Extract from the Copyright Law.

Section XV. And be it enacted, that if any person shall, in any part of the British dominions, after the passing of this act, print, or cause to be printed, either for sale or exportation, any book in which there shall be subsisting copyright, without the consent in writing of the proprietor thereof, or shall import for sale or hire any such book so having been unlawfully printed from parts beyond the sea, or knowing such book to have been so unlawfully printed or imported, shall sell, publish, or expose to sale or hire, or caused to be sold, published, or exposed to sale or hire, or shall have in his possession, for sale or hire any such book so unlawfully printed or imported, without such consent as aforesaid, such offender shall be liable to special action on the case at the suit of the proprietor of such copyright, to be brought in any Court of Record in that part of the British dominions in which the offence shall be committed: provided always that in Scotland such offender shall be liable to an action in the Court of Session in Scotland, which shall and may be brought and prosecuted in the same manner in which any other action or damage to the like amount may be brought and prosecuted there.

XVII. And be it enacted, that after the passing of this act it shall not be lawful for any person, not being the proprietor of the copyright, or some person authorized by him, to import into any part of the United Kingdom, or into any part of the British dominions, for sale or hire, any printed book first composed or written or printed and published in any part of the said United Kingdom, wherein there shall be a copyright, and re-printed in any country or place whatsoever out of the British dominions; and if any person, not being such proprietor or person authorized as aforesaid, shall import or bring, or caused to be imported or brought, for sale or hire, any such printed book, into any part of the British dominions, contrary to the true intent and meaning of this act, or shall knowingly, sell publish or expose to sale or let to hire, or have in his possession, for sale or hire, any such book, then every such book shall be forfeited, and shall be seized, by any officer of customs or excise, and the same shall be destroyed by such officer, and every person so offending, being convicted thereof before two Justices of the Peace for the county or place in which such books shall be found, shall also for every such offence forfeit the sum of ten pounds, and double the value of every copy of each book which he shall so import or cause to be imported into any part of the British dominions, or shall knowingly sell, publish, or expose to sale or let to hire, or shall caused to be sold, published, or exposed to sale or let to hire, or shall have in his possession for sale or hire,, contrary to the true intent and meaning of this act, five pounds to the use of such officer of customs or excise and the remainder of the penalty to the use of the proprietor of the copyright in such book.

CLOSE OF THE NOVA SCOTIA LEGISLATURE.

Close of the Session.—On Wednesday afternoon the Legislative Session which lasted nine Weeks, lacking one day was closed. His Excellency Lord Viscount Falkland, escorted by the Garrisson Staff and several officers of the Civil department, came down to the council Chamber at half past 4 o'clock. Having taken his seat on the Throne, his Lordship commanded the attendance of the House of Assembly, who accordingly, with their Speaker and officers, obeyed the summons. His Excellency next gave his assent to eighty three bills, which had passed both branches of the Legislature in the course of the Session, and dismissed the members from their senatorial labours with the following

SPEECH.

Mr. President and Honourable Gentlemen of the Legislative Council:
Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly.

The business of the Session having been brought, by your joint labours, to a satisfactory conclusion, I am enabled to release you from further attendance in Parliament.

Although the measures matured in the course of your recent sitings are few in number, some of them are of great importance, and I have much gratification in observing amongst them, one having for its object the regulation of the mode in which the Waste Lands of the Crown shall in future be disposed of, and another, of yet greater consequence, affecting the qualification of members of the elective Branch of the Legislature, both bills emanating from the Executive, and calculated I sincerey believe to work beneficially for the country.

I regret that it has been found impossible, during your deliberation, to devise such a Law for the enforcement of the relative obligations of debtor and creditor, as would be considered adapted to the present condition of Nova Scotia and, feeling as I do, that some enactment of this nature is highly essential to the maintainance of the commercial credit of the Colony, I cannot but hope that when I next meet you, some Law may be framed by which the desired object may be obtained. In the meantime I am well content, that the settlement and discussion of a question of so much moment, and involving such various interests, has been approached and conducted with all due caution.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly;

I thank you for the supplies granted for the current year, as also for the contingent provission you have made to meet any casual emergency. You may be assured that the funds placed at the discretion of the government shall be carefully husbanded.

Mr. President and Honourable Gentlemen of the Legislative Council:
Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House of Assembly:

I now dismiss you to your several Counties confident that you will use the influence you there possess for the promotion of good order and the peace of society, and that when the period shall arrive at which it will be again necessary for me to have recourse to your assistance, it will be afforded as it has always hitherto been, with a hearty desire on your parts to co-operate with me in all plans likely to be conducive to the welfare of the Province. H. R.

THE LOYALIST.

Saint John, N. B., April, 6, 1843.

We have been led to believe that the objects of legislation should be the encouragement of agriculture, manufactures, arts and commerce, and that between them there was such a reciprocity of action and reaction, that if either became languid, the whole were deranged and soon after the population were plunged in misery; but our legislature we are afraid think but little of those facts, and only exercise their ingenuity in devising temporary expedients for answering immediate purposes, regardless of what may follow.—Exclaiming, in the language of one of the members of the Lower House "what has posterity done for us," and heedlessly sacrificing the future to the present.

We are sorry that remarks like these should be called for, but on examining the scale of duties, which we publish in another column, those thoughts involuntarily arise and are durably impressed on our minds, with all the fervour of astonishment and and conviction, and we would not consider we were doing our duty if we did not make them. This Province is young, and if our poorer inhabitants, our farmers and mechanics, require not the fostering hand of care and protection, they cannot bear that of injudicious taxation; and if they could, to give foreigners the preference, is as irrational as it is extraordinay, and however much our wise ones may believe to the contrary will not, they will find have the effect of increaing the wealth of the Province, even should it have the effect of temporarily filling the Province chest.

Smith in his celebrated work on the wealth of nations, lays down as an axiom that population is wealth, and none will hesitate to receive it as such, when we add the implied qualification when they have proper employment. Is it then politic to give encouragement to foreign manufacture, by allowing their articles to come in duty free; and to depress ours by imposing a duty on the raw material, and thereby taking from them the means of subsisting—here at least—and of meeting the other taxes that are imposed, either directly or indirectly, on almost every article they consume However, we shall not at present say anything further, as we hope the people will judge for themselves, and take the steps necessary to get such a contradictory, as well as oppressive scale of taxation altered.

The Election of Charter Officers took place on Tuesday the 4th instant, and the following are the names of those who have been returned:—

King's Ward.—Henry Porter, Esq., Alderman; Mr. Joseph Fairweather, Assistant.
Queen's.—W. O. Smith, Esq., Alderman; Mr. L. W. Durant, Assistant.
Duke's.—Thomas Harding, Esq., Alderman; Mr William Hagerty, Assistant.
Sydney.—G. Vanhorne, Esq, Alderman; Mr. Ewen Cameron, Assistant.
Queen's—Thomas Coram, Esq., Alderman: Mr. William Beatteay. Asistant.
Brooks.—George Bond, Esq, Alderman; Mr. Joseph Beatteay, Assistant.

John R. Partelow, Esq. was re-elected Chamberlain, by the late Aldermen previous to their going out of office; the appointment was contested, but on division those in favour of it were six to five, Mr. Harding refusing to vote.— There were a great many in the Council Chamber at the time, to hear the returns, &c., who were very much crowded, and owing to the improper conduct of the Constables in making distinctions, and using language that was not at all becoming the office they held, it was a wonder that something serious had not occurred.—There was room enough for all if things had been properly managed, but some of the citizens it seems have no right there, and the important duty of determining who have, and who have not, and where those who have shall stand, devolves to those worshipful persons that may be known under the tremendous title of "The City War Hawks," who, forgetful of the grade from which they are selected, are all insolence, and imagine that the greatest weight should be attached to their opinions; however, we humbly beg leave to differ with them, and hope that the Aldermen will have more regard to the comfort of such of the constituency as may upon any other occasion have the curiosity to attend.

Histrionic Society.—Macbeth was repeated on last Tuesday evening with evidently more success than on the first night of performance.

Lauchlin Donaldson, Esq., has been appointed Mayor of this City for the ensuing year.

We copy the following from the Prince Edward Island Gazette of the 28th ult.

Some serious disturbances having taken place in King's County, the attention of the Government has been called thereto and we have reason to believe, that very prompt measures have been resolved upon with a view to prevent their recurrence. The particulars have not yet been made public, but it is sufficient to state that on the 17th instant, a very large assemblage of people, said to number 300, took place on township 45, and forcibly reinstated a person named Haney, into the possession of a house and farm, which he had been legally ejected; and a Surveyor who had been employed to lay off lands for new settlers, had been compelled to discontinue operations and abandon his work.

On the night of Friday last, the dwelling house of Lawrence Macguire, of Lot 45, a person employed by the proprietor to protect timber, was consumed by fire, kindled no doubt, by the torch of an incendiary, as threats to that effect were given to Macguire on the day of the riot. A Proclamation offering £200 for the apprehension and conviction of the perpatrators, will be found in another column, which is to be hoped will have the desired effect.

We have reason to be thankful that there is a firm disposition in the Executive to enforce the majesty of the law and to crush any thing like incipient insurrection.

New Appointments.—Letters from England by the Columbia, mention the appointment of Mr Hardinge, (a nephew of Sir Henry Hardinge, Secretary of the War Department) to the office of Deputy Postmaster General of Nova Scotia, in place of the late John Howe, Esq. Mr. Hardinge will probably arrive here in the next packet from Livepool. We also hear that Captain Wentworth, late of this Garrison, has been appointed Supervisor of H. M. Dockyards, on the West India and North America Station.—Halifax Recorder.

From Hayti.—The Boston Atlas publishes a letter from a mercantile gentleman at Jeremie, in Hayti, which represents the designs of the insurgents in the island as worthy of the success they bid fair to receive. The unjust policy of President Boyer provoked a secret conspiracy, which was organized as early as October of last year. On the 31st of Jan., three or four days before the outbreak was to take place, in consequence of an apprehended arrest of some of the chief conspirators, the Commandant of the Province was waited upon by the National Guard, under the direction of a 'Committee of Popular Rights,' and requested to take command of them on the side of liberty. He declined, but promised to remain neutral. The Arsenal was then seized, and the commander of the Post forced to surrender. The committee have branches all through the country; and as Boyer's administration is thoroughly and universally detested, the prospects is that he will soon be driven from power. The utmost order and sobriety prevail throughout both people and soldiers, and the most devoted respect for the rights of all is apparent.—The principal demands or objects of the Patriots are said to be these: 1. A revision of the Constitution; for the one in force since 1816 provided that it should be revised in nine years, which Boyer, to suit his own ends, has resisted. 2. That the President shall henceforth be elected for five or seven years, and not for life. 3. That the enormous standing army shall be dismissed, the country not being able to support the expense. 4. That Boyer shall be made to give a strict account of the finances, and refund what he has sent out of the country on his own private account.

The New York Tatler says, it is estimated that no less than eight hundred bales of cotton, and three thousand bushels of bran, were lugged about by the ladies of Broadway in one day. It is a shame, thus to make the dear creatures beasts of burden. They were not made to bear such stuff.

The Boston Fire Department at present consists of 10 engineers, 536 members, 12 engines, 9,762 feet of leading hose, 370 feet of suction hose, 18 hose carriages 130 buckets, 39 axes, 1 hook and ladder carriage, 4 hooks, 15 ladders, 6 crotch poles, and 4 engines in charge of volunteer companies.

There are 47 banks in Pennsylvania, with a circulation of $5,227,091. The amount of specie in their vaults is $4,-715, 914,67.

Great frauds, it is said, have been committed in the Canadian Custom House. It is ascertained three-fourths of the revenue have never reached the treasury.

The receipts of the various religious and benevolent institutions of England, the last year, amounted to £700.248, of which sum the Methodists contributed £101,688.

A splendid building is in progress in Worcester, Mass., designed for a Jesuit College, which is to be opened for the reception of students, in October next. This is rather a bold step, but in perfect keeping with the movements of the Jesuits elsewhere, which have always been marked by a determination and perseverance.

A house in Boston sold the other day in one contract, cotton domestics for China to the amount of $350,000.

The whole amount of specie which arrived at the port of New Orleans, from the 1st September to the 5th of February last, is stated at $5,740,176.

Anniversary Ball. We learn that the Saint George's Society intend giving a Ball on the 24th inst. in celebration of their anniversay. The proceeds arising therefrom will be added to the fund for the relief of the poor.—N. Brunswicker.

BUNTING'S VETERINARY TABLET!

Being a Synopsis of the Diseases of Horses and Cattle, with their cause, Symptoms, and cure.

BY PETER BUNTING,

Veterinary Practitioner, Saint John, New Brunswick.

THE Subscriber in offering this work to the generous and discerning public, would respectfully intimate, that it combines the experience of the most eminent veterinary surgeons and practitioners in Europe, and that the whole have been carefully revised by the author; and such alterations made therein as the peculiarity of the climate of New Brunswick required; for, notwithstanding the perfection to which the art has arrived in Great Britain, there are diseases known there, which have never been known to exist here, and vice versa; consequently an English Veterinary Tablet, would be found to be very imperfect indeed in North America. He would also beg leave to assure Farmers, and others, that with his Tablet before them, very few cases of disease would ever occur, which they would not be enabled to treat with perfect safety, by following the instructions there laid down.
