popular young ladies. The bride was the recipient of many handsome wedding gifts.

The happy couple left on the East bound morning train on a short honeymoon trip, a large crowd being in evidence at the depot to tender congratulations and best wishes. On their return they will take up their residence in Sussex.

Sear-Anderson

An interesting wedding took place Wednesday afternoon, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Anderson, High St., when their daughter, Frances Jeanette, R.N., was united in marriage to William Roy Sear, the ceremony being performed by Rev. D. J. McPherson, pastor of the United Baptist church. The happy couple were unattended. The parlor was prettily decorated for the occasion The wedding march was played by Miss Birdie Campbell. The bride was dressed in pale blue Canton crepe and carried a bouquet of white carnations and maidenhair fern. Many handsome wedding presents were in evidence, the groom's gift to the bride being a white gold wrist watch. After a dainty wedding supper the bride and groom left on the evening train on a short honeymoon trip. On their return they will take up their residence in Sussex.
