 etrable barrier for the impetuous Mounties.

Referee Kelly kept a sharp eye on the play and handed out penalties freely, of which U. N. B. had the greater number due to off-side tendencies of the Allisonians and their continued interference.

From the line-out, Burke tried a kick but was blocked. A penalty kicked by U. N. B. was put into play by the Mt. A. backs and through fast-play and open passing was carried through to the U. N. B. ten-yard line, to be caught up and returned by Haselton. Play again moved dangerously into U. N. B. territory but the tension was relieved by Capt. Bus McLenahan on a long penalty kick, which was followed up closely by the forwards and dribbled hard and fast, pressing the ball over. A ten-yard scrum was called. Mount A. heeled and Hyiski kicked to mid-field again. U. N. B. pressed Mt. A.'s line hard, having a line-out on the five yard line due to a fine kick by McLenahan. Mount A. received the ball and kicked far down the field, following up hard. An exchange of kicks resulted in a gain for Mt. A. Hyiski tried a field-goal which barely missed. On the drop-out, U. N. B. was off-side and a scrum was called on the twenty yard tape, due to a fine kick by Mcfor a slight gain but a loose ball was captured by Mt. A. and the play was passed to the U. N. B. goal line. on the defensive and punted continuously. A fine kick by Hyiski took the play to U. N. B.'s twenty-five yard line. Peebles went over finally, on a pass from Stothart. Hyiski again failed to convert. Score 9-3. U. N. B. kicked off, and Mt. A. returned just as the whistle blew.

ENGLISH RUGBY

Sometimes "kicking into touch" in England, develops into a kick and catch tournament between the two half-backs, but a good full-back will get the ball over the line every time. This opens up the game much more and gives a chance for much longer runs. Therefore, the English game gives the impression at least of being much faster.

I'm told that every player over here has his job completely mapped out, and must stick to it even if it means missing a chance of doing the thing another way. A good English team just leave their opponents guessing every time. Suppose there's a scrum on the right. The halves will perhaps get it out, pass to the right centre-three-quarter, who passes to the left centre. While the back goes over to mark the left wing the ball comes back along the line to the right wing, and you have a wonderful opening for a try.

I think the cheer leaders were just too cute (you see I am rapidly learning to talk just like a Canadian... But why must a crowd of ardent supporters be told when to cheer? Surely they can judge (or can't they?) when the team needs encouraging or congratulating, or when some victim should be applauded as he limps pluckily back to his place.

I guess you'll think me very insular.
