

FORTIFY YOURSELF AGAINST PNEUMONIA

The one thing to keep always in mind during the winter months is that pneumonia attacks only those who cannot fight back—those whose systems lack the power to drive off the insidious disease germs.

Many people who apparently are in good health, lack this fighting strength to resist disease.

Pneumonia is really a cold that has attacked the delicate lining of the lungs.

Are you fortified, with strength, vitality and pure, rich blood, to resist pneumonia. If, at the first sign of a cold, you take Father John's Medicine, you not only get rid of the cold itself but also gain the vitality and fighting power to ward off further colds.

The worst part of our winter is still to come. Build up your health and strength by taking Father John's Medicine.

A RIVER THAT LOSES ITSELF

Poets and others have taught us to accept rivers as more or less prosaic features in Nature's general scheme of things. Tennyson, for instance, has held up the brook as a model of virtue and longevity. It is both refreshing and interesting to discover, therefore, that there are streams which do not conform to this estimable standard, but which, very much like human beings, do things they are not supposed to do according to the accepted theories of convention.

There is a river in Canada which loses itself completely and thereby has earned a rather outstanding reputation. This is the Maligne River which rises in Maligne Lake, in Jasper National Park, Alberta, and, after playing its pranks, tumbles—as if it were applauding itself for its cleverness—with a great rush and roar into the staid waters of the Athabasca.

After it leaves Maligne Lake it flows for a goodly number of miles with nothing in its appearance to indicate that soon, so to speak, it is going to sow some wild oats. It is when it reaches the Maligne Canyon, situated about five miles from Jasper Park Lodge, that it begins its pranks. Here it dips suddenly and, without warning, nose dives into a narrow gorge it has cut for itself out of solid rock. Within a distance of fifty yards, this reaches a depth of several hundred feet and it is hard to see the water which has lessened in volume. This diminution continues until only a trickle is left. Yet, before the Athabasca is reached, the river is again a roaring torrent. Only one explanation seems possible, that somewhere the river loses itself in an underground passage. The canyon is one of the most interesting spots for those who visit this magnificent playground in the Canadian Rockies every year.

This is but one of the many scenic spectacles that the tourist meets in this land of never-to-be-forgotten beauty.

GOLD MEDAL FOR CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

Another testimony of the excellence of the Canadian National Railways' exhibits is the receipt of a gold medal from the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, 1925, enclosed in a handsome silver case, for their exhibit in the Railways Building this year. One of the most attractive exhibits at this Exhibition each year is the Canadian National Railways and many complimentary expressions have been received by the Company from visitors from all parts of the world. The medal just received has a portrait, in bas relief, of the Premier of Ontario on one side, and on the reverse side a vista of the Canadian National Exhibition Grounds.
