FRESHMAN PLAY SOPHOMORES TO SCORELESS TIE

Interclass Rugby. Curtain Raiser Replete with Thrills

The Freshmen and Sophomore Rugby squads battled to a scoreless tie at College Field, Saturday afternoon in Ted's Intermural curtain raiser.

While spirited Sophomores fought back tooth and nail, the Freshmen hordes continually pressed the play deep into their rivals territory, failing to score through over anxiety and poor ball handling.

Freshmen kicked off, and from the first scrumage carried the ball to the enemy twenty-five line, where the play remained throughout a large portion of the first half. The heavy Sophomore scrum was holding its own, and by breaking fast managed to meet Love and Keenan, in their independent excursions, before any appreciable distance had been gained.

The second period provided the large crowd that attended, with a better brand of Rugby, and the Freshmen with a goodly number of fresh substitutes. Hersey's kick to touch regained the twenty yards lost by the Freshmen on the kickoff; a backfield run ended with Burke, Freshman three-quarter, being pulled down on the Sophomore twenty-five yard line, where Kilburn's kick, straying from the intended, was touched down, for a safety, by Jardine, Sophomore full-back.

With a scrum on their five yard line Walker relieved the dangerous situation with a pretty bit of broken-field running, (and a timely shortage of wind), and although the Freshmen scrum was now out-healing the Upper-classmen, Art Freeze, Sophomore ball half, kept his boys breaking up the now organized attempts of the Freshies.

Keenan's work at fullback, was outstanding in this period, while Dwight Chalmers, Sophomore picking-half, solved his team's problem, punted at every opportunity, and managed to keep the hard working Freshmen from scoring.

A question arose as a result of the tired condition of the Varsity turnout, namely that of who are, and who are not to be allowed to play Interclass Rugby? Coach Burden suggested, to the Brunswickan, that a graduation system be worked out;—All those turning out for Varsity first or second teams being ineligible for intermural

CO-ED AMAZONS JUST AS FIERCE AS NAMESAKES

Out Softball the Argonauts 23-4. Irene Harrison in Ruth Role—Good Exhibition

Combining heavy hitting with a fair display of defensive tactics a team known as "The Amazons" and captained by Miss Irene Harrison, defeated "The Argonauts" under Miss Mary Neill, by the score of 23-4, on the Queen's Square diamond Wednesday, September 23.

Capt. Harrison lead the attack for the winners with two homers into the right field stands. She was closely pressed for honors by her team-mate Molly Burt with a triple, double and a single.

For the defeated nine Mary Neill, Dot Palmer and Mavis Downey were noticeably "in the game," at all times.

The game was under the direction of Physical Instructor Ted Coffey

Following are the lineups:
Amazons—B. Steeves, c.; R. Foster, p.; I. Harrison, 1b.; D. Bayley, 2b.; R. Hanson, 3b.; M. Burt, s.s.; M. McDonald, l. f.; M. Richardson, r. f.
Argonauts—M. Neill, c.; H. Neill, p.; D. Palmer, 1b.; M. Lee, 2b.; V. Munro, 3b.; M. Owens, s.s.; K. Kane, l. f.; M. Downey, r. f.

competition, the class teams being made up of those playing for the recreation, those wishing to learn the game, and the ambitious who, because of timidity, wish to start "at the bottom" to work up as dark horses and so, to the higher fifteen.

NOT INCLUDING FREDERICTON IN RUGBY TOUR

A Rugby team composed of English stars is touring the Dominion this year. Fifteen games are to be played from, and including Halifax to Vancouver.

It is not proposed to include Fredericton. Since the expenses of this tour are to be defrayed by the Dominion Rugby Union, of which U. N. B. is a member, and since for years Fredericton has been the home of good football in the Maritimes, fans of the province over are asking why we are being excluded from the itinerary.

It seems apparent that the organizers of this tour should wish to provide their worthy guests, many of them International men, with a little opposition, so why choose teams numbered among U. N. B.'s vanquished for the past six years, and exclude us.

We feel confident that we would at least made the thing seem homelike to them if given an opportunity.

SHOOTING AT DEVON RANGE ON SATURDAY

In spite of the cold weather, twenty two enthusiasts turned up at the ranges on Saturday. It is surprising to note that the number of feminine participants has increased to three.

Several reasonably high scores were recorded, and in an unofficial talk with Sgt. Maj. Clark it was gathered that he was extremely pleased with the high standard of shooting in this first practice.

It is to be hoped that we shall oust "Queens" from their position at the head of the Inter-Collegiate shooting this year.

Scanning the Sports Horizon

U. N. B. stock is up. Burdo is back. He has enjoyed great success with the team in past years and if he can repeat this year he deserves every credit.

In the meantime let's see everyone present when he sends the team against the Saint John Trojans on Saturday.

It is unfortunate that Carl Watson, seriously injured in the McGill game last year, will be unable to play any more football. U. N. B. certainly loses a fine athlete in Hap.

Reports from Mt. A. are that Bul Lister has taken over the coaching duties, succeeding Ray Smith. Where have we heard that name before?

Ted has been successful in organizing two new sports this fall, tennis and golf, both of which are "taking" with the students. No less than thirty-seven entries were received for the tennis tournament.

Interclass football provided the first game of the season, the Sophomores and Freshmen playing on Saturday. Although the game ended in a scoreless tie, thus robbing the fans of what they like most of all, it was not hard to watch by any means.

Interclass soft-ball seems to be interesting from the spectators point of view as well as the players' judging from the crowds present at the opening game of the Co-eds' League.

Acadia University gets her football squad back one week before the fall term opens. Here is something which might stand a little consideration from the U. N. B. Athletic Council.

The women of the college seem to be taking advantage of their opportunities in the sport line and can be seen daily at Queen's Square busy with soft-ball workouts. They have also taken up track, no less than twelve being present for preliminary instruction at the first practice last week.

The matter of basketball uniforms has been brought up in the Athletic Council and it was suggested that the present style be changed to something a bit more flashy. Since a complete new set of uniforms must be bought the time is ripe for such a change. Suggestions of a possible pattern would certainly be welcome from anyone, and if addressed to this column or sent to the sports editor, will be placed in the proper hands.

RIFLE SOCIETY AWAY TO START FOR BIG YEAR

The members of the Rifle Association assembled in the Arts Building for the first time this season at noon Sept. 2r, with a good representation. Many more are expected to join when the season gets under way.

The programme mapped out by those present provided for at least five practice shoots before the final competition in the fall. These practices will take place every Saturday on the Devon Range and will be an all day affair so bring along your bread and milk. All members will leave the armoury at 11.30 a.m.

This is a branch of sport that is open to every person who is strong enough to hold a rifle; no expense except perhaps taxi fare; no tedious drill attached, just first class instruction on how to shoot on an out-door range.

We refer any person who is interested and would like any more information about the association to Doc. Peters, Room 302 at the Residence, or Mavis Downey.

TRACKMEN ATTENTION!

With an eye towards the coming track season Physical Instructor Ted Coffey has organized a fall and winter training schedule which consists of outdoor practice for the next few weeks with a Fall meet about the middle of October and gym workouts during the winter months.

The practices got under way Wednesday afternoon with a turn-out of fifteen men, and consisted of preliminary instruction with a little light running.

There will be no set time for these workouts, Ted meeting the boys whenever possible. Notices will be posted from time to time on the bulletin boards, and all those who are even mildly interested in track are urged to be on hand.
