stead of being a mixed government nicely balanced like that of England, almost the whole power is entrusted to the people, the only check being the Executive. We could quote numerous instances to bear us out in this assertion, bnt we believe no one will question its truth when we refer them to the present state of Newfoundland, where the Imperial Parliament has lately found it necessary to the peace and prosperity of the Island, that two-fifths of the members of the House of Assembly should for the future be appointed by the Governor. Now with respect to the Initiation of money grants we are in favour of it, as we think every rational man should be; the House of Assembly having the sole control of the revenue, had of course the power of misapplying it, of squandering it, and of plunging the Province deeply in debt. However culpable some individuals may have been, the system was more to be blamed than them, for we should always bear in mind that human nature is fallible; Therefore let us guard against the possibility of its re-occurrence. In this instance our House of Assembly undoubtedly possesses too much power, inasmuch as there is no sufficient check upon them; this check so much wanted the present bill would supply; but in connexion with this comes the second measure, viz:—a loan from England. Well, we are also in favour of a loan; our Provincial debt is nearly £140,000 currency, and our treasury warrants are 25 per cent below par; it is therefore absolutely necessary, both for the maintenance of our credit, and in justice to suffering claimants, that money should be obtained somewhere, and that instantly; and as money can be obtained in England for the low interest of three per cent, we say let us obtain a loan. The next thing to be considered is whether there is any work of public utility; a work which would be highly beneficial to the Province, and at the same time not only feasible, but a pure and safe investment for capital; and which if perfected would not only pay the interest, but a yearly surplus towards paying off the principal. If there is any [illegible] of this kind, it is deserving immediate attention, and it would be perfectly consistent with sound judgment and an enlightened policy to obtain a loan also for that purpose. Such a work we have no hesitation in saying is the projected canal to connect the Bay of Fundy and the Gulph of St. Lawrence. We therefore hope that there will be obtained sufficiently large a loan for this canal and pay our present [illegible] probably £300,000 would effect both objects.

Having shown our readers reasons good, why the initiation of money grants should originate with the Executive, and why a limited loan should be obtained, we must now proceed to the less pleasing task of showing the dark side of the picture. His Excellency, in a despatch to Lord Stanley dated Oct. 28th, 1842, and which was published in the RoyalGazette of Nov. 26th says,

"In my despatch of the 21st of June, 1841, No. 28, I observed that from the great disproportion between the extent of the lands granted, and the domains of the Crown which remained unreclaimed, it was obviously impossible that the inhabitants of the settled parts of the Province could defray from their own resources the extent of opening so vast an extent of wilderness; but the works required being reproductive, there could be no difficulty in raising the funds required for the purpose, and of providing for the payment of the interest, and the ultimate redemption of the principal.—On this principle I proposed in my despatch of the 15th July, 1841, (No. 37.) that a capital should be raised on the credit of the Province, and on the security of a guarantee fund, to be provided with the object of completing the works in progress, and of carrying out such further improvements as might be recommended. In the formation of such a fund, it was not my intention that it should constitute as heretofore, an exclusive charge on the Provincial Revenues."

His Excellency then goes on to explain his views, which are that the surplus of the loan he proposes to obtain, after the present debt is paid, shall be applied to the making of Roads, Bridges, &c., the interest of such capital to be made by tolls and the increased price of land thus thrown open. These are his words:—

"How far a charge on the Crown Lands may hereafter be imposed in aid of these improvements, by which the value of these lands will be raised in common with the lands of the inhabitants, will be a subject for future consideration, meanwhile the rapid augmentation in the value of lands, where they are rendered accessible by means of roads, is strikingly evinced in all parts of the Province, and from the high price to which they have attained in favourable situations, it [illegible] that no charge is more certainly compensated to the settler and also to the Crown, than that which is secured by opening and improving communications throughout the country. In the older settlements this charge will in general be fully adequate for the purpose, and may be assisted by tolls, but the construction of roads and bridges between distant settlements, and through extensive tracts of wilderness, which may separate them as completely as if the ocean intervened, will in most cases require to be undertaken on the security of some general fund to which the lands thus opened for settlement would afterwards contribute. Settlers who possess resources to maintain themselves in the wilderness till the lands they purchase can be rendered productive, are generally disposed to contribute their labour at moderate rates in redemption of the charges by which they tax themselves for improvements which are essential to them, and the charges thus liquidated by remitting a part of the purchase money, are public contributions to such works by which the market value of the reserved lands is augmented.

Now if the Muncipal Corporation Bill, and Board of works Bill were also carried, this loan would be divided among the different Counties, which would have to become responsible for its repayment, as also for the interest. This is a subject requiring the greatest consideration, and we hope our legislators will pause ere they sanction it.

But the worst side of the picture is this, that the "responsible government" men say the initiation of money grants and their favourite hobby must go together. This we could never consent to; first because we have again and again shown that "responsible government" will have a tendency to weaken our connexion with the Mother Country; secondly, because if the Executive were to become the mere tools of the House of Assembly, it would be as well to let the latter body continue in possession of their present power. We sincerely hope that our Legislators before they sanction any of those measures will ascertain what is to follow; and we assure our readers that during the ensuing session we will keep a watchful eye upon the movements of the party.

RADICAL SUPPER.—The friends of I. Woodward, Esq. and the 'Responsibles' of St. John, supped together at Mr. Gards on Tuesday evening last; to which Mr. Woodward was invited and attended in quality of guest. The chair was filled by the highly talented and respected Dr. Livingstone, who was ably supported by Capt. Ruel, of fossil Whalebone notoriety, and M. H. Perley, Esq., whom the Sheriff of Kings was graciously pleased to let go that he might sacrifice in the wilderness, an opportunity, which, (if the quantity of bones that accumulated around the edges of his plate, and the constant cry in the vicinity of "waiter! take off these empty bottles."—be received in evidence,) he fully availed himself of. The Vice's chair was filled by W. H. Needham, Esq., and such was the kind consideration of the Major Domo, that the learned gentleman's legs being rather short, a footstool was erected for his own peculiar benefit. The price of a ticket—without wine—was reduced to the almost nominal charge of one dollar, and those who called for wine were obliged to pay for it; an arrangement exceedingly convenient, for a dollar being a mere bagatelle, they were enabled to muster the almost incredible number of forty two!!! and it also afforded those whose pockets were low, an excellent opportunity to sponge. We were unable to obtain a copy of the toasts, but are informed that in their tone they expressed an admiration of good fat offices, and a determination to obtain such by any possible means. The speakers were the President and Vice, M. H. Perley, Esq.—who, as he was not allowed to spout on the Hustings at Kingston, now made himself ample amends—I. Woodward, Esq., and Mr. G. E. Fenety, of the Morning News, and senior editor of the Penny Press in St. John.

The meeting was conducted with the utmost decorum and harmony, on the principle of "honour among thieves," and shortly after midnight broke up, in consequence of the wine being all drank; all hands, well satisfied with their entertainment, and protested that if at the next election they obtained a victory, they would not mind the sum of seven and six-pence a-piece!!

THE COURT OF OYER AND TERMINER commenced its sittings on Tuesday last. His Honor Judge Botsford presiding.—In his charge to the Grand Jury, His honour congratulated them on the pleasing fact, that there was not a single criminal case on the Sheriff's Calandar, and only one instance of a breach of the peace to be laid before them, that of the assault on the officers of Her Majesty's Customs, while in the discharge of their duty.—We understand that a number of civil cases have already been disposed of, and the docket not being very large, will not probably occupy much time.—New Brunswicker.

PICTOU, December 28.—House Burnt, and three Lives lost.—At about 2 o'clock on Sabbath morning 18th ult., the Dwelling House of Mr. Alexander Fisher, Glenelg, St. Mary's, was destroyed by fire; and, awful to relate, his eldest child, a girl 6 years old, and a young woman by the name of McKay, from Indian Harbour perished in the flames. The second daughter, a girl 4 years old, was at the same time so much injured that she died this morning. Both the parents are severely burnt. the Father, in his endeavours to rescue his children, rushed three times into the flames, and a great part of the surface of the body is now literally roasted. The mother, in escaping with the youngest child, the only one that survives, had her hands so much injured that many months must elapse before she can resume the care of what remains of her household. But the fearful story is not finished: no sooner had they escaped the fury of the flames than they began to suffer from the intense cold, and before they could reach the nearest house (distance about one eighth of a mile) their bodies partly burnt, and completely exposed, were severely bitten by the frost. Their condition now is truly deplorable. Deprived of three members of their family, two children and a servant—left houseless and homeless—the father in a very dangerous state—and the mother quite helpless,—all this so sudden and unexpected, who can tell what they feel. The neighbours will do a good deal for them; but all they can do will not remove their sorrow. How uncertain is the hold we have of present things. How soon may our best earthly comforts vanish: "Boast not thyself of to-morrow, for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth." How plainly does this event say to us, "Give not sleep to your eyes, nor slumber to your eyelids, until you have found in your hearts an habitation for the God of Jacob;" and how powerfully does it enforce the duty of committing ourselves and all our concerns, before we retire to rest, to the care of him who keeps *I*srael, and who neither slumbers nor sleeps.—Banner.

INQUESTS.—An inquest was held on the 3d inst. before Dr. W. Bayard Coroner, on view of the body of a new born female child. Verdict, 'still-born.'

On the same day an inquest was held on view of the body of Arthur O'Neal. Verdict:—'Found drowned." Cour.

BUNTING'S VETERINARY

TABLET!

Being a Synopsis of the Diseases of Horses and Cattle, with their cause, Symptoms, and cure.

BY PEER BUNTING,

Veterinary Practitioner, Saint John, New Brunswick.

THE Subscriber in offering this work to the generous and discerning public, would respectfully intimate, that it combines the experience of the most eminent veterinary surgeons and practitioners in Europe, and that the whole have been carefully revised by the author; and such alterations made therein as the peculiarity of the climate of New Brunswick required; for, notwithstanding the perfection to which the art has arrived in Great Britain, there are diseases known there, which have never been known to exist here, and vice versa; consequently an English Veterinary Tablet, would be found to be very imperfect indeed in North America. He would also beg leave to assure Farmers, and others, that with his Tablet before them, very few cases of disease would ever occur, which they would not be enabled to treat with perfect safety, by following the instructions there laid down.

For Sale, neatly bound (till further arrangements are made) at Mr. M'Millan's, Phœnix Book Store, Prince William Street; and by the proprietor, Sydney Street, near St. Malichi's Church, St. John, N. B.—Price 2s. 6d.
