

"THE NIGHT CRY"

IMPERIAL THUR.-FRI.-SAT.

WITH RIN-TIN-TIN—REMARKABLE PERFORMANCE—LARRY SEMON COMEDY AND 2nd LAST CHAPTER OF THE GREEN ARCHER—MATINEE SATURDAY

Picture audiences who saw Rin-Tin-Tin in "The Lighthouse by the Sea," "Tracked in the Snow Country," "Below the Line," and "The Clash of the Wolves," will expect his latest Warner Bros. picture to live up to the high standard of his previous successes.

Rinty surpasses even these remarkable characterizations in "The Night Cry," which opens Friday and Saturday at the Imperial Theatre, and which is a thrilling story of a California sheep ranch. The supporting cast includes June Marlowe, John Harron and Gayne Whitman.

Herman Raymaker, the director has given us Rinty at his best and a dramatic picture of tense thrills and tenderness in "The Night Cry."

Rinty, a shepherd dog, is suspected and hunted for the mysterious killing of some sheep, with the ranchers demanding his life. His owners try to protect him and he finally vindicates their trust by capturing the true criminal, a giant vulture, and saving his master's baby from the giant bird of prey.

Larry Semon
"Bears and Bad Men" will be the title of the Larry Semon comedy in addition to the above feature.

"The Green Archer"
"Save her before it's too late," sobs Elaine Holding in the ninth chapter of "The Green Archer." "He kept me prisoner for eighteen years in his dungeon—and he'll do the same to Valerie!" Thus Elaine, rescued from her dark prison by the Green Archer, spreads the alarm of the capture by Bellamy with the aid of a Green Archer.

Featherstone, in love with Valerie, decides this is no time to coddle himself because he was nearly killed in the preceding chapter, and snaps into action, ordering out the entire company of State Troopers—they'll besiege the castle! But before the siege, Featherstone, too, is one of the prisoners in Bellamy's dungeon!

First show starting at 7 o'clock; second show at 9, with only the feature being repeated. Matinee Saturday.

"TWEEDLES"

The Varsity Players were greeted with a crowded house, at the Imperial on Wednesday evening, May 26, when the light farce "Tweedles" was produced in a very pleasing way, each member of the company performing his or her part in an entirely satisfactory manner.

Perhaps two of the players were worthy of special mention, they being Miss Alice Prowse as "Winsora," and Mr. H. E. Dysart as "Julian." Mr. Dysart is a local man and was at all times very much in favor with his audience.

The company left on Thursday morning for Hillsboro.

HOW TO PLACE A FLAG AT HALF MAST

If a flag is already flying and you wish to place same at half mast, lower the flag until it is the width of its self from the mast head. If the flag is not already flying and you wish to hoist same and place at half mast position, first run the flag up to the mast head, then lower same the width of its self, as above indicated.

It is the act of lowering the flag to this position which shows the respect desired.

PERCY SMILEY WAS SERIOUSLY INJURED

ANNUAL TRAINING CAMP SUSSEX

DATES SET FOR JUNE 25 TO JULY 3, WITH CONSIDERABLE INCREASE IN NUMBERS OVER PAST FEW YEARS

Although camp orders have not yet been issued, it is understood that there will be a material increase in the number of men under canvass this year, and it is probable that additional numbers will be added each year from now on.

The different regiments which will assemble, with their approximate strength, will be as follows:

Cavalry Brigade, under Col. The Hon. F. B. Black, consisting of:
All Ranks Horses
8th Hussars 75 45
28th Dragoons 75 45
Infantry Brigade, under Col. C. J. Mersereau, consisting of:

All Ranks Horses
Carleton Light Infantry 100 3
York Regiment 100 3
North Shore Regiment 100 3
N. B. Rangers 100 3
Army Service Corps .. 20
Army Medical Corps .. 13

In addition to above, it is possible that the St. John Fusiliers will do their usual 3 or 4 days field work during the period.

There will also be a camp school of machine guns, with a strength of about 20 from 21st June to 3rd July.

The New Brunswick Rangers are building a new home for themselves on the brow of the hill near the Headquarters lines, and overlooking the valley and stream. It will be a bungalow of rather large proportions and, judging by the plans, will present a very attractive appearance when completed.

Major Brooks, one of the officers looking after construction of same, hopes to have it ready to occupy this camp.

The 8th Hussars annual dance will be held this year on the evening of July 1st.

The engineers are at present putting the grounds and buildings in order.

A number of riding horses will be required by the Cavalry Brigade, and those having suitable animals will do well to fit them for inspection, the date of which will be announced later.

SUDDEN DEATH OF REV. GEORGE LARDER

GREATLY RESPECTED CLERGYMAN PASSED AWAY ON FRIDAY MORNING LAST, WHEN HE FAILED TO SURVIVE SHOCK OF A SLIGHT FIRE IN HIS RESIDENCE

The community was shocked on Friday morning last, when they learned that Rev. George Larder has succumbed to a heart attack, brought about by excitement, when the chimney in his residence burned out. The firemen had arrived and Mr. Larder was assisting them when, without the slightest warning, he dropped to the floor, and the end had come.

Born in England
A native of England, and a graduate of Cambridge, Rev. Mr. Larder was ordained to the ministry of the Church of England by the Bishop of Ely in 1896.

For four years he was head master of Cavendish Grammar School in Suffolk, and in 1900 was appointed rector of Elyton, in the same county by his old college of Emmanuel. Eight years later he was given the living of Brompton Regis in Somerset. In 1914 he retired from parochial work, and with Mrs. Larder sailed for Canada to visit their son in British Columbia. The war broke out while they were at sea, and on their son enlisting they stayed to manage his farm. Mr. Larder acted as rector of Revelstoke, B. C., for a number of years.

Came to New Brunswick
After the war Mr. and Mrs. Larder followed their son to this province, making their home at Sussex. Of a quiet and scholarly disposition, Rev. Mr. Larder endeavored himself to all who met him. He had acted as locum tenens in various parishes, St. Paul's, St. John's, Kingsclear, Grand Manan and elsewhere, and was in charge of the Cathedral at Fredericton during the recent absence of the dean.

He is survived by Mrs. Larder and one son, George Larder, of West St. John; and one step-son Harold Vine, of Carletonville, Kings County.

The funeral was from Trinity church, Sussex, on Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock, and was conducted by Rev. Canon Shewen, with Revs. Spencer, Buckland and Archdeacon A. H. Crowfoot assisting.

In his sermon, the Ven. Archdeacon who took as his text the words "Emmanuel... God with us." (S. Matt. 1. 23) said, in part:

"To most men these words bring back thoughts of the great Feast of the Incarnation when we think of how God fulfilled this old promise in the birth of His Son. But to me, and to our dear brother, so recently departed, these words recall the Chapel of one of the Colleges at Cambridge, Emmanuel, over whose altar they are inscribed in Latin.

Since its foundation by Sir Walter Mildmay, in 1583, Emmanuel has had many famous alumni. Archbishop Sancroft, John Harvard, founder of the famous American College named after him, and Mandel Greighton, Bishop and historian. But Emmanuel's chiefest claim to glory lies in the number of her alumni who have faithfully served God both in Church and State.

And of these none is more worthy of mention, than the Rev. Geo. Larder whose body we are about to lay to rest. Born in England he won a scholarship at Emmanuel and after graduating with honors he became headmaster of the Grammar school at Cavendish in Suffolk. After a few years he heard the call to higher service and was ordained to the ministry of the Church of England by the Bishop of Ely. For some years he worked for the Master, first at Somerton in Suffolk, and then at King's Brompton, in Somerset. Both small parishes, our friend has ever rejoiced to work, not for the reward of fame, but for the good of the souls committed to his charge. And may we not feel that in the words of my text he found the ideal of his ministry? I like to think that every faithful priest aims so to live and so to preach that he may bring home to men the truth that God is with us, Emmanuel.

Our dear brother would not like us to say that he had attained this aim. Probably he was only too conscious of his defects, and too keenly alive to his failures. Yet as we recall his life, his quiet and unassuming presence, his loving and gentle words, his saving sense of humor, his sound scholarship his helpful sermons, and the inspiring ministrations to the sick, we feel he better for having known him. And we can say that through having known him we have been helped to realize that God is with us, Emmanuel.

May God be with all to whom our brother was near and dear. May His presence lighten the dark cloud of their bereavement. And as we are thus reminded of the transience of human life, may we take comfort in the thought that while men come and go, yet God abides unchangeably the same, and that He is Emmanuel, God with us.

ALMA

May 31—Miss Ella Butland, R.N., went to Moncton last week.

Harold McKinly, Wm. Heuston, Wm. Hanlon, Claude McKinly, Murch Martin, Roland Alcorn and Gordon Widber went to Campbellton last week where they expect to get work in the saw mills in that vicinity.

J. W. Elliott, patrolman, and his helper, C. W. Bogle, started work last week on their section of road from Alma Village to Bennett Lake. They spent two days on the road in the village and probably the oldest inhabitants have never seen the road as nice and smooth as it is now.

Stanley Munson, of Waterside, who has been working in a hotel in Raleigh North Carolina, for the last year, came home last Friday to stay the summer. He came on his motorcycle, and was only three days coming here.

Mrs. Roland Alcorn went to Campbellton last week to visit her brother Charles W. Butland.

Mr. and Mrs. Lilfrid Dixon and Aileen Thelma and Lloyd Munson and Ronald Dixon motored to Riverside to see Mrs. M. Munson, who is receiving treatment at the Memorial Hospital. Stanley McQuaid motored to Riverside yesterday, to see his brother, Alma, who has been receiving treatment for about seven weeks in the hospital. He was accompanied by his father and friends. The sick ones are reported to be doing well.

W. B. McKAY CO., Limited

Rev. H. Boyner occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church last evening, giving a very interesting and instructive address to a large audience on the subject of pitfalls, basing his remarks on Beware of the pitfalls of Siddim. The reverend gentleman was here about twelve years ago when he was secretary of the bible society and spoke at that time in the Methodist church. He is an eloquent and forcible speaker.

Among the visitors here last week were W. J. Fairweather and J. M. Spear, Sussex; M. Waddell, V. Steeves, C. Steeves, W. Coates and G. Trites, Moncton; Percy Nelson, Hopewell Cape.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Mrs. Larder and family wish to thank all kind friends for the great kindness and affection shown in their sad loss. They also wish to express grateful thanks to Rev. Canon Shewen, Arch Deacon Crowfoot, Rev. J. Spencer, Rev. H. Buckland, Churchwardens, Choir and members of Trinity Church for the beautiful service.
