DR. CROCKETT SPOKE BEFORE PRE-MEDICALS

The first regular monthly meeting of the Pre-medical Society for the year was held on Tuesday evening in the Biology lecture room, with Dr. A. P. Crockett as guest speaker.

Dr. Crockett's address dealt with general anatomy and physiology of eye, ear, nose and throat and was illustrated by means of charts and dissection. The lecture was followed by a general discussion after which refreshments were served.

A business meeting was held towards the close of the evening and it was decided that the Society would go to Saint John in the near future to visit the hospitals in that city.

NASON WON CUP AT U. N. B. MATCH HELD SATURDAY

Ted Nason won the cup for the first class division at the Rifle Association meet on Saturday at the Devon Ranges with a score of 95 out of a possible 100. Vernon Box scored 99, but as he was ineligible the cup went to Nason.

Dow Kitchen won the cup for the Second Class division with a 90 score.

Changing light coupled with a fairly strong varying mirage which was running to the left, established tricky shooting conditions.

For Saturday's match, Lieut. G. Sansom was range officer and Lieut. H. Walker officiated in the butts. Captain W. K. Coombes was also present and supervised the proceedings.

Freshman Dance Is Scheduled For This Friday Night

Friday night will see the advent of another Freshman dance. The dance will be held in the Gymnasium and the committee promises it will be superior to that of preceding years. A programme of eighteen dances will be rendered with music by the ever popular Rhythm Boys. The Freshettes will provide refreshments which undoubtedly will be delicious.

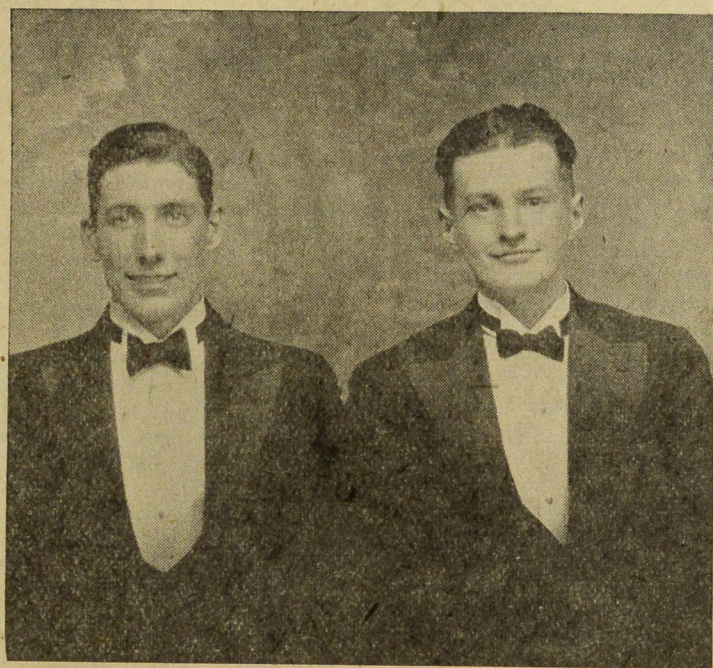

The capable committee in charge include: Marj. Matheson, Marg. Fraser, Marg. Morrison, Horace Block, Gerald Waring, Robt. Porter, and the chairman George Olts.

C. B. Burden Resigns As Rugby Mentor

Coach C. B. Burden has just advised that, owing to his illness, the U. N. B. rugby squad should have Earl Hickson as chief coach. Mr. Burden thinks that his delayed appearance might seriously effect our chances this year, should Coach Hickson rely too much on his hoped-for recovery.

However our old Coach plans to help Hickson as much as possible.

DEBATING SOCIETY OFFICIALS

H. Campbell Creighton, left, and Lloyd A. Machum, right, who were elected President and Vice-President respectively of the Debating Society at a recent meeting of that organization. Both Mr. Creighton and Mr. Machum were members of last year's debating team which met St. F. X. at Antigonish.

Much Leniency Afforded Students Under Hilter

(From the Varsity)

by David L. Tough, M.A.

Did you ever dream of a university where there are no term examinations, no compulsory attendance at lectures, where you can go in late to a lecture and leave early if you are bored without any fear of the professor later wreaking vengeance, where you stamp your feet with approval if the lecturer says something that pleases you and you shuffle equally loud if you disapprove, where the professors are paid according to their popularity with the students, and where co-eds go fifty-fifty on the cost of a date? That is not a vision from More's "Utopia" or a Hollywood film version of college life but conditions as they exist in the tradition-steeped German universities.

The German student passes the matriculation examinations, which permits him to enter the university and then he has no further tests until five or six years later when he presents himself for his doctorate. If you think it is a great system be sobered by the fact that several German students told me that they envied us and wished that they could have yearly exams instead of one grand final.

There is no attempt made to force attendance at lectures or to check up on delinquents. You pay for a course, get the professor to sign your book stating that you were present at the first and last lecture that he gave, and you get credit for taking the course. Believe it or not but they do attend faithfully—such is the perversity of human nature.

Being permitted to walk out of a lecture if you are bored is a sensible idea. Why should a student be forced to sit through a lecture from which he is receiving no benefit? All praise to the German profs who are big enough to admit that a student is capable of deciding whether a lecture is worth staying to hear or if his time could be better spent elsewhere.

The practice of stamping lustily when a popular professor enters to lecture, and of punctuating the high spots of his lecture with a thunderous din, is another admirable custom. In the first place the noise keeps the students awake and there is something thrilling when a class breaks into loud applause in appreciation of the fact that the professor has tried hard to collect good material and has exerted himself to make the time in his class well worth while. It is also a stimulant to professors to "pep" up their lectures and discourages them from feeding their class on fodder that was harvested back in eighteen ninety-nine.

It is no exaggeration to say that the custom of men and women students splitting the cost of their mutual entertainment is almost universal among German students. Post-war conditions have forced the Frauleins to pay their share or stay home. How long will it be before Canadian students are forced to adopt the same policy? It would be interesting to hear what the Toronto girls who have studied in Germany think of the system.

On the whole German universities are more "grown up" than ours and the students are not forced to be "Yesmen" to the same extent that we are in this country.

FALL FORMAL MAY REPLACE MT. A. DANCE

"The traditional Mount Allison Dance will be discontinued this year," stated Arthur O'dell, President of the Social Committee, in an interview with the Brunswickan on Monday morning. It is highly probable however, that a social committee dance will be held later in the season, which will replace the Mount Allison function.

Definite arrangements regarding this dance have not as yet been made, Mr. Odell stated. It is highly probable however, that it will be formal and will be carried out along the same general lines as the Spring Formal.

E. H. FINLAYSON SPOKE BEFORE FORESTERS

A general discussion of the forestry profession and its prospects was carried out by Mr. E. H. Finlayson, Ottawa, Director of Forestry for the Dominion Government, in an informal address delivered to the Forestry students of the University on Wednesday last. On his visit to the University, Mr. Finlayson was accompanied by Mr. J. C. Veness, of the Dominion Forest Service. Both men expressed surprise and admiration upon going over the Forestry department of the University, especially Mr. Finlayson, whose last visit to the college, was previous to the opening of the new Forestry School.

Mr. Finlayson is a graduate of the University of Toronto Forestry School.

DEBATE LEAGUE IS PROPOSED BY SOCIETY

At a meeting of the Debating Society held in Prof. B. S. Keirstead's room, Monday, H. Campbell Creighton was re-elected President of that organization. Lloyd Machum is to be Vice-president and Bert Sutherland was elected Secretary. A very small attendance was had and discussion was limited. It was proposed however, that an attempt be made to formulate a City Debating League, embracing a number of men's organizations throughout the city, and including the Normal School and High School.

president of Delta Rho, in place of Hope Hanson, who has gone to MacDonald College.

It was decided to raise money for the much depleted funds of the society, by a general levy on all the co-eds instead of the usual method of selling favors at the Mt. A. game. The meeting adjourned on a motion.

While shivering spectators alternately applauded and blew their noses at the Riverside Courts, the U. N. B. tennis team, by virtue of a very strong male contingent, marched on to victory against the Mt. A. squad thus qualifying to meet the Nova Scotia Inter-collegiate champions at Sackville, next Saturday.

The score of the meet, nine events to eight indicates the small margin of superiority held by U. N. B. However the short time for preparation and injuries to the lady players were severe handicaps to the team.

With the schedule completed, U. N. B. and Mount Allison were tied with eight events each. In the draw, Mrs. E. O. Turner very obligingly picked Johnston and Ruth Hanson to play against Gray any Miss Black who fell comparatively easy victims for the U. N. B. pair.

In the men's singles, Varsity gained a commanding lead, winning three of the four events played. Syd Bartlett employed a strong service and good placements in hammering out a victory over Guay while Syd Thomas with his blasting forehand drive lost only three games to Jamieson. Fleming, of Sackville could not cope with Johnston's finished style and was forced to bow in defeat. Smith outstayed the more spectacular but erratic Black to take Mt. A's only victory in this class of events.

In the ladies' singles, Mt. A. cleaned up, taking four out of four events although Bar Armstrong and Jean Burnham carried their matches into three hard-fought sets.

Thomas and Bartlett trained their big guns upon Guay and Jamieson to win their match with the loss of but one game in each set. However in the other men's doubles event the best effort Johnston and Black could produce was to prolong the match to three sets.

The U. N. B. ladies, in their doubles, although their matches were close and hard fought had not the puch to come through with a single win.

The mixed doubles events pre-

Dramatic Society To Present Series Of One-Act Plays

At a meeting of the Dramatic Society held on Tuesday last it was decided to present a series of one-act plays during the month of November. This is in keeping with the policy of the Dramatic Society inaugurated several years ago which aims, in the presentation of this series of short sketches, to bring out latent and new dramatic talent to be found in the Freshman classes and the student body generally.

A committee of three with Mr. Gerald Sansom as chairman was appointed to select three suitable plays for presentation and to report at the next meeting. It is expected that Harold Walker and Prof. Cattley will play prominent parts in the direction of these presentations.
