For THROAT, CHEST & LUNGS

There is no better safeguard against colds, chills, grippe, sore throats and bad coughs than these silver-wrapped Peps tablets.

Taking Peps periodically during trying winter weather keeps the delicate respiratory organs in healthy condition and protects against harm to chest and lungs.

Sealed up in every Peps tablet are powerful medicinal fumes which pass with the breath down the throat and bronchials into the lungs.

Dr. Gordon Stables and other eminent authorities acknowledge Peps invaluable for young and old.

HIGHFIELD

Feb. 1—Friday was a record day for cold. The thermometer registered 20° below zero and a heavy wind blowing, making it the coldest day of the winter. Our mail carrier was unable to get through with the mail. The men and teams spent most of Saturday shovelling and breaking roads and the mail got through about 3 p.m. The deep snow is making the lumbering hard, especially for the choppers.

HERO OF MONTE CARLO

(Bangor Commercial)

Many of us have heard it—that song of the Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo, which was a distinct favorite a generation or so ago. It is brought back to memory by the statement that the man who broke the bank has recently died in London. His name was Captain Arthur Bower and he was credited with winning more than a million dollars.

That the bank was broken, or even fractured, is doubtful for the syndicate that conducts the famous gambling establishment is said to pay $4,000,000 annually for the privilege and at that fabulous profits are returned to the proprietors. Perhaps the play was stopped while more cash was obtained but that was probably the extent of the cessation of play.

There is another phase to the story for Captain Bower is said to have been practically penniless when he died. He may have made return trips to Monte Carlo that were not successful or the old adage, easy come easy go, may have been exemplified in his case but his gambling gains did not remain with him.
