PORTAGE VALE

Feb. 1—Snow and more snow, wind and more wind, with cold enough and then some, is what has been handed out to this locality during the past week, but with all the storms, the roads have been kept open, and those who wish can move on, but it has been many years since the Portage Hill has been locked as tight with giant snow drifts many feet in height. Fields had to be taken and much shovelling done.

Farmers who have not finished getting their year's wood out, have suspended work for a time.

John Robinson, Penobscot, who has a large crew of men at work in the woods near here, is getting a large cut of lumber out, considering the very unfavorable season.

Mrs. Heber Gifford is in Petitediac today on business.

Elias Snider is spending a few days at River Glade.

Alvin Marks spent the week end at his home here.

H. D. Kinnear, one of our well known farmers, has something very remarkable in his flock of hens. Several of them are wearing, instead of their natural covering of feathers, an outfit of fur, possibly they are considering themselves bobettes. They are an odd covered fowl.

Sandy Bustin, our genial mail carrier, is making his long hard trips over the snow clad roads, with the weather some days very rough, in good time. His splendid services are much appreciated.

NORTON

Feb. 2—Norton Superior School crossed sticks with Hampton High, on Saturday, Jan. 30th. The game was fast throughout, although a little one-sided, the score being 10-2, in favor of Norton. Much credit is due the principal, Mr. March, for the splendid showing the team has made. The boys are working under a disadvantage, not having had a team previous to this year. Although at times their combination is a little on the weak side and their playing not up to the mark, they have splendid material and have managed to nearly always come out on top, and we fail to see any other team with so little experience that can do as well. They are out for the Cup, and we have little or no reason to doubt that they will win it.

The C. G. I. T. girls spent the week end visiting the St. John C.G.I.T., chaperoned by Mrs. John McVey. All report a splendid time.

The many friends of Mrs. Jones are glad to learn that she is improving.

Miss Ruth Harmer, who has recovered from her recent illness, expects to resume her duties at Mt. Allison College on Saturday next.

Miss Enid Price spent Sunday in Hampton, the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. Sharp.

Fred Somerville, of Belleisle, was the Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. Langell.

Miss Nellie McFarland, of River Glade, spent a day recently with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. McFarland.

Dr. McDougal, of Sussex, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Early Harmer on Sunday last.

Miss Alice Myers of Sussex, was a Sunday guest of Miss Audrey Myers.

Mrs. John Miller spent Wednesday in St. John.

The many friends of Mrs. Charles Murphy are sorry to learn that she is confined to her home with an attack of rheumatism.

Preston Wilcox, until recently book-keeper for E. Harmer Ltd., has gone to Boston to take a course. His place is being filled by Arthur Folkins.

Mrs. Everett Keith returned home on Monday, after spending a few days with Rev. and Mrs. Rice in St. John.

Mrs. A. Robertson has returned to Boston after spending a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. E. Harmer.

The many friends of Mrs. Early Harmer are glad to hear that she has recovered from her recent illness.

TYNEMOUTH

Feb. 2—John Loughery was a visitor to St. Martin's on Tuesday.

Misses Jessie and Edith Moore, of Midway, spent Sunday guests of Mrs. William Greer.

Ebner Gordon, of West View, was the guest of John Loughery Monday.

Carl Smith, of Salmon River, was at the Creek on Monday, making a survey of the pulp wood.

Winslow Greer, who is employed with William Armstrong, at Shanklin, spent Sunday at his home here.

Mrs. Louis Loughery and son Wilson spent Sunday guests of Mrs. Charles Withers, West View.

Frank Chatterton and sons Murray and Sterling, returned to Shanklin on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Greer and Miss Eva Deredin, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Hope, Coleraine, on Wednesday evening.

Mr. Beers, who is boss of the lumber camp now stationed at West View, was a visitor to the Creek on Saturday.

Charles Withers, of West View, visited friends here on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cutler, of Shanklin, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Campbell.

MOUNTAIN DALE

Feb. 1—The snow storm of Wednesday has made the roads in a very bad condition and our mail driver didn't get around on Saturday.

Jack Cameron spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Thos. Cameron.

Mr. and Mrs. George Patterson and children spent Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ganong.

Roy Long, George Brown and Herbert Snider are engaged hauling deal for Robert Stewart, Kierstead Mtn.

Miss Elizabeth Simpson spent last Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. T. Cameron.

Mrs. Beasly Reid spent Thursday with her sister, Mrs. Geo. Brown.

Ross Simpson spent Sunday at his home here.

Milton Long spent Thursday afternoon at Kierstead Mt. on business.

Jack Brown is hauling logs to Berwick.

Miss Elizabeth Simpson spent Tuesday afternoon with her sister, Mrs. Roy A. Long.

James Cameron spent Sunday afternoon with Thomas Cameron.

LOWER RIDGE

Jan. 30—Winter seems to have come to stay for a while by the looks of the snow banks.

The lumbermen are certainly laboring under difficulties with so much snow and such bad roads.

Councillor John McFarland attended the Municipal Council meeting at Hampton last week.

Bert Thorne, who has been in Needham, Mass., for some time, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Perry, of Perry Settlement, are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a baby boy at their home.

Mrs. C. A. Keith has returned from a visit to her daughter at Fair Vale.

An epidemic of colds seems quite prevalent at present.

W. W. Prebble attended the Farmers and Dairymen meet at Fredericton.

NEWS OF THE WORLD IN BRIEF

The C. P. R. net profits in 1925 show an increase of nearly three million dollars. This is the best year since 1917 and only in four years has it been excelled.

The coldest wave of the season with deep snow and blocked highways visited the Northern United States on Saturday last. In New York the snow was accompanied by an 84 mile gale. In all the large cities the storm caused intense suffering.

Leh Rittman, of New York, reputed to be one of the most notorious of international smugglers, is in jail at St. Albans, Vt., while Customs officials held diamonds valued as high as $200,000, which they seized in his luggage while enroute from Montreal. At the same time, Immigration agents prepared to question the legality of his entry into that country.

The body of Belgium's heroic war Cardinal Desire Mercier, was enshrined on Saturday in Malines, Belgium, the seat of the Archbishopric and the scene of his long years of struggle and triumph.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, acting leader of the Government in the House at Ottawa, announced on Saturday in reply to a question by A. W. Neill (Comox-Alberni, B. C.) that a Bill would be introduced in Parliament this session providing for Old Age Pensions, the measure to be based upon the findings of the special committee which during the last two sessions gave close study to the question, and of which W. G. Raymond, of Brantford, was chairman. There are nearly 100,000 eligible pensioners in Canada under the scheme recommended.

The Premiers of the three Maritime Provinces, Hon. E. N. Rhodes, of Nova Scotia, Hon. J. D. Stewart, of Prince Edward Island, and Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, of New Brunswick, were in conference at Moncton on Thursday, when they discussed Maritime Freight Rates and presentation of the case before the Board of Railway Commissioners.

Apparently dead for several minutes Earl F. Hauserman, of Cleveland, Ohio, is on the road to health today because a surgeon took a chance and had the skill to carry his bold decision through as Hauserman's heart failed while he was being operated on for appendicitis. Suspending the operation, Dr. Theron M. Jackson made a large incision under the heart, into which he reached and massaged the organ. Slowly heart action was restored and the surgeon finished the appendicitis operation.

Three passengers were killed and 18 passengers and two trainmen injured on Friday, when the smoking car and coach on the rear of the westbound Boston train of the Maine Central Railroad were derailed on a 20-foot bridge two miles west of Marion, a flag station in an isolated section, between Calais and Machias. The dead and injured were taken to Calais.

Admiral Sir Ernest Troubridge, who held several important assignments in the British Navy during the World War, died of heart failure in Biarritz, France, Saturday. He was stricken while dancing. Admiral Troubridge headed the British naval mission to Serbia in 1915 and commanded the Allied flotillas on the Danube in 1918.

Two severe earth shocks took place a few minutes after midnight Friday morning at Gornya-Crjechovica, near Timovo, the ancient capital of Bulgaria. Many houses were partially demolished and chimneys and walls fell everywhere. The population was in a state of panic, fearing a repetition of the disaster of twelve years ago in the same area, but so far as is known no one was killed.

KILLED ONE OF THEM

(Washington Post) A gaunt and kilted Scotsman recently made his appearance in a court village, and was endeavoring to charm his locals to charity with selections on his bagpipes.

A shaggy-haired man opened the front door of a house and beckoned the minister.

"Gie us a wee bit lilt just out here," he said in an accent, which told that he was from the land of the haggis.

"My auld mither's in a creakal confection oopstairs. The doctor's witer the noo, and says the pipes may save her life."

Up and down in front of the house marched the braw Hielander, discoursing music that might well have been incidental to a cat and pig fight.

Presently the shaggy-haired man came out again.

"Gie us the 'Dead March' noo," he said.

"Is the puir auld lady gone?" questioned the piper.

"Na, na, mon; ye've saved mither," came the reply, "but ye've killed the puir doctor!"

A COURAGE SONG

("Tammas" in Toronto Star)

Faint not, sad heart, nor fret your soul with yarning,

Flinch not, nor fear, although the way be long;

Beyond the midnight is the day re- turning,

Glorious with song.

Press on, brave heart, though darkness cloak your striving,

Forward and up! Until, with shadow's flight,

Far in the east you greet the morn arriving,

Radiant with light.

Strive on, dear heart, for night at last is ended;

Take courage! At the darkest hour 'tis gone,

Swift on the wings of faith, by hope attended,

Love brings the dawn.

It is a great evil not to be able to bear an evil.—Blon.

Difficulties melt under white-hot enthusiasm.
