PERVERTED PROVERBS

All is not golden that is peroxidized. Alimony is the root of much evil. Heaven helps those who help others. He who hesitates is no self-starter. There's many a slip 'twixt the stock and the tip. The faster the pace the shorter the race.

SO LITTLE

It takes so little to make us sad;
Just a slighting word or a doubting sneer,
Just a scornful smile on some lips held dear;
And our footsteps lag, though the goal seemed near,
And we lose the courage and hope we had—
So little it takes to make us sad.

It takes so little to make us glad;
Just a cheering clasp of a friendly hand,
Just a word from one who can understand;
And we finish the task we long had planned,
And we lose the doubt and the fear we had—
So little it takes to make us glad.

TYNEMOUTH

Jan. 11—Mr. John Moore, of Midway, was the guest of Mrs. Frank Chatterton on Tuesday.

Mr. Frank Chatterton, who is working in Mr. Herbert Jackson's mill, at Shanklin, spent Sunday at his home here.

Miss Eva Derodin has resumed her position as teacher here, after a two weeks' vacation at her home in Chatham.

Mr. Stephen Thorpe, of Gardiner's Creek, spent Sunday at the Creek.

The many friends of Mrs. George Loughery will be sorry to learn that she is seriously ill at her home, Crown street, Saint John.

Mr. Sterling Chatterton was a visitor to St. Martins on Saturday.

The Creek is surely becoming a busy centre; ten teams are now hauling pulp-wood to the pulp yard.

Mr. Edward Burchill was the guest of Mr. William Greer on Monday.

Mr. Murray Chatterton was a visitor to Bain's Corner on Sunday.

Messrs. Edward Benjamin and Jos. Benjamin passed through here recently on their way to Shanklin.

JOHN BULL IS HIS OWN GRUMBLER

(New York Times)
Colonel Harvey must have been a little startled as well as pained by the reception in England of his impulsive plea to pity the sorrows of poor old England. He drew a sympathetic picture of her heart-breaking troubles. Her post-war problems and sufferings almost made the ink which dropped

COULD NOT DO HOUSEWORK

Woman Suffered until Relieved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Charles, Quebec.—"I was married three years and had no children. I was always troubled with pains in the abdomen and was not able to do my housework. After trying all other remedies suggested to me I have at last found that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best in the world for me. It has done me more good than anything else I ever tried. I am well now and able to do my housework and care for my family. I recommend it to my friends as I am sure they will be satisfied."—Mme. J. D. ROBINHAUD, St. Charles, Co. Bellechasse, Que.

Nervous and Run-down
Hamilton, Ont.—"I was nervous and run-down, and always had a tired feeling and no appetite. I jumped at every sound and was always low spirited. My worst symptom was depression and I was this way for several months. A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I have taken it for three months and am very much better and can work around more. I feel like another woman."—Mrs. P. L. GUY, 98 Tuxedo Ave., No., Hamilton, Ont. C

Self-Poisoning Increasingly Common

Modern Living Habits Promote Self-Poisoning—Thousands are Victims

The average man or woman does not enjoy consistent good health. Loss of appetite, headaches, biliousness and a lack of enthusiasm for either work or play are constant complaints.

Scientists have ascertained that such a condition is usually caused by self-poisoning resulting from constipation. Due to modern living habits, the natural secretion which promotes regular elimination by softening the bowel contents, is often deficient—especially among middle-aged people. The poison from waste matter remaining in the systems of people thus affected is the insidious enemy of good health.

Such people need Najol, because Najol softens the waste matter and permits thorough and regular bowel elimination without overtaxing the intestinal muscles. It helps Nature help you.

Ask your druggist for Najol to-day—and remember, look for the name "Najol" in red on both bottle label and package.

from his feeling pen look like tears. And with special fervor he dwelt upon the heavy financial obligations which England has assumed toward the United States, and expressed grave fears that the British Exchequer might not be able to pull through. The whole was intended to be a most kindly reaching of the Colonel's hand across the sea. But he finds it instead of being clasped pretty nearly bitten.

John Bull is not out to obtain sympathy, thank you very much. If it is a question of grumbling about his own affairs, he will attend to that himself without any aid from the outside. Gloomy prophecies about the future of England he would keep as his own preserve. Trespassers upon it from other countries he roughly warns off the premises. Thus it is that some things like a chorus of English newspapers and public men has started up to tell Colonel Harvey that he may mean well, but doesn't know England; that the old country has no idea of going to the demitition bow-wow, and that it is absurd to misunderstand the Englishman exercising his inalienable right to abuse his rulers and complain bitterly of the conduct of public affairs. And besides the resentment of John Bull at finding his own grumblings and roarings taken too seriously by a foreigner, he is specially exasperated at the hint that his credit at the bank may not be what it used to be. John Bull, in fact, wants it to be known that he is still doing business at the old stand. He cries out like a man with a gouty toe trodden upon, but he still pays over the counter and asks you how you will have it.

GOLDEN JUBILEE OF TELEPHONE

Among the notable anniversaries to be observed during the year 1926 none will possess more interest than the golden jubilee of the telephone. Many persons now living are able to remember when nobody knew what a telephone was, and many others of a younger generation can recall the time when the now universal instrument was generally looked upon as a crazy sort of contraption of inventive genius appealing rather to the fantasy of a few scattered users than to any idea of its being of particular practical worth.

It will be just fifty years on March 7th next since Alexander Graham Bell received Patent No. 174,465, which established the existence of the Bell telephone. Three days later Thomas A. Watson heard Professor Bell say, "Mr. Watson, come here. I want you."

On June 25 of the same year Dom Pedro, Emperor of Brazil, attracted the attention of scientists to Bell's exhibit at the Philadelphia exposition. On October 9 the first conversation was held over a telephone line between Boston and Cambridge, and on November 26 the first "long distance" conversation was carried on between Boston and Salem. On December 3 Professor Bell and Mr. Watson carried on a conversation between Boston and North Conway, N. H., a distance of 143 miles.

Since 1876, the birth year, the progress of the telephone and the development of the gigantic industry which it has created may be traced chronologically as follows:

1877—First conversation between Boston and New York over a telegraph line.

First money ever paid for a telephone by James Emery of Charlestown, Mass.

First telephone company in the world organized in Boston.

1878—First central exchange in the world established at New Haven, Conn.

1879—Over 33,000 telephones in use in the world.

1884—Boston-New York long-distance telephone line opened.

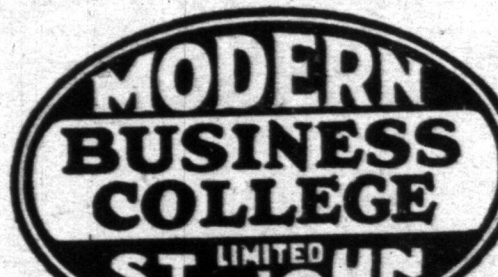

1893—First common battery switch-board put into use at Lexington, Mass.

1899—Total of 557,979 stations served by 39 companies in the United States.

HIS BEGINNING

Solomon has attested to the strangeness of a man's way with a maid, but the way of a maid being courted has always been a mystery to a man. A girl dismissed her sweetheart with the statement that she could not think of marrying him until he had a few thousand dollars.

A few months later she met him and asked him how much he had saved. "Thirty-five dollars," he said. "Well," she remarked with a blush, "I guess that's near enough."

A FAMILY MEMORIAL

should be a record for the ages

THE extra cost of a good monument over the other kind is a duty to those who come after quite as much as to those remembered.

THE value of our guarantee is evident in thousands of monuments erected by us from Halifax to Campbellton during the SIXTY YEARS we have been in business.
