savage brutality and every species of unchristian conduct; a lover of rational and improving society, faithfully regarding the Protestant Religion and sincerely desirous to propagate its precepts, (i. e.) charity and good will to all men. Zealous in promoting the honour, happiness, and prosperity of his Queen and country; heartily desirous of success in those pursuits, yet convinced that God alone can grant them; he should have an hatred of cursing and swearing, and of taking the name of God in vain; he should use all opportunities of discouraging them among his brethren, and shun the society of all persons addicted to those shameful practices; prudence should guide all his actions: temperance, sobriety, and honesty direct his conduct; and the laudable objects of the Association be the motives of his endeavours."

American Hostility.—It has been our intention for some weeks to notice this subject, but other matters have prevented us from doing so; however, it is not yet too late. It will be fresh in the minds of our readers that Sir Robert Peel's new Tariff was very favourable towards the United States, inasmuch, as it removed heavy restrictions on their beef and pork; subsequently Great Britain has concleded a treaty with the Republic by which differences existing ever since 1783 have been settled: and this too not by any exertion made for the purpose by the arrogant Republic, but by Great Britain being merciful in her might, and condescending in a spirit of conciliation, to send out a Plenipotentiary Extraordinary, vested with full powers to treat on the different subjects in dispute, and by whose exertions a treaty has been concluded, which should have formed the basis of a fifty years peace:—at this very juncture, when their beef and pork were glutting the English market to the prejudice of the English farmer, and ultimately to the prejudice of the land owner;—at a time when the British ministry were seriously contemplating the reduction of duties on American flour and grain, or in other words giving them a bonus in their competition with the North of Europe—at a time too when the news of the treaty which had been amicably concluded by the conciliatory spirit of Britain, was hailed with joyful demonstrations throughout the British Empire, as it was supposed it would prevent a conflict between the different branches of the great Saxon family—at this very moment the tyrannical majority of the Republic—the loco focos—devoid of every principle which should animate the human breast; remodified their tariff in such a manner as to virtually exclude many articles of British manufacture from their markets! an act of ingratitude, envy, and base chicanery, unparalleled in the history of civilized nations! But this is the best side of the picture:—to inflict this blow on British commerce they punished themselves! this we shall endeavour to prove:—let us suppose that a suit of men's apparel would, if British goods were admitted duty free, cost $25; such a suit cannot be procured if British goods are excluded, for less than 35 dollars; thus would every person who has occasion to purchase a suit of clothes have to pay a direct tax of $10, and by a rough calculation we have made, we think the tax the new tariff imposes on American Citizens, will not average less than $30 a year!! And what is the ostensible object for which this tax is imposed? Why to encourage American manufactures:—to support a portion of their population in following an employment they do not understand, when they would have made a better living by growing wheat, sending it to England, and receiving British goods in exchange. The whole scheme is so palpable that every person with an ounce of sense must perceive that it emanates from that species of national jealousy in which none but low minds could indulge, and from motives of envy, they have been guilty of a breach of faith and shown a total want of rectitude.

What should Great Britain do under these circumstances? We reply, grow her own cotton, which she can easily effect in the East Indies; compel her subjects to withdraw the capital they have invested in the United States, or rather such as they have not yet repudiated—this she can do by withdrawing her protection from them in the event of a refusal:—exclude every article of American produce from her markets, and the American flag from her ports! for she had better be without the American trade, than to carry it on under an arrangement which would soon drain her vaults of their gold. And we repeat that unless the United States repeal her new tariff law, it would be perfectly compatible with justice and expediency, for England to break off all intercourse with the scoundrelly, swindling republicans.

The Editor of the Fredericton Sentinel not contented with having for years made use of his pen for the purpose of prejudicing the minds of his readers (thank God they are but few) against every thing truly British, and advocating the cause of the Canadian Rebels; has at length become the advocate of the notorious Edward Gibbon Wakefield—a convicted felon!—In last Friday's number he says,

"Mr. W. some years since, in England abducted Miss Turner, a rich heiress, and conveyed her to the continent, the marriage ceremony having been celebrated, but which was afterwards dissolved, we believe by Act of Parliament. He was tried for the offence, and sentenced to imprisonment, which he subsequently underwent. * * * It suits the purpose of the party to whose selfish views he is opposed, to refer to this act of his early life, to which we have adverted; for which, however inexcusable and base in itself, he has paid the penalty inflicted by the laws of his country, and cannot be again arraigned for the offence. Mr. W. is therefore elligible to become a Representative for Beauharnois."

So then, because he was 'tried for the offence,' found guilty, and 'has paid the penalty inflicted by the laws of his country,' he "is therefore eligible to become a representative' for a large and intelligent county, possessing upwards of twenty thousand inhabitants, nearly half of whom are British. Hear this Radicals and Responsible Government men; one of your stoutest champions unblushingly avows, that a convicted felon—a man who narrowly escaped capital punishment—is eligible to represent you in Parliament!

We are well aware Mr. Ward is past all shame, and that nothing any person can say of him can wound his hardened feelings: but when we find a monster in human shape, so base, as to make the press an advocate of crimes of the deepest dye; we think he is not only setting at defiance the opinions of mankind, but daring the Almighty's future punishment.

Supreme Court—The adjourned Supreme Court was opened yesterday by his Honor Judge Parker; and to day we understand a case of arson will be submitted to the Grand Jury. The following are, as nearly as we can learn, the outlines of the case:—between two and three years ago, a saw-mill at Point Lepreaux, owned by Mr. Wm. Dougan of this place, took fire and burnt down; it was insured, and in due time Mr. Dougan obtained the insurance money.—Some time subsequently, a person called on Mr. Balloch, the insurance agent, and offered to tell him who set fire to the mill, for the sum of 25 pounds; Mr. Balloch declined, the stranger went away, and nothing further was heard about the matter till about a fortnight since, when a man named Desmond gave information to some of our City Authorities, that Stephen Munson had offered him (witness) $100 to burn the mill, and that when he declined, it was set fire to by a person named M'Gowan; and witness swore positively that he saw him set fire to it. M'Gowan, Munson (whom Mr. Balloch recognised as the person who offered to make the disclosure to him) and Dougan, were arrested and fully committed for trial. on Desmond's evidence.

We have seen several persons who have arrived in town to give evidence on the trial, and they all join in giving Desmond a very bad character; while some of them will swear that he told them before the mill was burnt, that he would set fire to it, and afterwards told them he had done so! However, let the case go as it will, we have no doubt but there will be tremendous swearing. It reminds us of a story told by Capt. Marryatt in Newton Foster:—a jew upholsterer sued a gentleman for a piece of furniture which he had never ordered nor received; the defendant's attorney—to whom he left the management of the case—knew there were a set of loafing gentlemen, who attended courts ready to swear whatever they were instructed for half a crown each; he also knew that on the evidence of these men, the jew would rest his case; he therefore came prepared. The trial came on, and the jew produced two witnesses who swore they saw the furniture delivered; when what was the astonishment of Isaac to see three of the same stamp come forward and swear that they not only saw the furniture delivered, but also saw it paid for!

We suspect some of the swearing on the present occasion, will fall but little short of the above.

It seems, by an article which we copy in this days impression, that a robbery was committed in this City in August last, and that the offender is arrested in England. There seems to be some mystery in the case, and we have not heard of any one who has lost 5,000 dollars; and it seems strange also that a gentleman living in St. John should have so large an amount of Texas notes in his possession! however, this circumstance has recalled to our remembrance an incident which happened in this city recently—a neat little thing, and a real fact too:. a young man missed a sum of money from his trunk, and he suspected another young man who had access to his room: and he hit on the following expedient to recover it: he locked up his trunk and said nothing about it, not even hinting the circumstance to a single individual In the course of the day he met with the person whom he suspected, who came up to him with a long face, and said 'I'm sorry for your loss!" 'are you' said the other, 'then you had better hand it over; there's no one else knows any thing about it, as I never mentioned it; therefore if you had not taken it, you could not have known it!' It is needless to add that the money was forth coming.

It will be perceived that we come out to day under a new head. It was cut by Mr. J. Richey, a native artist; a young man who has been studying the art but a short time: and who, from the taste displayed in the design: and skill in the execution, we predict, is destined to arrive at no mean rank in the profession. An artist has been much wanted in St. John, and now we have one among us, we hope to see him encouraged. The cuts heading Bunting's Vetrinary Tablet, are by the same person.

BUNTING'S VETERINARY TABLET!

Being a synopsis of the Diseases of Horses and Cattle, with their cause, symptoms, and Cure, By Peter Bunting, Veterinary Practioner, Saint John New Brunswick.

The above is the title of a neat compact, and very useful publication, printed at this office for the proprietor; and which is at present in the Binder's hands. It shows at one glance the symptoms, cause, and cure of every disease which, (Horse or Cattle's) flesh is heir to; and how to prepare the different medicines required. The whole is on a plan so simple, yet so clear, that no person who possesses it need be at a nonplus. Every farmer, and every owner of a beast, in the Province, should possess himself of one as soon as possible. We understand the price is to be two shillings and sixpence a copy.

We are pleased to be able to state that Roderick Charles Macdonald, Esquire, (Paymaster 30th Regiment,) Chief of the Highland Society of Nova Scotia, and a Member of the Highland Society of London, attended the above Meeting for the purpose of recommending the formation of a HIGHLAND SOCIETY in Saint John, in connection with, and as a branch of the Parent Institution, from whom a Commission has been received, addressed to his excellency the Lieutenant Governor and the Honorable John Robertson, authorising the adoption of measures for this laudable and praiseworthy object, and we are happy to say that the Members present, unanimously concurring in the Sentiments expressed, agreed to become Members immediately upon its formation, and enrolled their names accordingly.

The following gentlemen were then appointed a Committee to take such measures as they may deem necessary for the formation of a Branch Society in this City, viz:—Honerable John Robertson, John Boyd, Esquire, M. D. Messrs. John, Wishart, John Duncan, Alexander Balloch, Adam Jack, James Robertson.—Observer.

The Executive Council, which met on Wednesday, have adjourned without coming to any decision as to a new election; and probably will not meet again till early in December. It is not probable therefore, that the constituency of this country will be called to exercise a choice in the representation under the present law, until after the next session of the General Assembly. Sentinel.

Thanksgiving.—His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor has issued a Proclamation appointing a General Thanksgiving to Almighty God, to be observed throughout the Province on Sunday the 20th instant. The following form of Prayer, which the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia has prepared for the better and more devout solemnization of the same, is to be used in all Churches and Chapels in the province on that day:

A Prayer of Thanksgiving to Almighty God, for the Great Blessing which, in His Mercy and Goodness, He hath vouched to the Nation, in the late abundant Harvest at Home, and throughout this province, to be used at the Morning and Evening service, after the General Thanksgiving, in all Churches and Chapels in the Province of New-Brunswick, on Sunday the 20th November, 1842.

O GOD, through whose good Providence the earth yieldeth food for the sustenance of man, we offer unto Thee our hearty thanksgiving for Thy late mercy vouchsafed to us, in blessing the labours of our husbandmen in the Parent Country and in this Province with plentiful increase, and preserving the fruits of the field for our use. Give us grace, we humbly beseech Thee, that whilst we receive Thy bounty with thankfulness, we may regard the blessing bestowed on us as a call to repentance and turn from the evil of our ways. Remove from among us all causes of strife and contention; an end to our unhappy divisions; and grant that all conditions of men, impressed with the fear of Thy judgments, and trusting in Thy faithful care, may faithfully serve Thee, in Loyalty to their Sovereign, in obedience to the laws, in kindly affection one to another, and in dutiful resignation to Thy will: that so under the guidance of Thy Holy Spirit, we may pass through this world in peace and contentment, and finally by Thy mercy attain everlasting life, through Jesus Christ our Lord.—Amen.

Human Hair.

Cleanliness of the Head and Hair.

Strange it is that persons who attend strictly to personal cleanliness, baths, &c. should neglect the Head—the hair—the most essential—the most exposed—and the most beautiful when properly cared for, of all the gifts of the Creator. Perfectly free may it be kept of dandruff or scurf with the certainty that the hair cannot fall out, by the use of the Balm of Columbia. Ladies, will you make your toilet without this article. I answer fearlessly, no, if you have once tried and experienced its purifying effects—its sweet perfume.

A hundred articles have been put forth on the credit of this—the only first—the only real valuable article. A mass of testimony from all classes to these facts.

Look out.—Counterfeits are abroad look always for the name of Comstock & Co on the splendid wrappers and never buy it without the same.

From the Boston Chronicle, January 1st.

☞ We see by an advertisement in another column that Messrs. Comstock & Co., the agents for Oldridge's Balm of Columbia, have deputies to sell that article in Boston and elsewhere.—We know a lady of this city whose hair was so nearly gone as to expose entirely her phrenological developements, which, considering that they betokened a most amiable disposition, was not in reality very unfortunate. Nevertheless she mourned the loss of locks that she had worn, and after a year's fruitless resort to miscalled restoratives, purchased, some months ago, a bottle of Oldridge's Balm, and she has now ringlet, in rich profusion, glossy, and of raven blackness. We are not puffing—none of the commodity has been sent to us, and, indeed, we do not want any, for though we were obliged to wear a wig a year ago, we have now, through its virtue, hair enough, and of a passible quality, of our own.

The Mechanic & Farmer.

The Advocate of Industry and Improvement in Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts.

Neutral in Politics and Religion.

The Proprietors of the Pictou Mechanic & Farmer have much pleasure in representing to their readers the Prospectus of the Fifth Volume, to be commenced on the 18th of May, 1842.

The Mechanic & Farmer will be greatly enlarged: it will contain an additional column on each page, and will be extended proportionably in length; it will appear in an improved dress, and be otherwise rendered more deserving of the extensive patronage it has already received.

As a decided improvement in the general feature of the paper, each number will contain a full description of at least one new invention or improvement in the Agricultural or Mechanical Department, which will be illustrated weekly by an engraving. No invention or improvement in Agriculture or Mechanics worthy of being published will be allowed to pass unnoticed; and the publishers are determined to render the Mechanic and Farmer the best Agricultural and Scientific Journal in the British North American Colonies.

Postmasters and others favourable to the object of our enterprise, are respectfully requested to act as Agents. Names for the new volume will require to be forwarded early in May. All letters to be post paid.

☞ Though the paper will be greatly enlarged, there will be no addition to the price, and it will thus be rendered the cheapest periodical in the Province.

Terms.—If paid within three months $2 1-2; after that period $3; Mail papers $3 1-2 if not paid at or before the close of the volume: 3 copies sent to one address for $6 per annum, remitted in advance: 5 copies for $9, and eight for $12.
